Smith-Land Wedding Held in Princess Anne

Miss Elizabeth Deward Smith became the bride of Kermit Simmons Land Jr. on Saturday at 4 p.m. in St. Vincent's Methodist Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur W. Ayers, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mason Verner Smith of Louisville, Ky., and the late Mr. Smith. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Simmons Land of Virginia Beach.

Given in marriage by her brother, Eugene Cottingham Smith of Louisville, the bride wore a traditional length gown of candlelight blue de sole and chintilly lace fashioned with a lace bodice with V-neckline and bell shaped pees de sole skirt. Her butterfly shoulder length veil of candlelight silk illusion was arranged from a cluster of imported flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink Sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Carol Lee Axton of Louisville was maid of honor. The junior bridesmaids were Misses Virginia Seward of Norfolk and Barbara Taylor of Virginia Beach.

Mr. Land was best man for his son. The groomsmen were Wilbur Snow, Cyrus Cotton, Louis Kitchin Jr., all of Virginia Beach, and Daniel Dechert of Warwick.

A reception was given at the Princess Anne Country Club, Virginia Beach. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to Mont Tremblant Lodge, Province of Quebec, Canada. They will live in Princess Anne.

Jeanne Rawls, Lt. Charles Silva

The immaculate Conception Chapel of the Naval Air Station was the setting Saturday at 4 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Doris Jeanne Rawls and Lt. (j.g.) Charles Clifford Silva, attached to the Oceana Naval Air Station.

The ceremony was performed by Cmdr. Paul A. Lloyd, (ChC), USN. The bride is a daughter of Julius E. Rawls, of Portsmouth and the late Mrs. Rawls. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Silva of Nantucket, Mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chintilly lace and silk organza, fashioned with a semi-cathedral neckline. The bouffant skirt, with scattered medallions on the front and tiered back, rippled into a chapel train. Her finger-ring veil of illusion fell from a bridal pill-box trimmed with hand crocheted medallions, made by Mrs. Joseph T. Ross, the bride's maternal grandmother. The hat and veil were fashioned by Mrs. Robert Gartin, the bride's maternal aunt. She carried American Beauty roses.

Miss Julianne Rawls of Norfolk was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaid was Mrs. James P. Futer and Miss Debbie Jeanne Simkewicz was flower girl.

Lt. (j.g.) Thomas Godder of Baltimore, Pa., was best man. Groomsmen were Lt. (j.g.) Richard Deberta, Lt. (j.g.) Kit Saunders, Lt. (j.g.) Joe Rushala, Lt. (j.g.) Walter Pleszek and Enns, Hank Cabala.

A reception was given at the Breezy Point Officers Club, Naval Air Station. The couple left for a wedding trip to New England. They will live in Virginia Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason recently returned to their home on 26th St. after a two-week trip to Fla.

BRIDGE TO GOD'S WORLD

The bridge, what a miracle! Tons of steel hanging in air . . . spanning miles of water . . . supporting an unending line of cars like so many ants.

And what a boon to man! The bridge saves untold hours and opens up new vistas of life.

The bridge of prayer, what a miracle! Spanning Heaven and Earth . . . carrying the needs and hopes of believing hearts. What a boon to man! The bridge of prayer opens up new paths of creative living and vistas into the realm of Heaven.

In Church you can discover prayer—the bridge which leads to God's world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a stepstone of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four main reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support his Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Hirtz Zenith Wins

Mike Cimmino emerged from a slump last Tuesday and pitched a 620 set that included 215 and 217 games to lead the Hirtz Zeniths in a 4-point win over Harry's Amoco in the Thunderbird Major Tenpin League. Stan Kaminski's 541 and Lomax Jones' 506 ran the total pinfall to 2608, which was 128 pins better than that of their opponents. In other league activity, Coaches Sporting Goods took three points from Isle of Capri to retain first place in the third round, Tazee Freez won three from Minnie's London Bridge, Virginia Beach Transfer and London Bridge Plumbing and Heating split four points, and Quilt Dreams edged the USS Newport News 3 to 1. In a makeup match, Tazee Freez and Harry's Amoco divided the honors 2 to 2. In the above photo, top row, Mike Cimmino and Sponsor Paul Hirtz. Bottom row, Jack Hicks, Lomax Jones and Frank Shautteet. Stan Kaminski was not present when photo was taken.

J. W. Wood Will Retire After 40 Years With C-S

J. W. Wood, vice president in charge of the Eastern Region of Colonial Stores Inc., will retire on February 9 after a career of more than 40 years with the super market chain.
Mr. Wood joined Colonial, then the D. Fender Grocery Company, as a grocery clerk in October of 1919 shortly after World War I service in the United States Navy. Within a few months after joining the company, he was promoted to store manager. He was made a district superintendent in 1922, a general superintendent in 1925, a general manager in 1930, assistant vice president in 1933 and vice president in 1940. He was elected to the Colonial Board of Directors in March of 1950.
A vice president in charge of Colonial's Eastern Region, Mr. Wood has been responsible for the operation of 158 supermarkets in Virginia, Maryland and North Carolina.
Despite the pressure of his business responsibilities, Mr. Wood has found time to serve extensively in Norfolk and Tidewater Virginia Civic Affairs. He is a member of the Board of the Norfolk General Hospital and a past chairman of the United Communities Fund of Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

EUGENE VERNON GRESHAM

The passing of Judge Eugene Vernon Gresham on Wednesday at the age of 73 brought to a close 47 years of faithful service to his city and county as a judge. But, Judge Gresham's death is much more meaningful than counting years of public service.

Judge Gresham was a remarkable man. He did not possess a formal law degree but he was a jurist of the first rank. His 47 years on the bench were marked with fairness, justice and a remarkable knowledge of the law. He had the respect and love of all people who knew him or who had any contact with him.

Judge Gresham was a man with a ready smile and a friendly greeting. He could be stern in his task of meting out justice, but even in this role his warm personality and his fine, even temperament filtered through his words of counsel and explanation. He was that sort of man.

In days of another era Judge Gresham became the first juvenile and domestic judge for Princess Anne County. He was the county's first trial justice and was the first and only police justice for the Town and City of Virginia Beach. He had served 47 years as judge of the city's police court.

In olden days Judge Gresham held court six nights a week throughout Princess Anne County. He would sit one night in Oceana, another in Kempsville, and still another in London Bridge, and so on.

Besides his service as police justice and judge, this man served the United States Navy through 32 years of distinguished accomplishment in the civil service of that branch of government. His years with the Navy were marked with citations and commendations.

This community and Princess Anne County will sorely miss Eugene Gresham, a man who will long be remembered by his many friends and whose name and memory is indelibly imprinted in the history of his beloved city and county. The entire area mourns his passing.

ADVERTISING WEEK

American advertising people aren't positive that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery when they hear the Russians have taken to American-style ads.

So far it's only a drop in the Red economic bucket. It will be a long time—if ever—before the USSR comes close to the USA in this dynamic area.

But it is significant they haven't done so in the past. For there is no need to advertise when there is little to offer the public. It is very well to brag of a "People's State," but it is meaningless when the people have no chance to procure the things all humans want and no freedom to select from what is available. The tiny amount of advertising done in the Soviet Union until now merely confirms that concern for the public's wants has been lacking.

And the rather shy recent emergence of advertising behind the Iron Curtain could be equally significant. It could mean that the people will be served, that popular pressure can be too strong even in a police state to be totally disregarded. Perhaps attention will be shifted, at least a little, from war goods to consumer goods, with a consequent easing of international tensions. Russia is much too secretive and complex to be sure, but we can hope.

We bring this up because of the celebration of "Advertising Week," whose 1961 slogan, "Advertising Keeps Us Rolling," dramatizes the enormous gap between free enterprise and dictatorship. We "roll" on our primary concern for the people and advertising is a basic fuel in this continuous forward motion. The Russians' primary concern is still the State. When the people begin to get a free choice, when healthy competition is allowed to exist and is stimulated by advertising, then the whole world can breathe easier.

Who knows? It may happen. We may someday hear that Mr. K's beaming face has turned up in the papers and over TV with this message: "Yah pah-Koo-PAH-yoo-Moskva LEH-zee-veeh d'lyah BREET-vee," meaning "I buy Moscovite razor blades." We look forward to the day.

Plans Announced

New Theatre Project Planned for Beach

Intent Productions, Inc., will produce a ten-week season of Broadway plays at Virginia Beach beginning July 1st. The newly formed corporation is made up of Tidewater residents and will have as its officers and directors Joseph Lee Friedman, Wade Williams, Lee Lively, Angie Alexander and Maynard Allen.

The theatre, to be known as "Sandslip Playhouse" will be located at 19th and Arctic Avenue adjacent to the Virginia Beach Convention Center. There will be performances nightly Tuesday through Sunday at 8:30 and 10:30. A unique schedule of plays will be offered with three different plays presented weekly for the first five weeks, to be followed by three other plays the second five weeks playing on alternating evenings.

"Sandslip Playhouse" will operate in a specially constructed play area and will tent, presenting plays "in-the-round." Seating capacity is being limited to three hundred in order to preserve the "intimate" atmosphere that is necessary for "in-the-round" productions. Offering a diversity of plays each week a number of theatre parties have already been booked for the season.

The producers, all seasoned veterans in various phases of the theatre, will present a bill of plays to meet the entertainment tastes of tourists and residents alike. Season tickets will be available to Tidewater residents in the near future, while tickets for individual plays will be available at leading motels and hotels at Virginia Beach throughout the summer.

Patenden, who will serve as president and treasurer for the company, has long been affiliated with the Norfolk Little Theatre current-ly serving as a member of the Board of Directors and will be remembered for many outstanding performances with the Norfolk Little Theatre. He was recently seen in the leading role of their production of "The Gambler."

Serving as Technical Advisor for "Sandslip Playhouse" will be Lee Lively, well-known local artist and technical director for the Norfolk Little Theatre. Maynard Allen, Lighting Director for the Norfolk Little Theatre, will serve in this same capacity with this newly formed company. Allen was lighting engineer for "The Confederacy" during its two season run at Virginia Beach.

Alexander, president of the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, has been actively associated with community and professional theatre for the past ten years having appeared in a number of Broadway plays prior to taking up residence at Virginia Beach.

General Manager for "Sandslip Playhouse" will be Wade Williams, a graduate of Fagin School of Drama and Radio in New York City. Prior to moving to Virginia Beach he toured with national companies of "Born Yesterday," "Voice of the Turtle," "Stag 17," "Brigadoon" and has seven seasons of professional stock to his credit. Williams served in the dual capacity of narrator and director of Public Relations for "The Confederacy" during the 1958-59 seasons.

Scheduled plays for Intent Productions will be announced in the very near future.

Opens Restaurant

Young Business Man Has Faith In Future of Va. Beach

By James Groves
Faith in the continuing development of the southern, or Rudee Island, portion of Virginia Beach has sparked a spanking new $75,000 ocean front restaurant for one of Tidewater's most up-and-coming young businessmen.

Milton Joseph Weller, who will be 30 years old until April 1st, owner and host of the swank Surf Rider at 41st Street and Atlantic Avenue—a do-it-yourself undertaking it ever there was one.

This is the result of a dream, a dream Joe Weller had when he was still a student at Granby High in Norfolk. He wanted to work for himself.

Barely out of school, Joe was tapped by the Army and did his hitch in the Korean haven, coming out of that "police action" as a sergeant in 1952.

Joe did. He worked for a year and a half as an apprentice at Norfolk Naval Air Station to learn the business of electric wiring.

Then he decided to go to the Navy and Mary and pay his own way. Working split shifts, unseemly hours and the hard grind of the sea, he kept his dream.

Now it is a reality. At the branch of Rudee Boulevard and Atlantic Avenue, Weller has a gourmet's eating establishment with accommodations for customers. And because he "did it himself," each one has a view of the Atlantic ocean.

Located practically on the beach, the Surf Rider was planned by Weller, with the help of professor and architectural student, colleagues at his college and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

How did a comparative youngster like Joe Weller get into the Virginia Beach big time restaurant business? He had his dream—and he saved $2,500 to start him in the electrical contracting line.

With his profits from home wiring and light commercial work, he took an option on the location of his present enterprise.

Maybe his experience as life-guard with the North Beach and South Beach during several summers had something to do with his decision to own a place on the front.

Weller gives his wife much of the credit for the compulsion he receives on the decor of his restaurant. He and Mrs. Weller, the former Nancy Louise Bryan, were married 10 months ago and she did a great deal of the painting and decorating of the establishment.

From $1000 invested in an electrical contracting firm in January, 1958, and finished three years of service and wanted to be an electrician, like his grandfather and great-uncle before him. But he had his dream of do-it-yourself, work for yourself.

You can't just do that; you must prepare. Joe did. He worked for a year and a half as an apprentice at Norfolk Naval Air Station to learn the business of electric wiring.

VIRGINIA BEACH HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By VIRGINIA PETTY and PAT WALLACE

The faculty spotlight for this week is Mrs. Jackie Sawyer, home economics teacher, and sponsor of the Senior Class. A graduate of Great Bridge High School, Mrs. Sawyer studied William and Mary College, and Longwood College.

During her high school years she was busy in extra curricular activities. A member of the annual staff her last three years, she was editor during her senior year. Mrs. Sawyer also was on the school newspaper staff. She served on the Student Council all four years, and held several class officers' secretary of her freshman and sophomore classes, vice-president, junior and senior years. She was a member of the Monogram Club for four years.

She was the recipient of many honors rated high in her graduating class, and awarded the Snyder Scholarship and a Citizenship Award. During college she was awarded the Dupont Scholarship and a teachers scholarship.

Mrs. Sawyer was a member of the student government, the YWCA, and the Athletic Association. She was active in the Future Teachers of America and the Home Economics Club. A member of Theta Sigma Phi, she was secretary her sophomore year. She was in the Cotillion Club and Chairman of the Junior Dance Committee.

She is a member of the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Science Association, a National Home Economist, and an Alumnae Associate of Longwood College. The students of Virginia Beach High School are indebted to Mrs. Sawyer for her numerous time-consuming contributions to student activities.

Virginia Beach now has 2 girls' basketball teams, a senior and a junior team. Mr. John Tucker coached the team to an undefeated victory last year and has high hopes for another trophy this year. The Senior team is undefeated and the Junior team has yielded only once. Ginger Mathias.

Federal Reserve
Names Wayne

Edward A. Wayne has been appointed President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, effective March 1, succeeding Hugh Leach, who will retire February 28. The announcement was made today by "Alonso G. Decker, Jr., Chairman of the Board of the Richmond Reserve Bank, who announced at the same time that Aubrey N. Hefflin has been named First Vice President, succeeding Mr. Wayne.

Mr. Wayne began his banking career in 1918 as a runner for the National State Bank of Columbia, South Carolina. As a young man he was connected with several South Carolina banks in nearly every phase of their operation. He was appointed Chief Examiner for the South Carolina Board of Bank Control in 1936 and continued in that post until 1940 when he became Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Bankers Association. In 1943 Mr. Wayne joined the staff of the Reserve Bank as Vice President in charge of the Bank Examination Department and was later made Vice President in charge of the Bank Relations and Public Information Department. He was appointed First Vice President in 1955.

A graduate of the University of Richmond and the Law School of the University of Virginia, Mr. Hefflin joined the staff of the Reserve Bank in 1941 as Assistant to Counsel. Prior to that he was engaged in the general practice of law with the Richmond law firm of Parrish, Butcher, and Parrish. In 1949 he was named Assistant Counsel of the Bank and the following year became Counsel. Mr. Hefflin was appointed Vice President and General Counsel in 1953.

Mr. Hefflin is a member of the Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. He is also a member of the Richmond Area Unit of the American Cancer Society, the Metropolitan Board of the Richmond YMCA, and the Richmond City and Virginia State Bar Associations.

Currently living at 600 Henri Road, he is married to the former Ellen Stangerman of Wytheville, Virginia. They have two children, Ellen, 18, and Joe, 15.

DR. GRUBB GUEST

SPEAKER AT CHURCH

Dr. L. L. Grubb, Director of the National Brethren Home Missions Council will be the guest speaker for the first anniversary services at the Grace Brethren Church at Hilltop, Virginia Beach, on Sunday, February 5. Pastor A. Harold Arrington announced that Mr. Grubb will speak at the 11:00 A.M. Worship and at the 7:30 P.M. services. Following the Morning Worship the congregation will have a "carry-in" dinner in the Church social room. The Church Building was started in April, 1960, and was dedicated one year ago on February 7, 1961. Pastor Arrington stated "The first unit building is being taxed almost to its limit, and we will soon have to hold two Sunday School sessions or build our second unit sooner than we had planned."

The Pastor also said the public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Grubb and attend the services throughout the day.

Home builders of the area are shown above mapping plans for the Third annual Tidewater Builders Home Show to be held in Norfolk, May 12, 13 and 14. Camp Furniture in Running
For National Brand Award

Camp Furniture at Hilltop is among 443 stores chosen to compete for the 1960 "Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year" Awards in 24 categories of retailing. This announcement was made today by Brand Names Foundation, Inc., New York City, sponsors of this annual competition.

Those chosen to compete were selected from the thousands of dealers enrolled through members of the Foundation in that organization's Brand Selling Program, which provides the dealer with a monthly service of information about the retail program, promotional ideas and materials and news about successful brand promotions of other stores.

These 443 merchants, representing 47 of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Canada, are now invited to make fully detailed presentations of their advertising and promotion of manufacturers' advertised brands during 1960.

On the basis of these presentations, the Judging Panel, comprised of chief executives of stores who won the top honor Plaque in last year's competition, will meet in mid-March and will select the winners for this year.

In 23 of the classifications, a first place Plaque and four "Certificates of Distinction" will be awarded. In the Gasoline Service Stations category, the Plaque is supplemented by a maximum of 14 Certificates.

E.C.C. PRESIDENT TO SPEAK HERE

Mayhew Sawyer, president of the Tidewater Alumni Chapter of East Carolina College announced today that the college president Dr. Leo W. Jenkins will speak at an alumni dinner in the Virginia Beach High School cafeteria on Friday, February 10th at 6:30 p.m. All alumni and friends of the college are invited to attend and to call in their reservations to Mayhew Sawyer, GA 8-8741 or Virginia Beach High School, GA 8-7055. The price of the dinner is $2.50. There will be a concert by the East Carolina College Band in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. after the dinner meeting. There is no charge for the band concert and the general public is invited.

Virginia Disposition Act Similar To That of Several States

The 1960 Session of the General Assembly of Virginia enacted the Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act, Chapter 330 of the Acts of the Assembly of 1960.

This Act, being uniform in content, is similar to laws now in force in five states, namely, Arizona, California, Oregon, Utah, and Washington. In addition, many other states have statutes relating to one phase or another of unclaimed or abandoned property. The Act provides, in general, that custody of unclaimed or abandoned property, as defined, shall be acquired by the State when the owner cannot be located and does not appear to be aware of its existence. The Act is custodial in nature only; therefore, placing abandoned property in the custody of the State does not deprive the owner of title.

Custodial possession by the State will establish a central and permanent location for detailed records which will be accurately maintained, thereby making it convenient for owners to claim their property. It is well to note that no property, regardless of how long it is held by the holder, will be considered unclaimed or abandoned if the holder knows the whereabouts of the owner. The Act states a definite time limit before abandonment is presumed. In the case of banks and other financial institutions, 17 years; and in most other instances, 7 years. The Act provides that all holders of unclaimed property shall annually file a detailed report with the State Treasurer of all such property held of which the owner cannot be located. Report forms and instructions will be mailed by the State Treasurer in advance of the reporting date to all known holders of unclaimed property. All others who are required to report unclaimed property may obtain reporting forms upon request from the State Treasurer's office. After receiving reports of unclaimed property, but before custody is taken, the State Treasurer must advertise the names of owners in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or city in which is located the last known address of any person reported as the owner of unclaimed property. This will afford many persons an opportunity to claim their property, the existence of which they were not previously aware. Twenty days after the newspaper advertising, all remaining unclaimed property will be delivered to the State Treasurer, who will take custody and will maintain a complete record for future claims. No charges or costs will be made by State Treasurer for the custodial service.

The proceeds derive from the administration of this Act are to be paid into and used for the sole benefit of the Literary Fund from which loans are made to localities for school construction. The Act provides for a separate trust fund, not to exceed $25,000, to be used for paying duly allowed claims.

Virginia's Art
By Leslie Cheek, Jr.

Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts

The Savage and the Rose

"STILL LIFE WITH FLOWERS" BY DERAIN

Of all the flowers of the world, roses have become the most popular and the most venerated. The ancient Romans considered the rose the symbol of victory, pride and triumph.

Ilka Chase Is Suburbia Today
Feature Article

Actress, wit, writer and lecturer Ilka Chase, tells what she'd do if she went around the world again and shares the lessons she learned first-time round, in the February issue of Suburbia Today, the sparkling addition to the February 9 edition of your Virginia Beach Sun-News.

Then, humorist-journalist, Art Buchwald takes his six-year-old son to the barber and shares with us the grueling $10.50 experience. Lillian Pompan takes a hard look at today's teens and finds that they are not as coddled, pampered and spoiled as many so-called experts would have us believe. "Let's Stop Slamming Our Kids," is her conclusion.

Mike Nichols and Elaine May, leaders of the squirm-though-squirm school of comedy, grant Suburbia Today an exclusive interview this month; it may be short on facts, but it's long on Mike and Elaine. For indoor gardeners who claim to have trouble with African violets, Joyce Muench lists a few rules that result in profuse, "uninhibited" blooms to grace any corner of the house.

The fashion page, this month, is crammed with "Wonderful Travel Clothes — Wonderful Anywhere." Bright colors and simple lines make these coats, dresses and sport clothes perfect for Spring — anywhere in the world.

Cartoonist Milton Caniff's Unusual Suburban Home is the product of famed ceramist Henry Varum Poor, whose beautiful ornamental tiles are seen in almost every room of this impressive New City, New York house.

When the ladies get together, conversation comes before almost any other activity, doesn't it, and the food pages, filled with easy-to-prepare soups, salads, sauces—and a delectable Filbert Bread—are guaranteed to give the ladies plenty to eat—and talk about.

No one who needs a bit of garden information at three in the morning or someone to pay his taxes for him or a quick ride on a Shetland pony can afford to miss our news column, Getting Around, this month. The answers are all here.

Finally, our cartoonists get after "The Optimists," with some funny, pessimistic results.

is the symbol of martyrdom and the white rose symbolized purity. The rose has had as great a fascination for painters as it has had for symbolists or for gardeners.

Derain is of very ancient origin, it is also been a favorite with painters of still life, as in the painting of "Still Life With Flowers" by Andre Derain in the collections of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts. In this painting Derain has exhibited a tenderness of sentiment not to be expected from his background, for he paralleled his training in painting with training as a boxer and as a competitive bicycle rider. Born in Chatou, near Paris, in 1880, the young Derain was not allowed to devote himself wholly to painting until the objections of his parents had been overcome through the influence of Matisse, who had already had a certain success. Derain had studied at the Academie Carriere where he had met Matisse. In Chatou he had also met Vlaminck, for Vlaminck used to go there to exercise on his bicycle.

Matisse has left this description of Derain and Vlaminck, both of whom he saw at an exhibition soon after this—"I saw Derain accompanied by a young giant who was voicing his enthusiasms in authoritative tones and declaring that one must paint with pure vermilion, pure Venetian green and pure cobalt. Derain, I think, was a little afraid of him—while observing his ardour and enthusiasm."

This "ardour and enthusiasm" for brilliant colors had been sparked by the Van Gogh exhibition in 1901 in Paris and rise a little later to a group of painters, including Derain, called by a critic, "Les Fauves" (the Savages). But as early as 1908 Derain himself destroyed many of his Fauve pictures.

By 1914 Derain was beginning to receive good prices for his paintings and he was designing especially witty sets and costumes for the ballet. After his demobilization from the army in 1918 he developed a personal pictorial style of great individuality which remained a mark of his work throughout the rest of his life.

Mr. Fix-It Gets Assist
From Local Lumber Firm

A famous hardware manufacturer and Virginia Beach Lumber & Supply at Birdneck Road, Virginia Beach have teamed up together and come through with an idea to make Mr. Fix-It's shopping task simpler and less time-consuming.

No longer will the homeowner with something to fix have to waste time scouting around to find what he needs. No longer will he have to draw pictures for the sales clerk to identify what he wants. Nor will he have to wait around for the painful counting out of the right size screws.

Now he just has to walk into Bill Macdonald's store, stride up to the Home Hardware Center—and in seconds he can see what he wants, read the application, pull the item off a hook, and head for the cash register.

Virginia Beach Lumber and Supply Co. announces that their new Home Hardware Center features items made by Stanley Hardware, division of the Stanley Works, New Britain, Conn. These are all visually packaged so it's easy to see the product, its name, the price and, each has instructions on how to use and apply it. Products are grouped together—storm sash and screen hardware, braces and mending plates, haws and shelf brackets. The hardware hangs on wire racks in full view, it makes shopping a pleasure for the man in a hurry.

The new Hardware Center will be open every day except Sunday from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mr. Macdonald of Virginia Beach Lumber & Supply invites you to make it a point to stop in and browse around at your first opportunity.

CHILDREN'S MOVIE

POSTPONED FOR WEEK

The Children's Movie Program, sponsored by the Virginia Beach Art Association, will not be held Saturday, Feb. 4th. Instead, it will be held one week later, February 11th, Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the Virginia Beach High School. The program consists of the color films, "A Trip to Disneyland, U.S.A." and "Story of an Elephant" and "Story of a Camel" and Disney cartoons.

State Allocates School Funds

Princess Anne County school board has been allocated $104,014.00 in State funds to help pay the operating cost of public transportation for the 1960-61 school year, the State Department of Education reported today.

The allocation is based on the number of pupils transported in average daily attendance, miles pupils are transported to and from public schools, and the number of buses in daily use meeting all requirements of the State Board of Education and State Law.

The first half of approximately half of the 1960-61 allocation was distributed to the treasurer of Princess Anne County in December and the latter part will be sent during the latter part of March, the Department said.

In Virginia last year 421,859 pupils were transported daily in 4,430 buses which traveled 20,730,712 miles. The per pupil cost per year was $20.13, which was among the lowest in the nation, said Raymond L. Wimbush, supervisor of pupil transportation for the State Department of Education. Exclusive of drivers salaries the average operating cost per mile for school buses in the State was less than it was five years ago, he added.

THE BATTLE OF TURNER'S GAP, on the road to Antietam, is one of the many key engagements to be described in the forthcoming series, "100 Years Ago This Week in the Civil War." (Library of Congress).

NAVAL ASPECTS OF THE GREAT CONFLICT will be reported in depth. Above is the Union gunboat CAIRO, masterfully torpedoed. (Library of Congress).

Civil War Feature Will

Start in Sun-News Feb. 9

Beginning with the issue of February 9, the Virginia Beach Sun-News will bring its readers a fascinating new weekly series—"100 Years Ago This Week in the Civil War."

Told in an exciting present-day style and format and illustrated with photos and drawings, the stories will recapture all the color and tragedy of the Great Conflict. Events will be reported exactly 100 years after they occurred, week by week, but as if they were happening now.

Shaping of the clouds of war that cast ominous shadows over our troubled land; the great and bloody battles of that war; the political doings relative to it; innovative feature stories about the men who fought it; these will be told in detailed "dispatches" with all the hard-hitting impact of current reports from The Congo, Laos, Cuba, Washington or the U.N. The first feature is Feb. 11, when a grim, resolute aviator, the shaky nation's president-elect, left his home in Springfield, Ill. for Washington, D.C., and his date with destiny and immortality.

During the course of the series all of the war's great battles — on sea as well as on land — will spring to life in "on-the-spot" stories and illustrations. Little-known aspects of the war that split a nation will be reported in bright, smooth-reading feature stories.

Authenticity is the keynote of the series. The stories have been researched down to the last detail. Authors of the articles are two Chicago newspapermen, Eugene J. Caschorel and E. V. Moran. They are distributing it nationally through the Hegerich News Syndicate, of which Caschorel is editorial director and Moran managing editor.

Don't miss this thrilling, educational series, starting with the Feb. 9 issue of the Virginia Beach Sun-News.

JOE PALOOKA AT BEACH THEATRE

"Joe Palooka" fans will have an opportunity to see him in another guise — "The Marriage GoRound," 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope Deluxe Color comedy, starring Susan Hayward, James Mason and Julie Newmar, opening Wednesday at the Beach Theatre.

In real life "Joe Palooka" is actor Joe Kirkwood, Jr., a successful Hollywood bowling alley operator and television personality who was a professional golfer before his sensational rise to fame in the "Joe Palooka" television series.

More Meals From Meat ...

PORK BLADE LOIN ROAST

A pair of tasty meats from an economy cut

PORK BLADE LOIN ROAST
This is usually the most economical cut out in the pork loin.
Weighs 2 to 4 lbs.

1. Ask retailer to saw across the close to backbone along the rib, so the usually dark meat this cut is to be used as a roast.

2. At home cut off entire backbone (leaving about 1 inch of meat on it).
Roast cut under blade bone (1) to remove the bone and roast attached to it.
Then remove ribs (2) by cutting along the end, leaving about 1 inch of ch on ribs.

3. Cut boneless chops (hand-cut) from boneless section (1). Braize the same as in cooking center-cut pork chops.

BEAN STEW
1 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 cups cooked crumbs
1 cup margarine
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
Water to moisten

Cook celery, onion and parsley in butter or margarine for a few minutes. Add other ingredients and enough liquid to make a slightly moist stuffing.

Pork Loin Accompaniment
For those who like new variations of a popular food, here is a wonderful idea. Sweet Potato Puffs add an attractive accent to a fea-stive pork loin roast. How? Simply cut 4 marshmallows in half. Then shape 1 cup of mashed sweet potatoes around each marshmallow half. Roll in crushed corn flakes and fry in deep hot oil (350°F.)

until brown. Then drain on absorbent paper.

Spanish Pork Chops
A bit of foreign flavor is found in this recipe. Pork chops are attractively braised in a spicy vinegar and catchup mixture. First brown 6 rib or loin chops in a frying pan and season with 1 teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon catch-up and 1 teaspoon dry mustard and spread on chops. Combine 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup water and 2 tablespoons of sugar and place over chops. Cover the frying pan tightly and simmer for 45 minutes or until done.

Barbecued Pork is a favorite in many families. Sliced or chopped it's mighty good. If you choose to barbecue a fresh ham or picnic, either will be delicious sliced, and when the picnic slices are gone, use the remaining meat and blend with Barbecue Sauce.

Barbecue Sauce
1 medium onion, chopped
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup catchup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt and pepper

Brown onion in lard or drippings. Add remaining ingredients and blend thoroughly.

A real treat for breakfast would be sausage and hominy.

1 lb. sausage meat or links
1 can Hominy
Dash salt

Place hominy in sauce pan with about 4 cups water. Bring to a boil.
On low heat cook until bubbling, stirring constantly.

Place sausage links or patties in frying pan and cook slowly until well done.

Four hominy in baking dish, place sausage on top and just slip into the oven at 300° just to keep hot until you get the eggs assembled. Beat 5 eggs with dash salt and pepper and 8 tablespoons milk.

Scramble in frying pan over medium heat, with little butter or margarine to keep from sticking.
Then you call "breakfast is ready."

Snow Is Fun At Happy Hours

Snow was fun at Happy Hours last Saturday. Songs, sev-ing, poetry was read and stories were told about the snow. The children were allowed to play in the snow after which they made paper snow flakes, cotton snowmen and water color pictures. Possibilities of making snow cream and ice skating were discussed but not tried.

Mrs. Batchelor's class at Happy Days was thrilled to find a flock of ducks paying them a visit. The children fed them a hearty meal of bread scraps which Leonard Lee-don brought to school. They hope this will entice them to remain or at least to return for another visit.

At Happy Hours the pupils are working steadily on their current project of pets, which started with their visit to the pet shop. They have made skeletons of several animals and will soon begin to fill them in and paint them. Much enthusiasm is shown among the pupils as they plan their project.

Monday was Happy Birthday time at Happy Days for Debbie Dollamach. She was queen for the day and Chip Brown who celebrated his birthday on Saturday was king. The class helped them celebrate with special games and good wishes. Refreshments were served by Debbie.

You should hear the Mothers' in the afternoon when they pick up their children—What smells so good? "Say, what's cooking? Here are the menus coming up—Monday—Baked beans & franks sole saw, sardines, hot muffins, milk.
Tuesday—Hamburger with mushroom soup on noodles, green peas, pink apple sauce, milk.
Wednesday—Chipped beef with white sauce on toast, green beans,
milk.
Thursday—Chicken pot pie, corn, carrot strips, gingerbread, milk.
Friday—Fish sticks, pineapple sauce, cornbread, potatoes, cookies,
milk.

Local Students On E. Carolina Honor List

Three lists of students at East Carolina who have received official recognition from the College because of their excellent records in academic work during the fall quarter of the present school year have been announced.

Included on the lists are the names of 790 students, of whom 238 are men and 552 are women. North Carolinians number 731 and students from outside the state 38.

Sixty-one men and women who made the grade of A on each subject taken, the highest mark given at the college, received top honors for scholastic achievement in an "All A's" List. The Dean's List and the Honor Roll include the names of students whose work was considered worthy of special mention and commendation.

The Dean's List, including 191 students, is composed of undergraduates who made at least two and one-half quality points per credit hour on all work taken, with no grade below C. These students did superior academic work.

The Honor Roll, with 638 students, is composed of undergraduates who made at least two quality points per credit hour on all work taken, with no grade below
C. The work completed by these students was well above average.

Virginia Beach is represented on the honors lists as follows: Dean's List—Ruth A. Johnson, 507 Cavalier Dr.; Honor Roll—Faye C. Coppedge, 418 Lakewood Circle.

N.B.C. Promotes Three Officers

Three officer promotions at National Bank of Commerce were announced today by John S. Alfriend, Chairman, following the annual organization meeting of the Bank's Board of Directors.

Advanced were Griffin B. Deal and J. J. Cronin of the Trust Division, and William O. Slaughter of the Installment Loan Department.

Deal who joined the bank in 1952 was promoted to Vice President and Trust Officer. He had previously been named Assistant Cashier in 1957 and Trust Officer in 1959. He attended the College of William and Mary and the University of Virginia.

A former editor and publisher of the Virginia Beach News, Deal lives with his wife Anne, son, Griffin, Jr., and daughter, Anne, at 21400th St. He is a member of the Virginia Beach First Presbyterian Church and the Virginia Beach Exchange Club.

J. J. Cronin, promoted to Corporate Trust Officer, has been a Trust Officer since November, 1957.
He came to the bank in 1946 after service in the U. S. Navy and had been named Assistant Cashier in 1954. Cronin is in charge of the bank's Corporate Trust Division.

A member of St. Gregory the Great Catholic Church, Princess Anne County, he lives with his wife, Eva, at 21400th St., Lynnhaven, Virginia.

Slaughter, promoted to Assistant Cashier, came to the bank in 1956 as credit interviewer. He was named collection supervisor in 1957 and dealer credit manager in

FORT STORY TELLINGS

ENGINEER DIVISION PRESENTS TWO AWARDS

Mrs. Hattie G. Easler, clerk typist for the Engineer Division was presented with a $100 award for sustained superior performance on Jan. 29 by Lt. Colonel Raymond F. Fisher, the Fort Engineer. Also receiving a Sustained Superior Performance award was Mr. James A. Wynn, Heating Equipment Mechanic, with the Domestic Heating Shop. Mr. Wynn received a $100 award.

Prior to her arrival in July 1960, Mrs. Easler was chief clerk with the Adjutant General Orders and Reproduction Section, Ft. Jackson, S.C. She was assigned to the Fort Story Engineer Division in July, 1960.

This award was the second of its type presented to Mrs. Easler. In Sept. 50, General Vessing, Commanding General, United States

Army Transportation Training Command, presented a Sustained Superior Performance award to Mrs. Easler for her outstanding performance while with the Supply Section of the Ordnance Division, at Fort Story.

Mrs. Easler and family reside at 107 Englewood Drive, Kempville, Va.

Mr. Wynn arrived at Fort Story in June 1960, from a heating and contracting firm in Norfolk, Va.

Mr. Wynn served two years in the Army with a medical battalion of the 11th Airborne Division, at Fort Campbell, Ky. He was discharged in 1955.

Mr. Wynn and his family reside at 3516 Thurston Street, Norfolk, Va.

with that unit in Korea. Fanelli left Korea in his reassignment with the 11th Airborne Division, at Fort Campbell, Ky., in June 1961, and from there went to Fort Benning, Ga. Then the 1st Sgt. went to the 3d Armored Division, Europe, and returned to CONUS in November, 1960 to serve with the 14th Transportation Battalion, Ft. Lewis, Washington. He then left for his second tour of duty in Korea with the 25th Battalion in December 60, P/Sgt. Fanelli received a direct assignment to Fort Story for his present assignment with the 56th Transportation Co.

The new First Sergeant is married to the former Julie Stein of Frankfurt, Germany. Fanelli and his wife and two sons, Ralph, 5, and David, 3, reside on post.

DAR Delegates Are Announced

The Princess Anne County Chapter D.A.R. met at the home of Mrs. W. F. Bailey, Virginia Beach, Jan. 14.

Delegates and alternates to the 70th Continental Congress of National D.A.R. April 16-21st, Washington D.C., were elected.

Mrs. C. L. Akins, Va. Beach, will be a delegate and Mrs. A. H. Bennett, Virginia Beach, is an alternate.

Mrs. E. Gay Robertson, Regent of P.A. County Chapter will attend. Mrs. D. Y. Malbon will be alternate to the Regent.

Mrs. H. S. Etheridge and Mrs. B. F. White were also elected as alternates to the delegates.

The 60th Virginia State Conference D.A.R. will be held in Richmond, March 14, 15, and 16.

Mrs. W. D. McFar, elected as a delegate.

Mrs. A. H. Bennett and Mrs. J. L. Bennett were elected alternates.

Mrs. E. Gay Robertson, Regent will attend and Mrs. J. F. White, Mrs. D. Y. Malbon are alternates to the Regent.

The speaker of the day was Sgt. Ball of The Air Force Recruiting Service of Norfolk. He presented a film "Anything, anytime, anywhere". The film showed the work of M.A.T.S., Air Transport Service and the Air Lift which has helped to hold the line against communism.

The D.A.R. George Washington luncheon will be held at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club Feb. 18. Mrs. B. F. White, GA 4-4000 will take reservations.

Your Social Security

The period January 1 to April 15, 1961 is return filing time. The Norfolk Social Security District Office wishes to remind the taxpayer that the filing of the 1960 tax return is required if the net profit from any trade or business or a combination of businesses is $400 or more.

If the net profit is over $400, the only self-employed persons exempt from filing a return for social security purposes are medical doctors, ministers and also exempt if they have received a waiver certificate indicating coverage under the Social Security Law. The only group that may file returns if the net profit is less than $400 are farmers with a gross farm profit of $600 or more.

The tax return is filed with Internal Revenue Service and the self-employed obtain social security credit when they file their return. The return is sent by Internal Revenue to social security. The self-employed person is given credit for quarters under social security for each year for which a tax return is filed if the net profit is $400 or more.

By filing tax returns self-employed persons are providing for social security benefits when they reach retirement age, 65 for men, 62 for women, and for disability benefits if they become disabled before reaching retirement age. They also provide for survivors benefits for their widows and children in case of death.

Topdressing small grain with nitrogen can give a boost to small grain yields.

Plan now to topdress with nitrogen during February or early March is lodging seems unlikely. The growth of small grain will determine, to some extent, how late to topdress. Under normal weather conditions, topdress during February and no later than March 15th. Various nitrogen materials have been used successfully in Princess Anne County to topdress small grains. Both solid and liquid nitrogens are efficient. The important thing is to apply the proper amount. Generally, topdress small grains with 40 to 50 lbs. of nitrogen per acre, depending upon the amount applied at planting time. If the small grain is to be used for pasture, silage, or hay, the amount of nitrogen can be increased on up to 60 lbs. per acre.

The phosphate and potash should have been applied at seeding time, and only the nitrogen applied during the winter topdressing season.

Recent research, conducted by the VPI Agronomy Department, showed how wheat, oat, and barley fields go up when nitrogen is used as topdressing. In the test, part of the nitrogen was applied with phosphate and potash at seeding in the fall. Then, part of the small grain was topdressed with 25 lbs. of nitrogen per acre in the winter. The nitrogen topdressing increased wheat yields by 6.2 bushels, oat yields by 18.1 bushels and barley yields by 10.9 bushels per acre.

The amount of nitrogen to apply depends upon the individual field condition. Nitrogen is an important plant food for a successful small grain crop. A good crop of wheat, oat, or barley will need 60 lbs. or more of total nitrogen for the straw and grain, so if your small grain crop needs more nitrogen, plan now to topdress this winter.

Next week be sure to read this column for a report on a nitrogen fertilization demonstration conducted on small grains in this county.

GOVERNMENT LAND AT OCEANA FOR LEASE

Sealed bids will be received until 2:00 p.m., February 2nd, in the District Public Works Office, 5th Naval District, U. S. Naval Base, Norfolk 11, Virginia, and then publicly opened for the leasing of the agricultural purposes five parcels of land, containing approximately 143 acres, located at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Oceana, Virginia. Information regarding the land and its whereabouts can be obtained from my office.

FARM PONDS POPULAR IN PRINCESS ANNE

Farm ponds are becoming increasingly popular in Princess Anne as a source of irrigation water, particularly for high income crops such as truck crops.

There are always some tricks of the trade that you should know before you construct a pond. Contact all of the folks that you know who have irrigation systems, to determine what their problems are and how you can overcome these problems before you start irrigating. Talk to professional workers. Machinery dealers who sell irrigation equipment, and agricultural engineers, and ask them every question you can think of. Check with your ASC Office to determine what cost-share payments are available in Princess Anne to help construct ponds, and ask the Soil Conservation Service technician to give you help in planning your pond.

Before planning and constructing the pond consider water needs. Most vegetable crops will require a acre foot of water for every acre of crop to be irrigated. For example, if you plan to irrigate ten acres of crop, you will need at least ten acres feet of water stored in the farm pond.

If the pond is to be used for other purposes, such as fishing, recreation, or stock watering, build additional capacity into it. For example, fish must have at least four feet of water remaining in the pond after the irrigation water is used. To cut down on surface evaporation losses, plan a deep pond with as few shallow areas as possible. And, don't forget to figure the cost of the pond along with the cost of the equipment in determining your investment in irrigation.

SOYBEANS BECOMING IMPORTANT CASH CROP

Soybeans are becoming an important cash crop in Princess Anne County. Up to about 20,000 acres of beans alone last year, and along with this increasing acreage of beans comes the interesting change in price patterns in soybeans. Many seasonal variations in soybean prices is expected in the 1961 marketing year than the year before. The fall of 1960 soybean prices did not take their usual dip, indicating that the seasonal price pattern has changed.

Prices received by farmers during the October to August marketing season has tended to fluctuate less than they did in the 1949 through '55 season.

There are many reasons for this smoothing out of the seasonal price variation. Soybean production has expanded faster than overall market outlets. Thus, prices for farmers average close to the support price which has been lowered in recent years.

The flattening of the seasonal price pattern for soybeans has made farm storage less profitable than several years ago. And, in the future, seasonal price spreads will continue relatively narrow compared to the 1949 and '55 period. Increase farm and country elevator storage facilities help farmers delay sales and sell the crop in a more orderly manner.

The general trend toward farm storage also reduces seasonal price swings, as well as reducing congestion at county and terminal elevator handling facilities during the harvesting season.

The average price for soybeans during the '60-'61 season is expected to be around $2.00 per bushel.

VEGETABLE PRODUCERS PLEASE CHECK TRENDS

Keep a close eye on all reports from vegetable producing areas as to a guide as to what and what not to plant this spring. That is the advice that I read in all sources of outlook material. Most of the folks say that although the relatively small carry-over of vegetables of last year will tend to boost vegetable prices received by farmers, the most important factor affecting price will be the amount offered for sale from Virginia and competing states during the marketing season.

Average planted, rainfall, temperature, cultural practices and other variables will determine the amount of each vegetable available for sale and the prices. Estimates of some of these variables will be available soon and should be used as a guide in selecting vegetable crops for production.

Sources of this information are: Acreage Marketing Guide, Vegetables Processing, Vegetables Fresh Market, The Vegetable Situation, and others which will be available from my office as soon as I receive them. The vegetable crop reporting service also makes available several reports on expected planting, yields, production, and weather, and other information. Also, watch magazines and newspapers for late information.

WINTER MACHINERY CHECKED

If you didn't give your farm machinery thorough inspection before putting it in fall storage, now is a pretty good time to take a good close look at it.

If you want your machinery to give long satisfactory service, and be ready to go next spring, it must be thoroughly cleaned, inspected, repaired, and protected from corrosion and deterioration, during these winter months.

Clean to remove all fertilizer, grain, chaff, mud and grease. Be sure nothing is left in the hoppers of seeding and fertilizer equipment, and use water and a good clean solvent to wash the various parts. Remove all dirt and cake grease from pieces of tillage equipment. Clean dirt, grease, and other deposits from engines. Pay special attention to cooling systems on farm motors.

After cleaning, inspect for broken, worn, or damaged parts. Make necessary repairs, adjustments, then thoroughly lubricate each machine and coat wear surfaces with a rust preventative or heavy oil. Paint parts which need it. Store machinery where it will be protected from the winter weather and be ready to go in the field when spring weather comes.

BETHEL KENT SOYBEANS NOT ON LIST FOR VIRGINIA

Many folks have been asking about two new varieties, Kent and Bethel, recently released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with several experiment stations. The answer is, "No." Neither of these soybeans are recommended for Virginia at the present time.

CHANGES IN SOCIAL SECURITY EFFECT FARM FAMILIES

At least four changes in the social security law are of interest to farmers. Here is a brief rundown of the changes made during the last session of Congress: (1) If you become severely disabled a change in the law permits payments at any age if you have paid social security tax for five of the past ten years previous to the disability. (2) A year and one-half of working time under social security is still required before any benefits can be paid, but under the new law, most people can become insured more quickly than before. Some older people who did not work long enough under the old law may now be eligible for payments. (3) Parents working for sons or daughters in their farm business are covered by social security after 1960. (4) Any non-profit organization can cover an employee who wants social security. Before, two-thirds of the employees had to want coverage.

Farmers should check at least every three years with their local office to see that their social security is correct. I also urge farmers to get in touch with the local office for more information of the recent changes. The local social security office for this area is located at 220 West Brambleton Avenue in Norfolk, Virginia.

The Woman's Club presented a Fashion Show with styles by Rhea's, Inc., at the new Bayshore Bowling Lanes in Bayshore, D.C., last night. The show was a success, with a large crowd of women in attendance. The models wore a variety of styles, including swimwear, casual wear, and evening wear. The show was held in a newly renovated bowling lane, which provided a unique setting for the event. The Woman's Club is proud to support local fashion and provide a venue for such a popular event.

Lutheran Church To Observe World Day of Prayer Here

The World Day of Prayer will be held on Friday, February 17, 1961 at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Virginia Beach, Virginia. The service will begin at 11:30 a.m. The purpose of the World Day of Prayer is to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and Christian Fellowship with others around the world and to make an offering for international projects at home and abroad. The theme for the meeting will be "Forward Through the Ages." World Day of Prayer offerings will be used for the migrant ministry in the U.S. for religious training and counseling for our Indian-American youth; for training of leaders in low-income farm areas; a program of friendly relations among foreign students; developing Christian leadership for women overseas through Christian college, Christian literature, Christian family life programs. There will be five overseas prayer fellowships and thirty-two services held in the U.S. The goal for the 70th World Day of Prayer must grow from within as our hearts and minds stretch toward their attainment. Goal No. 1—Double the attendance; enlist every church in every community. Goal No. 2—Double the number of services; help neighboring communities to organize for World Day of Prayer, 1961. Goal No. 3—Double the offering.

$152.50 For Dimes Drive Kiwanis, Rotary Clubs Win Basketball Games But March of Dimes Is Big Winner of Night

What must be called "basketball" for lack of another word was the bit-of-fare Monday night in the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium and the winning teams were the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs. The basketball doubleheader was a special project of the 1961 March of Dimes fund campaign here for Virginia Beach and Prince Anne County and when the game cleared from the playing area the March of Dimes officials counted $152.50 collected from the fans.

In the first contest members of the Virginia Beach Rotary Club and the Lions Club gathered to do battle. From the outset it was evident that a youth movement started some two to three years ago by the Rotary Club would give the Rotarians the edge. Try as they might with Lewis Smith throwing his weight around and Bob Wahab banging into Rotarians under the basket the Rotarians held a slim lead at intermission.

Lincoln's Train Bound For Nation's Capital
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 11—President-elect Abraham Lincoln left this Illinois capital early today for Washington, the should-well-wishes of a rain-soaked crowd ringing in his ears. "No one, not in my situation, can appreciate my feeling of duty at this parting," the guest Republican said in an impromptu speech from the rear of the Washington train that will be his home during the long trip to the White House. Lincoln's group included his wife, Mary Todd; his son Robert and Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois. The coordinator for this bus trip is Mrs. Donald M. Jefferson, who said that the visit will "give us a chance to see Lincoln and a chance to see the nation's capital." The group will arrive in Washington on Saturday morning. The train consisted of only one passenger coach, a baggage car and the locomotive, which left for a brief 10-minute stop at the president-elect's speech, as it eager for departure.

Treasurer COUNCIL AUTHORIZES BOND ISSUE TO COVER COST

The Virginia Beach City Council Monday authorized a $50,000 bond issue for a new sand pumping station to help combat and augment the present city program of beach erosion control. The new plant will be located at the south end of the boardwalk at 7th Street. The station will fight erosion by shoving dredged sand through a pipeline onto eroded beach areas. Sand is now being pumped from Lake Rudee onto the beach by a pumping station at 6th Street. The older unit, which is moved to the Owl Creek area as the present supply of sand decreases. The new station will boost pressure when the older station is moved to its new location west of Lake Rudee.

Post Office Department Has New Obscenity Mail Policy

An important new policy statement on the Post Office Department's program in the field of law enforcement against mail obscenity — emphasizing enforcement without fanfare — has been issued by Postmaster General J. He was released on $150 bond. Officer H. D. Lussan investigated.

FLIM FLAMMER FLEECES INNS

County police have warned area hotel and motel operators to be on the alert for a flim-flam artist who may set up shop here. Princess Anne police said the man poses as an executive of a corporation, rents and pays for a number of hotel rooms, saying he's expecting other executives later that night. Police said the man is now operating in the Alexandria-Fairfax area. He is a white male, about 37-40 years old, about five feet tall, weighs about 180-190 lbs., is olive-skinned, a neat dresser, and drives a light-colored late model station wagon. Police ask anyone having information about such a person to call Princess Anne police headquarters immediately.

MURDER CASE ON APRIL 11 DOCKET

A murder charge against Arthur (Pats) Miller, 56, a Virginia Beach cab operator will be heard in Princess Anne Circuit Court on April 11. Miller is accused of killing George S. Padon, 67, one of his tenants, last November. Padon suffered a heart attack following an alleged fist fight with Miller. Other trials on the 150-case docket are a manslaughter charge against W. O. Oliver, Sr., who is accused of slaying John Marshall Woodhouse. Trial date is February 14.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES BOND ISSUE TO COVER COST

The starting date. The station will be paid for through a $50,000 bond issue which will mature within 10 years. The sand supply in the Owl Creek area is expected to last from 15 to 18 years. Currently, sand is being pumped onto the beach as far north as 24th Street. The new station will be able to pump sand into the same area. The planned station will be electrically operated. The present one is diesel-powered. Both develop 300 horsepower. A total of 80,000 to 70,000 cubic yards of sand have been pumped onto the beach yearly from Lake Rudee area since the erosion fight at Virginia Beach began in 1932. The new facility will be built entirely within the public right-of-way and will be a permanent installation.

State Heart Fund Campaign Kicked Off In $415,000 Drive

A goal of $415,000 for the 1961 Heart Fund Kick-Off Dinner at the Hotel Jefferson, Richmond, Thursday evening, February 2. This announcement was made by Wallace R. Heatwole, Virginia Beach Heart Fund Campaign chairman, who urged his audience to use this goal as a "guideline" and not as a "hitching post." Let us not be satisfied with reaching this figure but let us be satisfied only by surpassing it. If we can arrest heart disease, that we know to be our Number One Killer, we have achieved our goal. In continuing, Mr. Heatwole pointed out that since 1946, a total of 510,000 Virginia Heart Fund dollars have been allocated to the support of heart research. In addition, the Heart Fund supports educational programs and community service including a rehabilitation program. President-elect John M. Campbell, Jr., Franklin, introduced James W. Hamner, Jr., Richmond, as "Mr. Virginia Heart of 1961." Mr. Hamner, who is serving as a Heart Fund volunteer, underwent heart surgery last spring. He is now entirely well. Dr. Benjamin M. Baker, Jr., Associate Professor of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University, addressed the audience on "Progress against Heart Disease."

Does This Girl Have Problems?

THE WEEK'S LETTER:
I have a problem of two boys I like very much. One is Ralph, the other Bill. Ralph is popular, very cute and fun to be with. He is 18. Bill is fun to be with, but he acts too funny sometimes. He tries to be too nice. He is 16. Some people tell me to like Ralph. Others tell me to like Bill. I am only 15, but mature, and have a lot of good dates. The boys all seem to go for me, and don't mind my age. And I am not boy crazy. I'm big for my age. People say I look about 18 or 19. Please help me find an answer.

OUR REPLY: Is really a question: An answer to what? Is there something wrong with liking two boys? Must you not like one because you like the other, or vice versa?

We don't see where there is any problem. Since you admit that you like them both, what is the future in waiting time and brain power trying to decide which one you like best, or which one the majority of your friends want you to like?

Linda Myers Married To Donald E. Wirt

Miss Linda Lee Myers became the bride of Donald Edward Wirt on Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Oak-Lette Methodist Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward J. Taylor, pastor of Francis Asbury Methodist Church, Lynnhaven, and the Rev. John Teter, pastor of the church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ewing Myers of London Bridge. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Wirt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported belting-length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a bougie bodice and scalloped neckline. The full bouffant skirt featured tiers of lace ruffles and a scalloped hemline. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was arranged from a pendant tiara. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with a white orchid, showered with stephanotis.

Miss Loretta Myers, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. H. Lynn Gaskins, Miss Lavene Ann Kidd, the bride's cousin, and Miss Arlene Ann Evans.

H. Lynn Gaskins was best man. The groomsmen were Glenn Lee Foster of Lynnhaven, Arthur Wirt, the bridegroom's brother, and William Leland Kidd, cousin of the bride.

A reception was given in the Lynnhaven Lounge of the Officers Lounge Club, Little Creek. After a northern wedding trip, the couple will live at 1276 Pall Mall St.

Mrs. J. B. Wood of Price's Inc. presented a program entitled "An Evening with stereophonic sound."

NEW NEIGHBOR

When Betty Marlowe moved into our neighborhood we invited her to join the garden club and the baby stroller club and the civic association, but it never occurred to any of us to ask her if she'd like to go to church.

Then, one Saturday, she phoned me. "My husband is often out of town on Sundays and I don't have the car when he's away," she explained. "Would you and Bill mind if I went to church with you?"

Mind! We were delighted—but I was also a little ashamed. And I wondered how many others there were in our neighborhood who would like to go to our church, if they were given the encouragement of an invitation.

From now on, I'm not waiting to be asked. I'm asking!

Honors Graduate Recognized

Lt. (jg) Ed Krause is shown being congratulated by Capt. L. M. Satterfield, Bay Island, while Lt. S. L. Lamoreaux, Bay Colony, acting officer-in-charge of Fighter Squadron 101 Detachment ATFA, looks on. Cmdr. G. G. O'Rourke, Bay Colony, is officer-in-charge of the squadron. Lt. Krause was first in his class of officers who recently completed the Naval Aviation Observers course.

The following students were chosen to take part in the All-State Band Concert which was held at Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth, on February 4 and 5. They are: John Smith, Keith Ryan, Bob Ives, Arthur Slaughter, and Clara Katsala.

These were among the many students in the Eastern District of Virginia, who were auditioned to play in the band. Congratulations to these students for this honor!

The Junior Class has been industriously selling candy, chocolate almonds, this past week to raise money for the Valentine Dance. Each junior was given a carton of twenty-four candy bars to sell in the school and community. Let's all support the Junior Class!

The East Carolina College Band will give a concert at Virginia Beach High School on Friday, Feb. 10, in the school auditorium for the student body. There will also be a concert that night for the public.

The band consists of 60 members: 14 girls, and 46 boys. The students will play in the homes of members of the Junior and Senior classes, who are to be hosts and hostesses to the band.

Everyone is urged to attend, as this should be a most enjoyable performance. Refreshments will be served, and a dance will be held in the gymnasium.

The teacher spotlighted this week is Colonel William Mack, algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry teacher at the high school. He is also the sponsor of the Student Cooperative Assn., a most exciting job which he performs competently, devoting much time and effort.

Colonel Mack attended St. John's College in Washington, D.C., graduating first in his class. He was active in baseball, basketball, football, and tennis. He received his A.B. degree from St. John's, his B.S. in electrical engineering from Catholic University, also in Washington, D.C., and his Masters Degree in Business Administration at Harvard University.

During college, he was a member of the basketball, baseball, football, and boxing teams. Colonel Mack's hobbies are photography and pistol shooting.

Not only does he take part in many school functions and activities, but Colonel Mack is active in the community as well. He is a member of the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The students of Virginia Beach High School salute this fine gentleman who is always willing to devote his time and energy to their interests.

As the last week before mid-term exams dawned, a harsh fall over the school campus waited. The snow with heavy eyes, opening its mouth and looking down on the students who were waiting for the results of their exams.

The weekend before tests was filled with last minute cramming, worry, and dread. Monday, 9 a.m. students fearful, but glad to have started, went into their rooms where they were greeted with pages of questions.

Brains were foggy and tired as students filled out, but all had a feeling of satisfaction knowing that each had done his best.

The following week was one of anxious waiting for the results. On the day report cards were issued, many were joyous and relieved, others sad, but with a look of determination for the new semester. Whatever the outcome, however, we all agree that we are thankful exams came only twice a year!

The Surf Queen's Ball will be held in the early part of April this year.

The eighth grade, treatment, sophomore, and junior classes each chose five attendees. This whole student body elected the Queen and eight princesses from the fifteen senior nominees. They are as follows:

Eighth Grade—Debbie Ayres, Susan Baker, Cathy Welton, Margie Ansell, Mary Clinton, and Elizabeth Ford.

Ninth Grade—Pat Farrell, Pat Remy, Pat Cherry, Carolyn Boelter, Nancy Welton, Sue VanNestrand.

Mrs. Malbon is DAR Speaker

Sarah Constant Chapter DAR held their January meeting Monday evening, January 30 at the Guild House of Christ & Lumen Church on Stockley Gardens.

After a brief business meeting Mrs. John F. Bennett Jr., District President of the Governor John Smith Society DAR reported on last week's State Conference of DAR in Richmond, where her society was awarded the President's award for the society showing the most improvement in 1960, also 1961.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. David Y. Malbon, State Chairman of the American Indian Committee DAR, also Past-President of Princess Anne Chapter DAR. Mrs. Malbon displayed a collection of Indian dolls made on the reservations, as well as interesting specimens of Indian pottery. She related the history of the Virginia Indian tribes, represented by the Pamunkey and Chickahominy tribes now living on Virginia reservations. She said "The Pamunkey tribe, one of the 35 tribes ruled by King Powhatan, have lost their original tribal language, with only 15 words remaining of their original tongue." Their reservation in King William County, near Lester Manor, Virginia is open to visitors, and Mrs. Malbon extended an invitation to DAR's and their guests to visit these Indians. Daughters of the American Revolution contribute liberally to Indian schools and various causes for their welfare in several states. In closing she asked the chapter chaplain to read the Indian version of the Lord's Prayer.

Our Library—Ardis Kay Meagher
The library of Courthouse School is lined with shelves of wonderful books and stories to read to enjoy. Our librarian, Mrs. R. Buffington, makes bulletin boards to express some of the wonderful books in the library and the importance of reading. For example, Mrs. Buffington chose the story of the girl from my poem made a display informing us of the many new interesting books we have recently received.

My class visits the library every Thursday. We check out books that we are allowed to borrow from the library for one week. There is also a nice selection of magazines we may enjoy while in the library. During the day we may look for interesting books and we wish to share them.

Our library is full of wonderful books to read, and data and books waiting to be read by our pupils.

WORLD ELEPHANT
Mary Brown, Hickman—1st Grade
Once upon a time there was a little elephant who lived in a cave. He never saw the sun, and he never saw the world. He was very lonely and he was very sad. He wanted to see the world and he wanted to see the sun. He wanted to see the people and he wanted to see the animals. He wanted to see everything that was out there. He wanted to see the world.

Prior to his assignment to this headquarters in February, Major Fantone was stationed at Headquarters, 2nd Air Force, Hickman, ATB, La. His aeronautical rating is Command Pilot, and he has logged a total of 3,000 flying hours. He has been on active duty for 181 years.

Major Fantone is married to the former Susan Payne of Virginia Beach. They have two children, Susan P., born 18 October 1949 and Mary E., born 18 July 1952.

U. Va. Extension Courses Slated To Begin Feb. 13

Four non-credit courses, "Creative Writing," "Investments for Laymen," "Law of Real Estate," and "Poise, Polish and Personality," have been scheduled for Virginia Beach this spring by the University of Virginia's extension service through its Hampton Roads Center. Classes will meet at Virginia Beach High School, beginning the week of February 13.

"Law of Real Estate and Poise," "Poise and Personality" are scheduled to meet on Tuesdays, beginning on Tuesday, February 14; registration will begin for both classes at 8:30 p.m. and the first class sessions will follow immediately. "Creative Writing and Investments for Laymen" are scheduled for Thursdays, beginning on Thursday, Feb. 16; registration will begin at 8:30 p.m. and the first class sessions will follow immediately. All courses meet once a week, for two hours each session; all the courses meet first times, except investments for Laymen, and that meets eight times.

"Creative Writing," involving instruction and practice in the various forms and techniques of writing, will be taught by Mrs. Agnes Thomas of Norfolk.

"Investments for Laymen," a practical course in buying and selling stocks and bonds as well as planning an investment program, will be taught by Mr. John V. Tuttle of Portsmouth.

"Law of Real Estate," a practical course designed for property owners and potential owners to help them understand their legal rights and responsibilities, will be taught by Mr. Thomas F. McPaul of Norfolk.

"Poise, Polish and Personality," a general self-improvement course for men and women, will be taught by Mrs. Marden F. Waters, of Norfolk.

Additional information about these courses may be obtained from the Hampton Roads Center, 216-A Midtown Bldg., Wards Corner, Norfolk 5, Va., telephone JUelco 1-4366.

PA GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Princess Anne Garden Club will meet on Monday, February 13, at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. W. R. Miller Jr., Great Neck Point, London Bridge. Mrs. L. Crawford Syer will speak on "Conservation."

Virginia's Art

By Leslie Cheek, Jr.

Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts

The nationally known director of the State Museum describes the great masterpiece of art in the Museum's collection—the cultural heritage of all Virginians. This is one of a series of articles which will appear each week during the Virginia Museum's 25th Birthday year.

The Pleasures of Renoir

"JUNES FILLES REGARDANT UN ALBUM"

Few people take pleasure in their work and fewer admit it when they do, for work has been regarded traditionally with a solemn, if not a downright jaundiced, eye. But when Pierre Auguste Renoir's (1841-1919) master said to him in a disapproving way, "You seem to take painting as a pleasure," Renoir promptly answered, "Quite true, if painting were not a pleasure I should certainly not do it."

This sensation of pleasure never left Renoir throughout his long life and is abundantly apparent in all of the more than 4,000 paintings he produced during it. Renoir was born in Limoges. His father, who was a tailor, apprenticed him at fourteen to a china painter in Paris and he quickly found his way to the Louvre, where he studied the collections. The china factory where he had been apprenticed became bankrupt when he was seventeen, and he supported himself, first by painting fans and later by painting copies of religious pictures for a firm which sold them to missionaries. Since he painted quickly and was paid by the piece, he had saved enough money to allow him to enter Gleyre's Academy when he was twenty-two. Soon, he had a studio where the young painters who founded the Impressionists often met. By 1864 he had exhibited at the official Salon and he spent the time before the 1870 war establishing his reputation and painting both in the studio and outside. After the war he found he could bring in cash by painting portraits, a genre which he tended to turn to over a period of many years whenever the need for money was pressing.

But by 1879 he was firmly enough established that he could marry, and in 1880 he had an exhibition of over seventy paintings at Durand Ruel, the Parisian dealer who had been astute enough to buy many of the Impressionist paintings before the public had begun to appreciate them. From 1880 on he embarked on a series of paintings of two young girls who had become his models. They reappear in canvas after canvas, gradually growing into young women and serving as a basic theme for the master's art of the nineties. The Virginia Museum of Fine Arts' "Junes Filles Regardant un Album," the gift of the Williams fund, is one of this long series.

It was painted about 1892 while Renoir and his family were still living in Montmartre. The girls are charmingly arranged within the frame of the canvas, and the brilliant palette which Renoir so loved but rarely used to such good effect, his fondness for slightly generalized, slightly plump, peach-ripe forms so familiar in his later paintings, is already evident in the "Junes Filles," who have the marvelous sunny quality of all confident young animals. The canvas, too, is imbued with the pleasure Renoir always took in painting.

CHURCH PLAN FUND FOR NEW BUILDING

Plans for a building fund campaign for the Francis Ashbury Methodist Church were completed at a special meeting of the Official Board of the Church on February 5. The stewardship crusade will be conducted the week of March 12 under the direction of the Rev. Ralph Haga, executive secretary of the Virginia Conference Board of Missions of the Methodist Church. Shortly after the successful completion of the crusade the church plans to erect the first unit of its building on a lot located on Great Neck Road, across from the John B. Dey Elementary School, according to the pastor, the Rev. Edward J. Taylor.

The congregation is presently meeting in the John B. Dey School. Church School is held at 9:45 a.m. and morning worship at 11 a.m.

P.A. WOMAN'S CLUB

MEETING TUESDAY

The Women's Club of Princess Anne County will hold its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, February 14, at the Pine Tree Inn. Mrs. George E. Miller, program chairman, will introduce guest speaker, the Reverend Roscoe A. Musselwhite, pastor at the Deep Creek Baptist Church. He will speak on, and show color slides of, home life and culture in South America.

is the price of the Newport, a full-size Chrysler with a carload of Chrysler value! Unibody—all-welded, chemically treated to stay newer longer. Torsion-bar suspension—time-tested favorite of auto experts. Alternator—unlike generators, produces current even at idle. Firebolt V-8—a new Chrysler engine that goes on regular. Plus more of the good things every Chrysler gives you (like the full-size pride you'll have when you drive it home!).

*This is the Newport 4-door sedan. You'll find this Chrysler suggested retail price (exclusive of destination charges) on the car shown at your local dealer's. Modest extra charge for whitewall tires. Price does not reflect the very attractive trade-in offer we're prepared to make on your present car.

Mrs. Cleve Harrell has returned home after spending a week with her son, Mr. and Mrs. William Harrell.

News for VETERANS

As the death rate increases in the ranks of veterans of World War I, the question frequently comes up as to how the government disposes of compensation or pension due but not paid prior to the death of a veteran.

Any periodic monthly benefit, except insurance and servicemen's indemnity, due and unpaid during a veteran's lifetime must be paid to his wife if she is living. If there is no wife, payment is made to the veteran's children in equal shares. If there are neither wife nor child, the money goes to his dependent parent or parents. When there are neither wife, child, or dependent parent, then only so much of the accrued benefits may be paid as may be necessary to reimburse the person who bore the expenses of last sickness and death.

When a widow dies who had accrued pension or compensation due her, the unpaid money goes to the veteran's child or children. Upon the death of a child, payment is made equally to the surviving children. Likewise a surviving dependent parent receives the amount due and unpaid upon the death of the other parent.

It must be distinctly understood that the foregoing does not apply to government insurance or servicemen's indemnity, the remaining payments of which are disposed of according to the beneficiary designation made in writing by the insured.

The Series E Savings Bond is 30 years old this year. Americans now own around $71 billion dollars worth.

Coats, Suits In Fashion News

By Lois M. Erdman
Asst. Home Dom. Agent
Spring is just around the corner, believe it or not, a glance into the spring fashion picture brings up the following news in styles.

COATS & SUITS

This year the collarless or jewel neckline will be popular in both coats and suits. Popular also will be the collarless suit or coat with a strip of contrasting fabric outlining the collar edge and opening. Favorites for the coming season will be the full silhouette coat and the collarless, easy-fitting suit.

Noticeable for the new season will be the cape influence in coats and suits. It will be seen in the deep, shawl-like collar, sleeves and short loose sleeves that are being shown in the new store windows. Also seen in the coat line will be the narrow coat with the semi-fitted front and the eased back. Full coats and this semi-fitted coat will complete the popularity. The straight tailored coat will also be seen. Dressy coats will be conspicuously different with short, wide sleeves and a silhouette that stands away from the body.

Along with the generally short suit jacket, the suit skirt will show some new trends. Many skirts will have simulated culotte pleats and seams. Some skirts will have soft gathers at the waist. Big gowns will be the suit plus the overblouse or the coat plus the dress or skirt, ensemble style.

The "Costume Look" has spread in popularity into the dress area. Dressed with contrasting pockets in strings, solids, or plaids will be used in costume style. The sleeveless dress and the easy fitting overblouse will give spring outfits a strictly contemporary look.

In the millinery line the turbans are quite evident in the fashion picture for spring, 1961. These turbans are made of straw, knitted fabric, and even delicate fabrics like chiffon for dressy occasions.

The newest look in hats is the 1920 type hat that conforms closely to the contour of the head. Look for some hat with a slight turn-up being close to the face. The popular sailor hat will be seen worn both flat on the head and tilted to the back of the head.

Small hats worn on the crown of the head. The "First Lady Look" will be seen quite prevalently in the spring.

Watch for small hats perched forward on the head and slightly tilted, too. Rounder crowns in hats will be part of the trend toward shallower shaped hats.

Large verticle pins on costume suits and coats will be a change from the horizontal pins seen in past seasons. The sleeveless dresses that are going to be seen will give a good chance for ornamental bracelets to be worn in profusion.

With the collarless and stand away necklines, large, bold necklaces will be decorating millady's throat in colorful strands.

To sum up what we can expect for the coming year in fashion news, we might say that the eased or loose fitting line in clothing will be popular, that the bold silhouette seems to be the rule, and that fashions will be as fascinating to the feminine mind as ever.

END YOUR CONSTIPATION WORRIES

Now you can end your constipation worries once and for all. Put aside chemical laxatives, oils or bran-like roughage that may upset your system. Instead, take SEASANT as a glass of water every day.

SEASANT is an all-vegetable laxative aid that provides the proper moisture, bulk and peristaltic stimulation you may need as you grow older to insure daily regularity. This is entirely different from chemical laxatives. Prove it to yourself. Take SEASANT as directed for at least one week. You may be well on the road to daily regularity or your money back from the dealer.

Pancakes Are Fun Fare

On Shrove Tuesday, the day of feasting and fun before Lent starts, pancakes are traditionally served.

Next Tuesday, February 14th, will be Shrove Tuesday.

Shrove Tuesday takes its name from the historic fact that many persons made their confessions on that day in order that they might be "shriven" or cleaned before the beginning of Lent.

Another story regarding pancakes on Shrove Tuesday relates that in the early days pancakes were eaten on Shrove Tuesday because it became necessary to use up all the meat drippings and lard in the making of pancakes are Lent actually appeared.

John Taylor, English poet called attention in the 18th Century to the Pancake Bell that sounded at 11 o'clock in the morning from the churches on Shrove Tuesday. One jingle went like this:
"Pancakes and Fritters

Says The Bells of St. Peter's.
Will you be ringing a bell for your call to come and get pancakes for Shrove Tuesday?

Here are some recipes:
Norwegian Pancakes

1 cup flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup sour cream (commercial)
4 eggs

1 cup small curd cottage cheese
Butter or margarine

Sift flour with sugar into a bowl.
Spoon cream in and blend thoroughly. Beat eggs until very light, fold into flour with cottage cheese.
Bake on lightly greased griddle until golden brown on each side.

Butter as you bake and stack.
Rice Griddle Cakes

These cutlet-like pancakes do not contain flour of any kind. The thickening comes from the rice which is cooked in milk until very tender. Serve with maple syrup, jelly or drizzle hot honey butter over them.

1 cup uncooked white rice
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons honey
4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt

Cornstarch milk, 1 teaspoon salt and honey in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water stirring occasionally, for 2 hours or until milk is absorbed and the rice is creamy. Beat eggs thoroughly and mix with cooked rice and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Beat thoroughly. Drop spoonfuls of batter onto medium hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake slowly on both sides until golden brown. These are really good.

If you don't want to mix pancakes from "scratch" as the old saying goes, you can buy the pancake mix, there are several good mixes on the market.

Don't forget, your sweetheart next Tuesday, it's Valentine's Day, too.

Mental Health Group Meeting In Williamsburg

The Virginia Association for Mental Health will hold its 24th Annual Meeting in Williamsburg on February 15 and 16. The headquarters will be at the Williamsburg

Stanley Yoles, M.D., Associate Director of the National Institute for Mental Health, Bethesda, Md., will be the guest speaker for the banquet to be held on Wednesday night, Feb. 15. "Emerging Patterns of Public Participation in Mental Health" will be the subject of his talk.

Dr. Yoles is a diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and a member of the Commissioned Corps of the Public Health Service, with the rank of Medical Director. He is responsible for the Extramural Programs of NIMH.

Rabbi Solomon Jacobson, President of the Virginia Association for Mental Health and a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association, will preside at the banquet and will give his Presidential Report for the year at that time.

The two-day meeting will open at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday with a session of the members of the board of directors, to be followed by a luncheon meeting of all members and delegates. Following the luncheon chapter presidents will report on outstanding activities in their chapters during the past year.

"The Clinics of our Communities" will be the topic discussed by James B. Funkhouser, M.D., Director of Mental Hygiene Clinics, Training and Research and Assistant to the Commissioner of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals, at an afternoon meeting to be held at the Tidewater Guidance Clinic, Cyril R.
Mill, Ph.D., Director of Psychological Services for the Department of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals, will join in the discussion of this topic.

Senator Edward E. Willey, Chairman, State Hospital Board, and Hiram W. Davis, M.D., Commissioner, Department of Hygiene and Hospitals, will discuss State Hospital plans for the future at a breakfast meeting to be held at Eastern State Hospital at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday morning.

Three workshops will be held at the Lodge, beginning at 10 a.m., conducted by members of the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Hospitals. Topics to be discussed at these workshops include: "Our Capital Outlay Program," Hiram W. Davis, M.D.; "The Cost of Mental Illness in Virginia," Alfred E.
H. Ruth, Director, Department of Hygiene and Hospitals; "The Responsibility of Clinics for Mental Health Prevention and Treatment," Elizabeth Brantley, M.A.W., Psychiatric Social Worker Consultant, "Working With the Juvenile Delinquent and Character Disorders," Cyril R. Mill, Ph.D.; "Public Relations in Mental Health," Mrs.
Robert Muter, Director of Education and Editor of Mental Health in Virginia; and "The Mental Hygiene Program in Virginia," James B. Funkhouser, M.D.

The election of officers and board members for the coming year will be held following the noon luncheon meeting. A meeting of the board of directors will close this annual event that afternoon.

On TV Sunday

In recent months, American parents and teenagers have been troubled by widespread reports of a so-called "college panic" in which overcrowding of available college facilities, a wholesale rejection of desirable schools of all but the most brilliant students.

Yet most experts—college admissions officials and high school guidance specialists—say that the "college panic," like the reports of Mark Twain's death, have been greatly exaggerated.

Some of the most specific—and reassuring—answers to the spate of "college panic" reports came when "The Twentieth Century" program filmed a symposium on college admissions. The panel of college admissions officials and high school guidance specialists named Charles W. Holmes, the speaker, said that the "college panic" is a myth. The panelists, who were asked to answer questions about college admissions, said that the "college panic" is a myth.

Q. I read where some of the colleges require so many high marks. My scores weren't even half as good. Is it true that the colleges are so picky?

A. No, colleges are not so picky. The important thing is that you are a good student. The colleges are looking for students who are well-rounded and have a good record. They are not looking for students who are perfect. They are looking for students who are good.

Q. Can you say that there is a place for those students who are well-rounded and have a good record?

A. Yes, there is a place for those students. They are the students who are well-rounded and have a good record. They are the students who are good.

Q. I would say there is, yes.

Q. I had quite a few choices of colleges—say, ten. Do you think I should send all ten applications back to the colleges to be sure that I would be accepted in one? Or don't you advise that?

A. Well, I don't. We don't advise our students to send more than three. Many colleges will consider only the first three. So you should send three.

Q. We were always led to believe that you had to be in the upper fifth of your class. Is this true?

A. No, there are a lot of colleges that take students who are not in the upper fifth of their class.

Q. And they are looking for well-rounded youngsters? Not particularly the brains?

A. A lot of admissions officers have told me that they would rather have a student who is well-rounded than one who is a brainiac. They are looking for students who are good.

SMALL GRAIN FERTILIZATION IN PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

Someone once wrote a song about "It Ain't What You Do, It's The Way That You Do It." This same observation can be more accurately made about the fertilization of small grain.

Princess Anne County farmers have practiced several different methods of fertilizing small grain in recent years. There is always much discussion around the "Nail Keg Club" about the best way of fertilizing the crop. To help settle this argument, Jennings Furlough, a general farmer in the Blackwater District of the County, agreed to conduct a Demonstration showing five different methods of fertilizing wheat.

Jennings grew five different crops of wheat in this demonstration, each consisting of 1.79 acres in size. The Atlas 66 variety was planted on November 6, 1959, at the rate of 2 bushels per acre. A soil test showed that the pH was 5.7 and the phosphate and potash readings were both medium.

All five plots received the same amount of nitrogen and four plots received the same amount of phosphate and potash. The cost of fertilizing each plot, with the exception of the plot receiving nitrogen only, was almost the same. The difference was in the analysis of fertilizer used and the time it was applied.

Furlough kept an accurate record of the yield from each of these plots, and here are the results of his tests:

Plot No. 1 was fertilized at seedling with 330 pounds of 31-8-18 per acre. It was topped with nitrogen in the spring, with 46.75 lbs. per acre, and gave a yield of 45.16 bushels per acre. The profit above the cost of fertilization of the 1.79 acres was $119.93.

Plot No. 2 was fertilized at seedling with 550 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre, and received 30.89 pounds of nitrogen as a topdressing. This plot yielded 42.82 bushels per acre and returns above the cost of fertilizer were $98.13.

Plot No. 3 was fertilized at seedling time with 550 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre, and received no nitrogen topdressing in the spring. The yield was 35.88 bushels per acre and the plot returned $85.76 above the cost of fertilizer.

Plot No. 4 received no nitrogen at seedling time, but was topped in the spring with 550 pounds of 10-10-10 per acre. This was exactly opposite from the application in Plot No. 3. This plot yielded 31.29 bushels per acre and returned $71.82 above the cost of fertilizer.

On Plot No. 5 no fertilizer was used at seedling time. In the spring it was topped with 550 pounds of nitrogen per acre. This plot yielded 34.71 bushels per acre and the plot returned $93.72 above the cost of fertilizer.

Furlough says that if you want to average out the yield in income on the time of fertilization, you might come up with something like this: The plots that were fertilized in the fall with complete fertilizer and then topped in the spring averaged 44.05 bushels per acre with 95.5 percent net income in terms of percentage of the highest. The fall only fertilization yielded 35.88 bushels per acre with 77% of the highest net income. The crop fertilized by spring fertilization only yielded 33.05 bushels per acre and returned only 73.5 percent of the highest net income.

So, Furlough says that "It Ain't What You Do, It's The Way That You Do It." He has determined which method of fertilization will pay him the highest net return. His cost for each plot was about the same, but the net return had a wide variation. He has found that fall fertilization of wheat pays big dividends and will soon be able to settle all arguments at the "Nail Keg Club."

SELECTING YOUR CORN HYBRID

Many of our county farmers are today buying their seed corn for the 1961 planting season. Selecting the variety is one of the most important things that you will do which effect your corn yield.

There are a lot of varieties that are on the market, and most of them are good, but some are better than others. Different varieties have different advantages and disadvantages.

VPI no longer makes specific variety recommendations, however, they do provide the statistical data derived from experiments and this data should be closely studied in order to determine if and when the advantage should be made in the variety of corn grown on your farm.

I have, in my office, a summary of all of the varieties tested at the Experiment Stations throughout Virginia, specifically the tests conducted at the Tidewater Research Station in Holland, Virginia. I believe that it will be much to your advantage to come into the office and study this test in order that you may be able to better determine the proper variety for your farm.

LIME YOUR SOIL

This is a good time of the year to take soil samples of all of the land which is going to be seeded in spring crops. Sampling soil is a very cheap operation and only requires a small amount of your time. The results of these tests are very beneficial. Fertilizer analysis can be chosen to fit your exact soil requirements for the crop and the proper amount can be applied. Also, as soon as the weather breaks, you will be wanting to apply lime, and your soil sample is the only sound basis which we know of today to properly apply lime. I know of several circumstances where people have limed their soil and have received harmful results because the pH level was already high enough for excellent crop production. Any additional lime applied to such soil is certainly a detriment to some crops, therefore, it is unwise and uneconomical to lime soil without a soil sample.

Come into the office and pick up your boxes for putting your soil sample in. Go home and take your samples and bring them back. We will have them analyzed and will make recommendations for the crop to be grown on your farm.

WHY SETTLE FOR LESS

Why settle for forty bushels of corn to the acre when you can grow around 100. It costs you just as much to plow, harrow, plant and cultivate to grow 40 bushels per acre as it does to grow 100 bushels. Generally, higher yields of crops means higher profit per acre.

Many of you are today buying your fertilizer for the 1961 year, and I would suggest that you study very carefully an increase in your fertilizer application this year. Fertilizer is one of the cheapest materials we buy on the farm, and will return higher profits than anything which we buy.

WHY NOT PLANT WORN TREES

Badly cut-over, worn out and idle is a liability, not earning a cent of the taxes that must be paid on it. Forestry seedlings will grow on such land and will again make it productive. Trees provide an income from land which is not suitable for other crops. A tree crop almost immediately makes land more valuable, controls erosion, provides a clean cover area, and produces profitable products, which are vitally needed.

Detailed planting instructions are furnished with each tree shipment. The Virginia Division of Forestry will assist in organization of planting crews and in getting planting operations underway.

Planting may be done with an ordinary mattock, grubbing hoe, or tree planting bar. On fairly level areas, where larger number of trees ought to be planted, mechanical tree planters may be rented from the Division of Forestry. From 800 to 1500 seedlings per 8-hour day can generally be planted by a two-man crew, using hand tools. A two-man crew with a tractor-drawn mechanical planter can usually plant from 1500 to 10,000 seedlings in the same time.

Rental costs of tree planters is moderate. Complete information may be obtained from Mr. Curtis Payne, Chief Forest Warden of Princess Anne County or District Forester, R. J. Bartholomew.

IRISH POTATO TIMESoils

Select the soil for potatoes carefully. The soil upon which the crop is grown greatly influences the earliness, shape, size, color, texture, cooking quality and keeping quality of the potato. If possible, select well-drained fine sand, sandy loam, or fine sandy loam for this crop. Potatoes grown on fertile soils of these types are known for their excellent quality, they are attractive of their bright color and smooth glossy skins, they carry well in transit and mature relatively early.

Fertilizing

Have soil analysis made and follow the fertilizer recommendations carefully. Results of experiments conducted indicate that some commercial growers apply more fertilizer than the potato crop can use. Generally, 2,000 pounds of 5-10-5 is adequate to produce a good crop and with irrigation this should be increased approximately 25%. If the land is sufficiently high in phosphorus, it will probably be more economical to use 1,250 lbs. of 8-6-8 or 1,000 pounds of 10-10-10. Fertilizer should be applied in vans at planting time at each side and slightly below the seed piece.

Lime Requirements

pH 4 to 5.2. The potato will do well in slightly acid soil with a reaction of 6 pH, but the soil should be more acid to aid in the control of scab in most sections of our county.

Planting

Before you plant the crops of potatoes, take time to check and adjust the planter. Make sure the machine is applying the fertilizer at the proper rate per acre and spacing the seed piece at the proper interval. Actually measure the spacing. Many growers will probably be quite surprised to find that the planter set for 12 inches may actually space the seed 15 to 16 inches apart. The early spring crop should be planted between February 15, and March 15.

Use U.S. No. 1 potatoes which will run 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 inches in diameter cut to 1 1/2 to 2 ounces in weight. U.S. No. 1 potatoes will usually make four seed pieces.

Use 36-inch rows with seed pieces 12 inches apart, without irrigation. Space 8 to 9 inches apart, with irrigation.

Your Social Security

Anyone who has been told in the past that he did not have enough work under Social Security to qualify for payments should get in touch with his social security office now to see if he is eligible under the change in the law. This suggestion is from John Grooms, Field Representative of the Social Security District Office in Norfolk.

The amount of work required to get social security benefits has been reduced. Just how long you must work depends upon your date of birth (or if you die or become disabled, upon the date of your death or disability). Because of this recent change the survivors of workers who died after June 1954 and who were not eligible for benefits under the old law may now be eligible. In many cases the amount of work required under the old law has been reduced about a third. For example, a man becoming 65 or a woman becoming 63 in the first six months of 1960 needed 44 years of work or 18 quarters of coverage under the old law to be eligible for a monthly benefit. Under the new law 3 years or 12 quarters of coverage are required.

No social security payment can be made if there is less than a year and a half of work under social security. This provision in the Social Security Law was not changed by the 1960 Amendments. Another provision that was not changed is that no one ever needs to have more than ten years of work under social security in order to qualify for a benefit. A disability insurance benefit still cannot be paid to anyone with less than 6 years of covered work.

It is recommended that you contact your nearest social security office if you think this change in the law may be of benefit to you.

County's FOPA Honors Craig

The Fraternal Order of Police Associates Lodge No. 8 held their annual award dinner honoring the Princess Anne County Police Officer of the Year for 1960, at the Shore Drive Inn, Thursday, Feb. 2nd. This award is given to the outstanding Police Officer of the year based on the many qualifications and requirements of an efficient Law Enforcement Officer.

An engraved plaque was presented to the Officer of the Year by Mrs. Everette Wilson, president of the F.O.P.A. No. 8 and the Honorable Robert Wehah, Judge of the 28th Circuit Court was the speaker of the evening.

The Police Officer of the Year for 1960 is Donald Joseph Craig. He was born in Norfolk, Va., April 1931 and was raised and educated in Princess Anne, graduating from Oceana High School where he was a member of the football team. He served with the U. S. Marines during the Korean War and at the time of his discharge from service in 1952 he held the rank of Sgt. He joined the Princess Anne County Police Department in July, 1954 and has attended several Police Training Schools among them the Virginia Municipal Police Training School in Richmond and the School of Applied Science and recently the Law Enforcement Officers Training School. He is a charter member of the F.O.P. Lodge No. 8 and has held the office of trustee, vice president and secretary.

Craig serves as a volunteer fireman with the Thalia Volunteer Fire Department.

In 1954 he married the former Barbara Moore of Norfolk and they have two children, Michael, aged 4, and Debbie, aged 1 year. They have a home in Birchwood Gardens and Craig's hobby is his lawn and flowers.

Donald Craig is a First Class Patrolman and his friends and associates describe him as a quiet, steady and dependable fellow.

JUNIOR WOMEN TO HEAR PSYCHIATRIST

The Cape Henry Jr. Woman's Club will present a Mental Health Program on February 17th at 8:00 p.m. in the Princess Anne High School auditorium. Dr. John Furr, a Norfolk psychiatrist, will be the speaker for the evening.

Dr. Furr will explain how everyday tensions are related to the cause of mental illness, acquaint us with signs of the disease, and advise of ways in which we can help overcome it.

The program will be free and open to the public.

A recent meeting of the club began with a tour through Willis H. Furr's office and a business meeting at the home of Mrs. H. O. Freeman, President of the Cape Henry Jr. Woman's Club.

How long since your Savings Account got a raise?

Suppose you're getting $100 a week and saving $10 or two per cent, and along comes a $20 raise. To maintain the saving percentage, obviously you must put aside a tenth of the raise, making your weekly savings $12.

That's the real cost of progress and success—stepping up savings to income increases. That and regularity, of course.

Suburbia Today

THE MAGAZINE OF PLEASANT PLACES

Published Monthly

In This Issue...

Art Buchwald

... page 7

To the millions who read him and laugh, Art Buchwald has become known as the American in Paris. Now he tells how to get a child's hair cut the easy way: only a single day's effort, and it costs no more than $10.50, not counting wear and tear.

Ilka, that is—actress, wit, writer, lecturer, and TV personality. She has already been around the world and is now writing a book about her travels, "The Carthaginian Rose," to be published next fall. We persuaded her to take time off to do the article in this issue. "If I Went Around the World Again," to make her valuable hindsight available to everyone planning (or daydreaming) a trip.

The Impudent Improvisors

"Mike Nichols is not a member of the Actors Studio, which has produced such stars as Marlon Brando, Julie Harris, Eva Marie Saint... and others too numerous to mention. He has never toured with Mr. Roberts and has never appeared on such television programs as the Goodyear Playhouse and the Kraft Theatre.

"Miss May does not exist."

In spite of this succinct biographical sketch on the back of a recent best-selling disc, Mike Nichols and Elaine May are an incomparable pair of irreverent comedians currently quipping their way through their first show on Broadway, around the grooves of two hit records, and into the pages of SUBURBIA TODAY.

Artist's House

Cartoonist Milton Caniff lives in New York, New York, in one of the most unusual and attractive suburban homes we've seen anywhere. In a chateau studio, surrounded by scores of precisely fashioned model airplanes (Caniff has been decorated twice by the Air Force), he draws the well-known Steve Canyon comic strip. Cartoonist Henry Varnum Poor designed the house, drawing on his vast knowledge of craftsmanship to make the rest of it as inspiring to creative activity as Caniff's second-floor studio.

Laura Jean Allen

No, it's not a mirage. Those happy people are all there, sipping, bathing, chatting, tanning, and having a glorious rest and a wonderful time. As our cover artist so brightly points out—it's winter-cruise season!

GETTING AROUND

... to Our Pleasant Places and People

WHATEVER ELSE you're cooking up for Valentine's Day, here is one recipe, still as good as it was 70 years ago, discovered by the Yankee Pedlar of Dover, Massachusetts, in an 1890 cookbook. It's called "How To Preserve A Husband," and the easy-to-follow directions read: "Be careful in your selection. Do not choose too young, nor too old. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others keep them in hot water; this may make them sour, hard, and sometimes bitter. But even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender, and good by garnishing them with patience. Then sweeten well with smiles, and flavor with kisses to taste. Wrap them in a mantle of charity; keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peaches and cream. When thus prepared, they will keep for years."

Sign in a Santa Monica, California, shop: "We Are Selling Dresses For Ridiculous Figures."

Some "Texas" stories are all too true. On a highway being built near Grand Prairie, Texas, they've got a concrete mixer so big that a whole crew of construction workers has to work at top speed to keep even a couple of steps ahead of it. The more-than-three-stories-tall mixer hops along, waiting for trucks to back up onto it and dump sand. That concrete is casually mixed, using water from the machine's own supply, and poured onto the waiting roadbed—while the harried help hurries to keep up with its "Texas-sized" production.

Near Westgate, Florida, the Meridian Daylight Masonic Lodge holds its meetings at 4 A.M. (The Daylighters are night workers, in case you're wondering.)

When the student council of the Greyslake, Illinois, High School put on a "Bundt Days" drive for the Serve The Children Federation, it also put up $25 for the clean bringing in the most cast-off clothing. The prize was an added incentive for all. The satisfaction of helping others and the hope of helping themselves—a double character builder for these young people—is an approach to charity we'd like to recommend to other groups contemplating similar campaigns.

There's a motel on the Burford Highway near Durwoody, Georgia, that is, so far as we know, the only one in the world that caters to its patrons' spiritual needs as well as providing them lodgings for the night. The owners of this motel have built a small chapel, right next to the motel units, in which their guests are welcome to hold services... or just use for quiet meditation.

Now that Edith Cook, of Jefferson County, Colorado, has been named Executive Secretary of the Colorado Licensed Beverage Association, may we, we hope, be the first to suggest that the title be changed to "Chief Cookie and Bottle Watcher?"

From an Oakwood, near Dayton, Ohio, source comes the following bit of good news: Instead of plunging candles into the icing of a birthday cake, try placing small marshmallows around the outside of the cake, on the plate itself, and use these as candleholders. They're an extra attraction, and the kids can eat all the ones that don't get dripped on.

Prize winner or pet, Ken-L-Biskit brings out the best in your dog

Concentrated Ken-L-Biskit provides twice the power of lean beefsteak!

"Ken-L-Biskit is a concentrated libble. Ounce for ounce, it provides twice the calories (energy-power) of the most flavorful lean beefsteak you can feed your family. And unlike so many other dry dog foods, Ken-L-Biskit is not "blown up." This means, cup for cup, there's more protein, more vitamins, more minerals; more of every nutrient your dog is known to need.

Because Ken-L-Biskit does so much more, you can feed less of it. Hence a most happy economy. And slow oven baking enriches the great flavor of Ken-L-Biskit. Makes for best digestibility, too.

Since every bit of every bite works to create the peak condition and wonderful spirit of a champion, it's no wonder Ken-L-Biskit is the world's largest-selling kibbled dog food! Now available at your favorite food store.

A few years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Johnson, of Everett, Washington, gave their son Clay a Shetland pony. Clay, who must have been around six at the time, decided it was time to go into business, so he awkwardly lettered a sign, PONY RIDES, 10¢, and mailed it to the postoffice. Within half an hour, the first customer was at the door with 25¢ in his small hand. As time went on, Clay's younger sister came into the business, and they made enough money to buy a mare and begin breeding their ponies—half Shetland and half Arabian—to accommodate a growing clientele. Now, at 14 and 12, they have 35 ponies and 15 acres of riding trails. They also sell ponies or rent them out for children's parties. Although Mr. Johnson, Sr. is advisor, the children do their own bookkeeping, take entire care of the stock, and have made enough money through this remarkable enterprise to see them through and well beyond their college years.

It's a comfort to know that Master Sergeant Elwood Miracle has been assigned as food technician in the Fort Monroe, Virginia, mess hall.

The happy citizens of Rockport, Missouri, don't have to pay any taxes this year. Mr. and Mrs. George Opp, owners of the Rockport Hotel, mailed a check to the town clerk, Mr. William Cocken, in the amount of $19,209.00, which covered the bill of all 582 taxpayers. The Opps did it because they "just wanted to help everybody."

With midyear report cards upon us, what about the Nyack, New York, scholar who was asked by his parents to give an accounting of how he'd done during the just-finished school term. "Just like George Washington," he mumbled. "How's that?" asked Mom. "Well," he told them as he stared at the floor, "I went down in history."

Mrs. Deane Armstrong writes from Laguna Beach, California, to tell us about her little grandson who, one day, was perched on a stool beside the card table watching a friendly game between his mommy and daddy. Daddy, losing monotonously, began to cheat, whereupon Mommy laughingly objected, messed up the cards, and called off the game. The young fellow looked at the cards for a while, then picking up as many as he could handle, he started dealing, saying proudly, "I'm Daddy. I cheat."

"How come you have ulcers, and you're a failure?"

Most bus drivers manage to be courteous, but one particular man was so helpful and considerate that a woman passenger could stand it no longer and asked, as they approached Surrey, New Jersey, "How come you're so polite?" and the man replied, "I once read about a fellow whose politeness got him a lot of dough from a rich man's will. It made me think the same thing could happen to me, so I started treating passengers as if each one might be the fellow who'd leave me something some day. And do you know, it makes me feel so good that I don't care if I never get a cent!"

Classes for diabetics and their families are being held at the Oakland County, Michigan, health center. The classes are open to people who have written approval from their doctors and will cover diet, insulin technique, and personal hygiene.

Residents of Takoma Park, Wheaton, Kensington, Maryland, and environs can dial PO 2-5454 each day and listen to a short recording giving the latest in garden information.

Called "Tip-A-Phone," the service operates 24 hours a day, with the messages changing each day at noon. Sample messages: "Lava Grabs," "Pruning Ornaments and Shade Trees," "Burdwood Troubles and Their Care," and "Leaf Drop on Evergreen." On Monday mornings from 8 A.M. to 12 noon there's a five-day weather forecast.

Things get done a lot better when creatures work together, don't they? Witness the community project enacted by a group of quail during a heavy snowstorm, near Adelstein Hill, Kansas. During the height of the storm, five of the birds were seen huddled at the foot of a locust tree. Every once in a while, two would fly into the tree and knock seed pods down for the others, who pecked out the seeds on the snow. Then the positions were reversed and the "skit" continued.

How we retired in 15 years with $300 a month

"We'd never be out here in California today, financially independent and happy, if it hadn't been for what happened back in Scarsdale the night of my fortieth birthday in 1946. Nell had got tickets for 'Oklahoma!' While she dozed that night, I was idly leafing through a magazine.

"I suppose any man feels serious when he hits forty. Someday Nell and I wanted to move out where it's summer all year and really enjoy life. But how could we? Half my working years had gone. I had a good salary. But we found it hard to bank anything.

"As I turned the pages, an ad caught my eye. It said a man could retire on an income without a big bank account through the Phoenix Mutual Retirement Income Plan. I could get a guaranteed income of $300 a month when I reached fifty-five—not just for myself alone, but as long as either Nell or I lived. It sounded like the answer to my problem.

"I clipped the coupon in the ad, and mailed it on our way to the theater.

"Well, a while back, my fifty-fifth birthday arrived. I was all set to retire, and it wasn't long before my first Phoenix Mutual check for $300 came. So we sold the Scarsdale house and headed west to begin the life we dreamed about. We're in a beautiful spot here, just right for us. And every month we get another check. Security? Why, we have more than lots of rich people. You see, our income is guaranteed for life!"

The Father's Duty

Who else has the strength to take a six-year-old to the barbershop?

BY ART BUCHWALD

"ALL RIGHT THEN, why don't you take him to get a haircut?"

The speaker was my wife. The statement was made after a long-drawn-out discussion that I made the mistake of starting by simply saying, "The kid needs a haircut."

The kid, it turns out, is six years old and he still can't tell the difference between barbers and doctors. They both wear white smocks and they both have thousands of torture instruments at their disposal. The first time the kid went to a barber he pulled down his pants and waited for the hypodermic needle.

Another time he went to the doctor's office and told the doctor he wanted his hair cut real short.

In either case, he refuses to give them his business. His mother showed me one of the women's magazines whose lead articles, written by "well-known child psychiatrists," are always trying to prove that, with the best of intentions, parents are driving their children into mental homes, manic-depressions, and child marriage.

This particular magazine pointed out that it was the father's duty to take the male child to the barber. Haircuts are tied up with masculinity, and when the mother takes the child to a barber and the child has a tantrum, he is really revolting against his mother and not the barber, or some jazz like that.

Anyway, there is no point in this modern world in arguing with a child psychiatrist, and I settled the discussion by agreeing to take the boy to the barber.

You would think he would have been overjoyed when he heard the news, but he would have none of it. Then I showed him the article but he did what I originally wanted to do. He tore the article out of the book and ripped it into shreds.

I had to use strong paternal action. "If you go to the barber with me, I'll buy you a toy."

"What kind of toy?" he asked, realizing he was in a strong bargaining position.

"A big toy!" I shouted. "What kind of a slob do you think I am?"

"Will you buy Connie and Jennifer toys, also?" he asked, now bargaining for his younger sisters.

"Sure, why not? Then we'll stop by Cartier's and pick up a diamond bracelet for your mother, and then we'll go over and get a new Citroën for the nurse. There is no telling where we'll stop."

The next morning, bright and early, the two of us took off for the barber. He insisted on going to the same barber I always went to. My barber, for some reason I've never been able to figure out, only takes people on appointment. It's harder to get into his shop than it is to get into Yale, and it's almost as expensive.

When we walked in the barber was surprised to see us.

"You didn't make an appointment," he said.

"It's not for me; it's for my son." The barber went white. "I don't go into the Algerian section at night. I don't drive over fifty miles an hour in a car. I don't start fights in cafés, and I don't cut children's hair."

I slipped him five hundred francs. "Make an exception. Who will ever know?"

"All the neighbors will know. The doctor who looks at the toothmarks in my arm will know. The man who sits in this chair after the boy will know. Please take him somewhere else."

I slipped him another five hundred francs. "I've never asked you for anything before. I'll send you customers. I'll print your picture in the paper, I'll wash your car. Please."

"All right, but only this one time."

Before the barber could change his mind I grabbed the boy and stuck him in the chair.

The minute the barber pulled out his scissors the boy let out a scream which brought three bus loads of Gardes Republicaines who thought the paratroopers had landed in Paris.

The boy fought as well as a paratrooper, and the barber couldn't get near his head.

"Perhaps," the barber said, "if you left he would calm down. Come back in a half-hour."

I grabbed a copy of La Vie Parisienne and went to a sidewalk café to look at the dirty pictures.

In a half-hour I returned. The barber was just finishing the job. The boy was smiling and seemed to be very happy.

"How did you tame him?" "I have a way with children," the barber said.

I helped the boy on with his jacket, and then I went to pay the bill. It came to 2,100 francs ($5.00).

"Twenty-one hundred francs?" I shouted. Three more Garde Republicaine trucks pulled up outside.

"For just a haircut?"

"For a haircut and a shampoo and eau de Cologne, and a massage, and hair oil."

"Who told you to give him all that?"

"I asked him if he wanted them and he said he did. What could I do?"

I dragged the boy out of the shop and he led me to a toy shop. Then I had to buy him an orange juice. The haircut with the toys and extras cost me exactly $10.50. It's a point the child psychiatrists forgot to mention.

The other point is, at those prices, if there is a choice between the child or the father becoming a manic-depressive over haircuts, I think the head of the family must be spared.

NOW OF ALL TIMES—with policy moves of the new Administration in Washington vying for attention with clamor and controversy abroad—take advantage of this opportunity to start reading TIME for not much more than a penny a day.

At the outset of his term of office, President Kennedy will be making grave decisions—decisions that will affect your family and your future. Will atom tests be resumed? What about schools, and taxes? Will there be a summit conference—or a showdown on Berlin?

In other news capitals around the world, there is quickened pace and urgency in the news.

And nowhere is all the important news more clearly, accurately, vividly reported than in TIME. It explores the background and significance of events, builds insight and perspective on this rapidly changing world of 1961.

One magazine—TIME—and you know what's being voted and planned and played and shot into the skies. And why, and by whom. In issue after issue, TIME brings you the news of treaties and agreements and international meetings, of conferences and politics and economics—told as straight and clear and true as experienced, knowledgeable newsmen can make it.

TIME also brings you the fascinating stories so easy to miss: intriguing items about people... fascinating breakthroughs in science... significant sidelights on business... amusing incidents that never break into the headlines.

If I Went Around The

The famous wit and author hits the high spots... with names and addresses

BY ILKA CHASE

author of "Three Men On The Left Hand," "Free Admission"

IN CONTEMPLATING a trip around the world the first problem that usually arises is which way shall we go, east or west? Either way the distance will be the same, so what are the factors to be taken into consideration in coming to a decision?

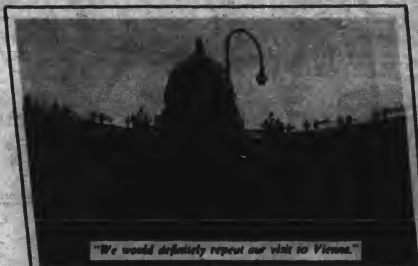

My husband and I pondered the problem and ended up by heading east. Western Europe we know relatively well, and we reasoned that coming back to it from the more exotic and unknown lands of the Orient might perhaps be something of an anticlimax, whereas going the other way, our interest and expectation could only keep mounting. And if we went again, east is the way we'd go.

After a three-day stopover in Paris we flew to Vienna, which for us was unexplored territory. It is a delightful city and should you be planning to go there in June, there is one major suggestion I would make. Try to reserve tickets for the opera through your travel agency in this country long before you leave. June is festival season and true aficionados book places a year and two years in advance, so that if you arrive without them you stand a dandy chance of not getting in. For one who prides herself on being something of a sophisticated world traveler, it is humiliating to admit that shy husband, the good doctor, and I were like hungry waifs pressing our noses against the pastry cook's window.

We had to stand in the street watching music lovers who knew the ropes, and had squirreled away their tickets in advance, filing serenely in while we remained without, seatless and unbung.

FORTUNATELY, that is the only department in which we did go hungry. If you are hungry in Vienna you are either sorrowfully poor or on a diet. Not only are there extremely good restaurants—the food at the Drei Hussaren, the Imperial Hotel, and the less swank but highly satisfying Deutsches Haus is excellent—but there are coffee shops guaranteed to satisfy the soul and bulge the waistline.

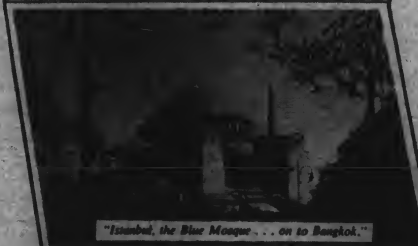

I recommend Demels on the Kohlmarkt and the Konditorei Lehmann. Their restoratives will perk up the most jaded sightseer—Kaffee mit Schlag, that cloud of sweet whipped cream and little cakes and tiny roll sandwiches and wild strawberry tarts. There is also, of course, Austrian beer.

"We would definitely repeat our visit to Vienna."

"Athena and the Aegean cruise... incomparable."

"Istanbul, the Blue Mosque... on to Bangkok."

"Fantastic Bangkok, a highlight of the trip."

You must try Goner, it's the top.

We would definitely repeat our visit to Schöbrunn, the superb white and gold palace where Maria Theresa and her sixteen children lived and where, one assumes, Pa was allowed to shelter, too. And we would reserve at least two mornings for the Kunsthistorisches Museum, one of the great treasure houses of the world. It has an enormous gallery full of Brueghels and there are Cranachs and Rembrandts and the great Vermeer, The Artist In His Atelier, his back to the viewer, painting the girl in blue. There are Rubens, Frans Hals, Memling, and the giants from the south—Tizian, Tintoretto, and Veronese. Go.

The Redoutensaal is another delight. This elegant concert hall in the Imperial Palace was once a ballroom and today is devoted exclusively to the music and operas of Mozart.

A musical experience we would not repeat, on the other hand, is the Volksoper. We saw Wiener Blut by Johann Strauss. In our naïveté we thought we couldn't go wrong on Strauss. Live and learn. It was a shoddy, ham, inept performance.

NOT TO BE MISSED is the Spanische Reit- schule, the Riding School that was founded in 1565, where the beautiful white stallions called Lipizzaner perform on Sunday. This is a haute école of equestrianism, dressage riding, in which the horses and their centaur riders go through a kind of ballet of galts and patterns accompanied by music. It is a beautiful spectacle and takes place in an enormous oblong three-storied white and gold hall illuminated by superb crystal chandeliers.

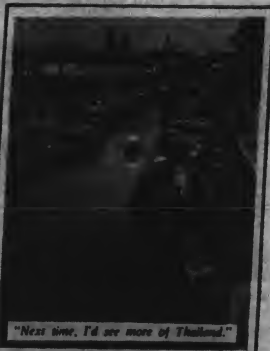

From Vienna, we flew to Athens and will surely take that route again. Athens, I think, can never be a disappointment.

The Acropolis still rates as one of the incomparable sights of the world, and after thousands of pictures and millions of words, seeing it for the first time, one is still left speechless by the serene, enduring splendor of the ruined Parthenon and the other superbly proportioned temples of the height. The honey-colored columns embrace the deep blue sky, and to stand looking out over the city and the Attic plain is a moving and unique experience. Athens has its temples, museums, and tavernas, the small restaurants that are counterparts of the bistros of Paris, and where the food is excellent. But the great treat of Greece is a cruise of the islands of the Aegean. Small but comfortable steamers make the trip which lasts five days and takes you to Crete, Rhodes, Kos, Patmos, and Mykonos. It is a delicious, unforgettable adventure. You go sight-seeing on all the islands, live on the boat, and depending on your accommodations, the price, including food for the entire trip, ranges from $75 to $150. You will never get greater reward for your money.

It is something I hope to do not only once again but often.

Our stop after Athens was Istanbul, and from there we made the long hop to Bangkok, which proved one of the highlights of the trip with its fantastic temples and domes. The Oriental Hotel is the most picturesque, located on the banks of the wide, winding Chao Phya River. It is comfortable, colorful, and air-conditioned, but the Hotel Erewan, although more commercial, has better food. There is an excellent restaurant serving Thai, Chinese, and European food, called the Palace.

There is a city in the north of Thailand called Chiangmai. It is in the jungle and is the place where the elephants work. If I ever get to that part of the world again I shall certainly make time to visit it, for I love the great beasts, and they say it's a fine sight to see them going about their chores with intelligence and ability.

FROM BANGKOK, an enormously rewarding side trip is to the vast jungle temples of Angkor Wat and Angkor Thom. Their towers are carved in the form of gigantic human heads, and the bas-relief carvings on the wall are marvelously entertaining as well as beautiful. The temples are located in the jungle in Siemreap in Cambodia, and you can fly there from Bangkok in about an hour. The hotel where you stay is almost hilariously bad, but it won't kill you for a night or two, and the great wats, built by the Khmers in the 12th century and rediscovered only in the last, are well worth the discomfort.

If we were retracing our steps I think we would skip Djakarta in Indonesia. It is beautiful country, and if one wants to go to Bali as we did you perform go to Djakarta, but at the present time the political situation is uncertain, the accommodations awful.

Suddenly, you're a gondolier!

Well, you almost are! But that's what being in Italy feels like. Whether you're coffee-ing on the Via Veneto in Rome, ambling through the handkerchief-size piazza on Capri, or gliding down a Venetian canal...you're part of the gay life around you. Italy is yours, as it were.

Yours, too, will be the pleasure of jetting there aboard BOAC. The "life" aboard a BOAC jetliner is beyond compare. Take the service, for instance. It's called the best in the world...all over the world. Justifiably you'll agree.

About the price. It's really a trifle considering the fun you'll have. The 17-day Excursion Fare is in effect now, so you'll pay as little as $350 Economy Class round-trip New York to London by jet; $484.30 to Rome. Even less on the jet-prop Britannia.

So, why not suddenly feel like a gondolier...or a bagpiper...or a matador. It's "easy as BOAC" to jet to the proper surroundings. And your Travel Agent makes it even easier. Ask him.

At last! A new, safe crabgrass control that really works . . . stamps out crabgrass before it gets a start . . . harmless to lawn grasses . . . contains no dangerous arsenic or other metallic poisons that can kill birds, harm pets.

New Rid—with Dacthal W-50—kills the sprouting seed . . . and lets you clean up your lawn at a sensible price.

Put it on right now to make sure it's there and working when the seeds sprout. You'll prevent crabgrass all summer without expensive repeat applications as with other chemicals.

Do it more effectively, too. Extensive lawn tests at leading state universities prove new Rid is better than 95% effective; goes farther, too!

A single bag treats 25% more lawn at less cost per bag than typical controls available until now.

Get Rid wherever garden supplies are sold. Put it on right now. And say goodbye to crabgrass problems this summer.

FACE TO FACE

A little visit with the impolite darlings

"DON'T YOU LOVE to lie? I don't think there's anything better than making up stories. Ask me anything," said Miss Elaine May, the morning we met her.

"The only thing I worship is the truth," said Mr. Mike Nichols, with a sober, serious, sincere glance at his partner.

The pair were "on," which in the folk dictionary of The Best means "to perform, to act, to make believe . . . whether it is on the stage or in a large group or simply making small talk with a friend or acquaintance."

They are "on" in their show, "An Evening With Mike Nichols and Elaine May" (one of the year's smash hits on Broadway); in their television appearances; in their night-club stints, and in the many stories about them that appear everywhere these days. It is rumored that they perform 24 hours a day, never use a writer but make up their material as they go along. They are reportedly the most talented, funny, and quick exponents of devastating ad lib satire in show business today.

After spending a few minutes with them, we were ready to tell the world that all these stories were true. By the time it was over, we couldn't even tell you our own name and doubt whether that really mattered, because we'd had a wonderful time.

Armed with a raft of serious questions, we had come to get the real story. The Truth (not like the interviewer who once asked Miss May her measurements. She replied 24-35-12 1/2).

The facts that were reasonably reliable were that Mike had been born in Berlin on November 6, 1931, the son of a Jewish physician and grandson of Gustav Landauer, a Social-Democratic leader who had been killed by the Nazis. His family came to the U.S. in the late '30s, where Mike went to a number of schools, worked at everything—dishwashing, waiting on tables, day labor—and ended up at the University of Chicago, where he met Elaine in 1953.

Elaine was born in Philadelphia on April 21, 1932, the daughter of actor Jack Berlin. She spent her childhood in and out of many schools—none of which she liked—and traveling about the country with her family. At fourteen, her formal education ended, and she went to work. She took acting lessons from Maria Ouspenskaya, who taught the Stanislavski method. Elaine remembers that the hardest thing to learn was how to be an apple—and ripe. Everybody else in the class could ripen, but she just stood there and could not feel the sun or the juices flowing or the color changing. She claims that it is her major frustration. Everyone else ripened and fell off the tree but she.

She also went, informally, to the University of Chicago—not as a matriculated student, but she did sit in on some classes, where, one fine day, she was introduced to Mike.

Separately, they were just talented, witty people. Together, they discovered, they had the ability to do anything and make audiences react to it. They began working together, first in Chicago with the Playwrights Theatre, then with the Compass, a group that did improvisations in St. Louis clubs.

They came to New York two years ago, flat broke, in the traditional showbiz pattern, but had arranged to audition for agent Jack Rollins at the Russian Tea Room. He was so impressed he booked them into the Village Vanguard. From there they moved to the Blue Angel, and the rest is history, with chapters on night clubs, hit records, Town Hall, TV, and the theatre.

NOW, WE THOUGHT, the day we sat down with them for a quiet chat, we will find out a lot more . . . but they were having none of it. This is how it went:

We: Do you own a car?

Elaine: Several. I have a maroon Rolls Royce with pace upholstery. I use it for marketing. I have a Porsche for pleasure. I like my chauffeurs in white uniforms with a maroon accent to lend them a touch of color. Occasionally, I like a mustard uniform with warm green accents as a contrast.

Mike: I used to drive but no longer own a car.

We: Do you own a fur coat?

Elaine: I have seven fur coats—an ocelot, two beavers, two chinchillas . . .

We: Two chinchillas?

Elaine: Yes. It was raining one day, and I wanted to have something to throw over my mink. I have only one mink. I feel that mink is gauche. And, oh yes, I have one coat made entirely of unborn hamster pelts.

Mike: Yesterday I tore the lining in the knee of my pants.

We: What is your apartment like?

Elaine: My home is done in lipstick red. Everything is lipstick red, including the furniture, the walls, the linens, and towels.

Mike: My apartment is white, beige, and wood.

We: Elaine, we read somewhere that you have an organ in your home. Do you play?

Elaine: Actually, I don't, but my maid is a brilliant organist. She originally planned a career on the concert stage, but the training was too costly, so she quit Juillard and went to work. She plays Bach and some of Handel. We do not allow her to play until the house is clean.

We: Do you have any hobbies?

Elaine: I like to fish.

Mike: I do not believe in planning ahead.

We: Mike, do you still have that St. Bernard we've heard so much about?

Mike: No, Maggie is now living quietly in the suburbs, in New Jersey, with two or three children and other large dogs.

We: Is there any truth to the story that you write in your spare time, Elaine? We hear that you want to be a writer.

Elaine: Yes, I have written Memoirs of a Dutiful Daughter, The Assistant, and The Red and the Black.

We: Did it take you a long time to write The Red and the Black?

Elaine: No, I wrote it quickly, and then I left it pretty much alone for six or eight months. It needed no revisions.

We: Do you have a clothing philosophy?

Elaine: I do not believe in sport clothes. I dress very formally. I have clothes made for every conceivable occasion by Enrico Casuso. When my maid plays the organ, I like to wear a simple at-home outfit in lipstick red.

We: Are you planning any new skits about the suburbs?

Elaine: There is nothing new to say about the suburbs. To do scenes on the suburbs is like doing scenes on Madison Avenue. They have been mauled and worked over enough already.

We: Do people recognize you on the street now?

Elaine: No.

Mike: No.

We: Do you get much fan mail?

Elaine: Mostly about Michael.

Mike: Elaine does not use a typewriter. She is one of the last believers in the personal note.

We: Thank you very much Elaine.

Elaine: Hasn't this been a wonderful, productive interview?

We (dizzy): Thank you very much, Mike.

Mike: Isn't the truth dull?

In skillet: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Cream of Chicken Soup, Lima beans, ham, Minute Rice. Garnish with small wedges of Cheddar cheese. Suggestion: try this one with Heinz Cream of Mushroom Soup sometime. You'll like it!

In skillet: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Tomato Soup, succotash, meat balls, Minute Rice. For a delightful variation, try this with Heinz Cream of Chicken Soup—in either casserole or skillet. Easy? Twenty minutes does it.

Pour-On: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Cream of Mushroom Soup, peas, canned salmon. Pour in center of Minute Rice ring. No matter what Heinz Condensed Soup, meat, fish or vegetable you use—it's perfect every time.

tempting 20-minute meals (plus many more)

Basic recipe for 4... Combine 1 can Heinz Condensed Soup (undiluted), $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups hot water, 1 cup cooked vegetables, 1 cup of cooked or canned meat, poultry or sea food. Add Minute Rice according to cooking method. Cook in any of these 3 ways...

SKILLET... Add $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups Minute Rice (right out of the box without cooking) to soup mixture, bring to a boil and simmer 5 minutes.

CASSEROLE... Bring soup mixture to a boil and pour half into a $1\frac{1}{2}$ -quart casserole. Add $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups Minute Rice (right out of the box without cooking). Then add remaining soup. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) for 10 minutes.

POUR-ON... Prepare $1\frac{1}{4}$ cups Minute Rice as directed on box. Prepare the soup mixture, reducing water to $\frac{1}{4}$ cup. Bring to a boil and pour over rice.

In casserole: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Cream of Mushroom Soup, cut green beans, corned beef, Minute Rice. Garnish with French fried onion rings. Just as delicious using any of the 3 cooking methods—different every time.

Pour-On: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Tomato Soup, mixed vegetables, sliced frankfurters. Pour over fluffy Minute Rice, à la king. Vary this by substituting canned corn and ham. Beats leaping through a cookbook!

In skillet: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Cream of Chicken Soup, asparagus tips, chicken, Minute Rice. Garnish with whole black olives. Another good combination: Heinz Tomato Soup, wax beans, salmon and Minute Rice.

In skillet: Follow basic recipe, using Heinz Cream of Mushroom Soup, French-style green beans, shrimp, Minute Rice. Garnish with lemon slices. Change the meat, the vegetable, the fish, the soup in any of these dishes—new recipe!

Let's Stop Slamming

Even grownups need a good "self-image—" and so

"OUR KIDS ARE GETTING a rough ride," says Mr. Arthur E. Wolters, Superintendent of Schools in the pleasant Chicago suburb of Highland Park, Illinois. "We are pinning something on them all the time."

It is coming from all directions. Social scientists tell us that suburban young people today are coddled and conformist, over-protected and overorganized. Magazines and newspapers have been devoting considerable space to describing how immature and irresponsible they are in spite of all their advantages—the good schools they go to, their pleasant houses, and their supposedly healthy environment. The same negative approach was apparent even at the last White House Conference on Children and Youth.

Is the life our children lead really so damaging? And isn't it possible that another kind of damage may be done, not by suburban living but by presenting only one side of a picture, and perhaps the least typical? Psychologists agree that how we are seen has a profound influence on how we grow up. We all need a good "self-image" if we can manage to find one.

In the case of these "coddled" and "conformist" children of ours I suspected that, prophets of doom to the contrary, a very good image was also there if you wanted to look for it. So like the reporters and social scientists before me, I picked on a thriving, typical suburb—Highland Park—and set out to interview young people themselves and those who have had years of close association with them, their school administrators and teachers and social-service workers. What do they think about the way the children are growing up?

"There's seems to be some mislady that beats people who study suburbia," says Mrs. Martha Winch, director of a non-profit family-counseling agency, which is active in Highland Park. "They look us over, talk with many of us, and see only what is not going as well as it might. This is then reported, solemnly or sensationlly, to the exclusion of the countless good things that surround us. It appears that we are a sad lot, indeed, with our children falling apart at the seams. In my own experience and that of this agency, most of the young people exhibit a great deal of strength and good sense. I would bet my last dollar on the lot of them." I found the school administrators in hearty agreement.

"Actually," said one of them, "the young people today are superior to their elders, more intelligent, and profit by our mistakes. They have more opportunities than we did and are trying to take advantage of them."

JUDGING FROM the enterprises at the Highland Park High School, the immature, irresponsible teenager must be in a minority. The students have developed their own "No-Accs" program which, according to police officials, has contributed greatly to traffic safety; they have an honors program to discourage cheating; and in the past year they created 11 college scholarships awarded on the basis of need and academic ability. Money for these projects had to be earned through their own efforts by selling refreshments at games, putting on a yearly dinner and variety show, and selling magazine subscriptions, to mention a few of the means. They have also been bringing over two foreign exchange students every year to attend their high school. Again, they earn the necessary money themselves, by operating a snack bar after school from 3:30 to 4:00 p.m. This is run by the student council, and it delegates one night a week to clean it up.

"All these ideas originated with the kids," says Leslie Libakken, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. "No one told them what to do. I've seen these girls and boys on their hands and knees doing every kind of menial task. That's not my definition of being 'coddled.'"

The word "coddling" deserves comment. There is much confusion around words these days, and they get in the way of ideas. A writer

How more than 850,000 lawn owners have licked their crabgrass problems with Halts®

Introduced by Scotts in the late fall of 1958, Halts has worked wonders—even in hardest hit areas. You apply it before crabgrass sprouts.

"WE HAD exceptional results with Halts in our back yard last year," writes a lady in St. Louis. "It even convinced my skeptical husband."

"Halts did a wonderful job for me on a particularly stubborn crabgrass-covered front lawn," reports L. J. of Cranston, Rhode Island.

We get letters like these every day of the year, from grateful people who have finally discovered the way to keep crabgrass from ruining their lawns.

The way is astonishingly simple. It takes less than half an hour for the average lawn. Yet it gives results that no amount of hard work could equal.

Halts is an invisible barrier

Each summer crabgrass comes up, chokes out good grass—then re-seeds itself and dies. Halts stops this vicious cycle. It creates a barrier on the soil's surface that prevents crabgrass seeds from coming up.

With the accurate Scotts Spreader, you quickly blanket the entire lawn with tiny Halts granules. Each particle is more than a match for the wildest crabgrass plant. Halts lies in wait, then strikes as crabgrass sprouts. Halts also destroys grubs, drives moles and skunks away.

When is the right time to apply Halts? The earlier the better. A good time is the first nice afternoon.

"I used Halts..."

"Early in the spring I used Halts which I found very effective except for the rows that I missed with the spreader," writes a lawn owner in Winchester, Virginia: (Scotts summer crabgrass control, Clout®, makes short work of such occasional escapes.)

"Last spring when I used Halts," reports Mr. W. G. of Albany, N. Y., "I got the horse laugh from a lot of people who said there wasn't anything that would prevent crabgrass. But now they see and agree that Halts can do it. My neighbors' lawns are infested with crabgrass and on my side, there is not one single plant!"

Halts doesn't harm grass

Halts is death to crabgrass, yet it has the unique ability to let good grass sprout unharmed.

Think what that means. You can sow Scotts seed (and give it the balanced Turf Builder® feeding it needs) on the very same day you apply Halts. No danger to the seed. And no delay in seeding.

This is a good example of the way Scotts research has created products that work together—in a program—to make a better lawn simple and sure.

in a critical vein recently gave as an example of cuddling, the case of a boy whose parents drove him on his newspaper route in bad weather. As one school administrator put it:

"What's wrong with this? Why should we go back to the days when we had no cars and had to wade hip-deep in snow to deliver a paper? I know my parents would have driven me if they'd had a car."

Conformity is another word bandied freely these days. Is conformity necessarily bad? Organized society would disintegrate without conformity. It is a protective social trait.

"We mistake our children's conformity of dress and manners for the kind of conformity about which we should really worry," says Mrs. Winch. "They have their fads of socks, shoes, telephoning, and teen-talk, to be sure. And so did we, didn't we? There's nothing new about teen-age fads. It's only the subjects that change. Benny Goodman in their parents' day, the Kingston Trio today."

This kind of conformity does not eliminate creativity. As one teacher put it, "A girl can have a fine creative idea while wearing bobby socks."

AS IF our children weren't in trouble enough, they are also found to be under pressure from their parents to be "superachievers." The feelings of the young people about this can be summed up in the words of one boy.

"The pressure to achieve," he said, "comes mostly from within ourselves. Of course, our parents want us to go to good colleges, and we want to go to good colleges. We know we can't get into college unless we get good grades. To do this we have to work. I don't see anything wrong with working."

It is one of the "positives" of suburban living that the children have the finest opportunity for an education that one can find anywhere, says Mrs. Winch.

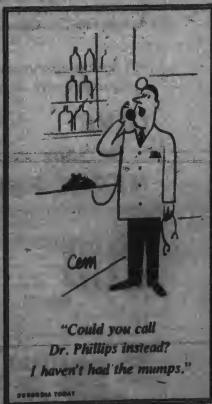

"Facilities are outstanding. The student body is unusually intelligent and provides a challenge in itself. The children in suburbia have their essential strengths are one of the main reasons why people move to the suburbs, and having moved there, wish to remain."

Representatives from colleges throughout the U.S., visiting at Highland Park High School to advise students about their future education, were asked to comment on suburban teen-agers. The reply of Mrs. Adelaide Francis of the University of Kansas City was typical of their point of view.

"I've visited 200 high schools in the last year," she said, "and found little difference in teen-agers no matter where they lived. They are, by and large, a wonderful bunch of kids—serious and realistic. As for being indulged, they don't ask whether we have fancy modern dormitories, but who is on the faculty. They're much better prepared than we were to go to college."

Why then has the negative image been shown so much more often than the positive? An attack, to be sure, is always stronger than a defense, especially in print, and what goes wrong is more dramatic than what goes right. It made a good story, for instance, in one national magazine, to cite as an example of suburban indulgence and extravagance, the junior high-school student who tried to pay for his lunch with a $50 bill, "which his mother had handed him without hesitation." What the writer did not mention (if indeed he ever checked into it) was that the boy had been taught to save and invest in stocks and bonds and in doing so had made the money for himself. As a joke he brought the $50 bill to the school cafeteria to see what the cashier would say, when he dropped it casually on the counter. Her response was not casual. So untypical was the situation that the cashier in alarm reported it to the school principal who immediately telephoned the boy's mother to inquire if she knew that her son had such a large sum of money. He was only showing off, as any boy will—an isolated, untypical gesture that was used to bolster the point of view the author intended to take.

As one boy on the student council of Highland Park High School puts it,

"If you come out to look for something wrong in the suburbs so you can write about it, you'll find it. If you look for something right, you'll find it instead."

THE FLOOD of recent criticism might lead one to believe that the suburbs are something new. The suburbs have been with us since the Romans made up the word. And it should be remembered that some very fine citizens have been coming out of them for many years. Thirty years ago, for example, when Highland Park was much more a one-class community than it is today, it turned out such distinguished men as Jonathan Wainwright, Mark Clark, Terry Allen, and Omar Bradley. More recent products have distinguished themselves in a wide variety of fields, as atomic physicists, lawyers, doctors, teachers, social workers, and leaders in many major industries. Many of them, with the world to choose from, have preferred to come back to live and raise their children in the community in which they grew up.

With all respect to serious social scientists, one must remember that theirs is not a precise science, a fact which they readily admit. They can only point to trends and show us the wisdom of widening our children's horizons through books, through certain movies and TV programs, through visits to the city, and other means.

So far, we can all agree. Sound criticism is one thing, and how can we expect to make things better for our children if we don't listen to it? But let us, as best we can, try to see the whole picture, the over-all qualities as well as the occasional defects. And let us, in the words of Mr. Wolters, "stop slamming our young people on whom so much of the future depends."

"They run this place on a shoestring."

and there is little to interest the tourist. Bali itself is still a strange, remote paradise, gentle, poor, and beautiful. Probably the best accommodations are at Jimmy Pandya's, a traveled, educated Indonesian who has turned his home, which is right on the beach, into a guest house.

The harbor of Hong Kong, our next stop, is one of the great ports of the world, a vivid, colorful, romantic city where bargains abound and where the shops and stalls and restaurants and tailors offer irresistible delights. For my own clothes I should certainly return to Zou Nan and Ying Tai. For men the doctor recommends George Chan in the Peninsula Court. We both love Benny's shoes.

If you have bought silk or jewels in Thailand, where you can get a respectable star ruby for $35, Hong Kong is the place to have a dress made or a stone set. (These shops are mostly on the Kowloon side.)

JAPAN is a fascinating country, the land and the inhabitants perpetually reproducing their own prints, but if you go as we did, purely for a tourist's visit, I should say that ten days to two weeks, at the outside, is ample. We were there for three weeks. I am not so fatuous as to assume I have now absorbed Japanese culture and need never return. One could spend a lifetime becoming acquainted with their art and philosophy and way of life. I speak purely from the point of view of an American tourist who wants to see as much of the world as the time and money at his disposal will permit.

Now that we have hindsight, I think we should have stayed our extra week in Egypt or India, two countries we were obliged to pass over. But to cut out Japan altogether would be to miss enormous charm and incomparable art. Tokyo is now the largest city in the world, but it is in the Japanese countryside and in cities like Kyoto and Osaka that one gets nearer to the Japanese people and their way of life.

When traveling in Japan, by all means stay at a native inn. The tiny, exquisite gardens opening from every room, the furnishings, the way they serve the food is a new and rewarding experience for a westerner. In Kyoto we stayed at the Tawaraya Inn, a small and cozy jewel. There is one thing, however, I would never do, and that is go back to Japan in August. It is the typhoon season, dank and sodden with rain every day. April and May, September and October, they say, are the great months.

Traveling can be disappointing, it can be exhausting, it can be costly. At certain times in certain places it can be dangerous. It can also supply the most memorable experiences of one's life. If asked if I would ever go around the world again, I could only reply, "When do we start?"

"One night on this trip I'm not sticking in the hotel room washing out this darn nylon shirt!"

The Milton Caniffs'

Designed by their neighbor, the famous

THROUGHOUT THIS HOUSE, the hand of the craftsman is in evidence. Ornamental tile work, designed for the Caniffs by ceramist Henry Varnum Poor, adorns fireplaces, floors, window sills, and even bathrooms. There is a ceramic mural over the fireplace, and ceramic flowers are strewn in welcome on the hallway floor.

The house sits on a Rockland County hilltop, looking west to the Ramapo Mountains and south to the faint skyline of New York City, thirty miles away—a happy location for an artist who works day or night in deepest concentration. Caniff's famous hero, Steve Canyon, emerges from a comfortable, cluttered second-floor studio where the cartoonist has an extra-large couch for stretching out to think and a private passageway to an ample outdoor sun deck.

Beneath the studio, a graceful expanse of plaster curves the length of the living room, around the fireplace and window bays. A variety of natural woods—maple, cypress, oak, and tulip—frames the free-flowing spaces. Floors are made of massive 12-inch planks, and the ceilings are handsomely braced by heavy oak beams. After twenty years of semiannual waxing, the wood, too, has become part of the quiet glow that is felt in every room of the Caniffs' serene and unusual house.

Esther Caniff lights up table set with two-pound dinner plates specially designed and fired by potter Henry Varnum Poor. Polished oak beams give horizontal accent to living room, rear.

One or more pleasing delicacies planned for a special occasion luncheon, a dessert-bridge, or an afternoon tea

MELANIE DE PROFT
Food Editor

DELECTABLE FILBERT BREAD

TO PREPARE: 25 MIN. TO BAKE: 55-60 MIN.

- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. (about $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups) unblanched filberts
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sifted flour
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon baking powder
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup butter
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten

1. Grate 1 cup of the filberts; finely chop the remaining nuts and mix together.

2. Sift the flour, baking powder, and salt together; gently blend with nuts and set aside.

3. Cream the butter and extract together until butter is softened. Gradually add the sugar, creaming until fluffy after each addition. Add the eggs in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition. Blend in the dry ingredients in fourths, beating until well mixed. Turn batter into aluminum foil pans* and carefully spread to corners.

4. Bake at 325°F 55 to 60 min., or until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on cooling rack 15 min. before removing from pans. Cool bread completely on cooling rack before slicing or storing. To store, wrap tightly in moisture-vapor-proof material.

Two loaves bread

*To make two 5x3x2-in. loaf pans—Cut a piece of extra heavy aluminum foil 15x9 in. Fold in half to form a rectangle 9x7½ in. Fold, using edge of ruler as a guide, each of 9-in. sides in 2¼ in. toward center. Unfold. Fold, over a ruler, each of the other sides in 2 in. toward center. Unfold. On the 9-in. side, cut along the creases 2¼ in., or to where creases make right angles. Draw up the sides to form a box. Secure the flaps on the outside by folding the top edge down and over the flaps ¼ in. Make sure that the corners are sealed and that there are no air pockets. Repeat for the second pan.

Frosty Fruit Salad, temptingly rich and generously flecked with colorful fruit, is a dessert-salad sensation.

TO PREPARE: 45 MIN.

TO FREEZE: 3-4 hrs.

- 1 cup drained pineapple tidbits (reserve syrup)
- 1 cup orange slices (1 to 2 oranges)
- 1 cup chopped pitted soft-stemmed prunes*
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced red maraschino cherries, well drained on absorbent paper
- 1 large ripe banana, sliced
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped salted almonds
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- 2 cups small-curd cream-style cottage cheese, sliced
- 1 cup thick sour cream
- 1 cup chilled whipping cream, whipped
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt

1. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over cold water; let stand 5 min. to soften; dissolve completely by placing over very hot water.

2. Blend the sour cream, whipped cream, 2 tablespoons of the reserved pineapple syrup, sugar, and salt into cottage cheese; stir the dissolved gelatin and blend into the cottage-cheese mixture. Add the fruits and nuts and mix until evenly blended. Turn into freezer trays and freeze until firm, about 3 to 4 hrs.

3. Allow salad to thaw slightly at room temperature before serving. Cut into wedges and serve with Roseate Sour Cream Dressing. (See photo.)

About 12 servings

*To soften prunes, put into a colander or sieve and set over boiling water 30 min., or until slightly softened and moist.

ROSEATE SOUR CREAM DRESSING

Blend 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry syrup with 1 cup thick sour cream; set aside in refrigerator until ready to serve.

CREAMED SWEETBREADS

TO PREPARE AND COOK: 35 MIN.

- 1 lb. sweetbreads
- 1 qt. water
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup cooked chicken pieces
- 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen green beans, cooked according to pkg. directions
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
- $\frac{1}{8}$ lb. mushrooms, cleaned and sliced lengthwise (from cap through stem)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon savory
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon celery salt
- 1 teaspoon white pepper
- 1 cup chicken broth, cooled (use 1 chicken bouillon cube and 1 cup hot water)
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup cream

1. In a large saucepan combine water, lemon juice, and the 1 teaspoon salt. Add sweetbreads, cover, and simmer 20 min. Drain, cool, and remove membranes; cut sweetbreads into pieces and set aside in refrigerator.

2. Heat $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter over low heat; add mushrooms and cook over medium heat until delicately browned, occasionally moving and turning with a spoon. Set aside.

3. Heat $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter in a saucepan over low heat; add onion and cook over medium heat until onion is soft. Blend in a mixture of the flour, salt, savory, celery salt, and pepper. Heat until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat; add chicken broth, milk, and cream gradually, stirring constantly. Return to heat and bring rapidly to boiling, stirring constantly; cook 1 to 2 min. longer.

4. Gently mix in the sweetbreads, chicken, green beans, and mushrooms. Reduce heat and stir occasionally until thoroughly heated.

5. If desired, garnish with thin green-pepper strips and diced pimiento. Turn into chafing dish and keep hot over the pan of simmering water. 6 to 8 servings

SALADE LA FETITE

TO PREPARE: 20 MIN.
TO CHILL: 2-3 HRS.

- 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ -oz. can crushed pineapple (do not drain)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lemon juice
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
- 4 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 cup grated mild Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

1. Lightly oil a 5-cup mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); drain.

2. Combine in a saucepan the pineapple, sugar, and lemon juice; bring to boiling and simmer 5 min. Cool and chill.

3. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over the cold water; let stand 5 min. to soften. Add hot water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until gelatin is slightly thicker than the consistency of thick unbeaten egg white. If chilled in the refrigerator, stir occasionally; if chilled over ice and water, stir frequently.

4. Blend the pineapple and gelatin mixtures together. Fold in the cheese and whipped cream. Turn into the mold. Chill until firm, about 2 to 3 hrs. Unmold onto a chilled serving plate and garnish with crisp salad greens.

6 to 8 servings

CHERRY SOUP

TO PREPARE: 30 MIN.

- 1 qt. water
- 2 cups (2 to 2½ lbs.) frozen sweetened tart red cherries, slightly thawed
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cold water
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
- 8 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 cup thick sour cream

1. Bring the quart of water to boiling in a large saucepan. Add cherries and salt. Bring to boiling; simmer, covered, 10 min.

2. Pour the cold water into a 1-pt. screw-top jar; add flour. Cover jar tightly; shake until blended. Stirring constantly, slowly pour flour mixture into hot cherry mixture; bring to boiling, and cook 2 to 3 min.

3. Remove from heat. Gradually add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup hot soup to the egg yolks, stirring vigorously; blend into soup. Stirring constantly, cook over low heat 3 to 5 min; do not boil. Remove from heat. Gradually add 1 cup hot soup to the sour cream, stirring vigorously. Then blend into remaining soup. Serve hot or cold.

CHERRY SOUP WITH SWEET CREAM

Follow recipe for Cherry Soup. Add a piece of stick cinnamon with cherries to boiling water; remove and discard cinnamon before adding the flour-water mixture. Substitute sweet cream for sour cream; add directly to soup, stirring constantly. Cool slightly and stir in $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon almond extract.

• Either of these fruit soups of Hungarian origin provides an unusual and refreshing first course for a ladies' luncheon.

LEMON SOUP

TO PREPARE AND COOK: 35 MIN.

- 1 qt. water
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt
- 1 piece whole cinnamon
- 4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons grated lemon peel
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lemon juice
- 2 egg whites
- 2 tablespoons sugar

1. Combine water, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar, salt, and cinnamon in a large saucepan. Bring to boiling, stirring until sugar is dissolved; cook, covered, over low heat 15 min. Remove from heat; discard cinnamon.

2. Gradually add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of the hot liquid to egg yolks, stirring constantly; blend into liquid in saucepan. Stirring constantly, cook over low heat 3 to 5 min; do not boil. Remove from heat immediately. Gradually add lemon juice, stirring constantly. Cover and set aside; keep warm.

3. Beat egg whites until frothy; gradually add the 2 tablespoons sugar, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until rounded peaks are formed; beat in lemon peel with final few strokes. Top servings of soup with meringue.

THE AFRICAN VIOLET is the most popular of household plants. It can also boast of having the most nonsense talked about it. "I never have any luck with them," people say. Or, "You can't let a drop of water touch their leaves," or, "They must never be in direct sunlight," and so on. Actually, the African Violet is about the easiest flower to get along with, requires no green thumb, and needs little more care than a weed. Given half a chance, it is both willing and profuse.

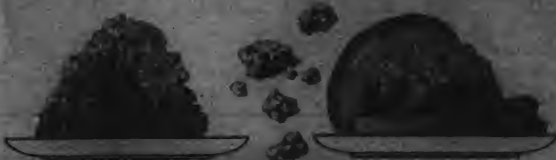

Strictly speaking, the "African Violet" is not a violet. It belongs, instead, to the Gesneria family and is properly called "Saintpaulia." Furthermore, the plant you get from a friend or florist or start yourself from a single leaf has entirely forsaken its ancestral habits. In such delightful-sounding spots as Tanganyika or the primeval forest of Numbura in East Africa, its forbears still grow in shady fissures of limestone rocks

McCOMBS NEW HEAD OF AD BOARD HERE

John W. McCombs, owner-operator of the Traymore Motor Hotel, has been elected chairman of the Virginia Beach Advertising Board. He succeeds Sidney Banks, who recently resigned.

In addition to the election of McCombs, the Board re-elected Albin R. Malhes as vice-chairman at a meeting held last week.

The Board voted to appoint a four-man committee of the board to work with the city's advertising agency and to act when matters come up requiring prompt attention.

The four-man committee appointed was McCombs, Malhes, Bruce Parlette, president of the Virginia Beach Hotel, Motel and Cottage Association, and Roy M. Neil, Jr.

SCOPPA IS LEGION MEMBERSHIP LEADER

S. P. "Pete" Scoppa, a member of Princess Anne Post 133 of the American Legion, is the new membership chairman for the Virginia Department of the American Legion.

Scoppa has been a dynamic worker in Legion affairs and was named "Mr. Legionaire" last year. He is a native of Port Chester, N.Y., and resides at Wolfenrae Plantation, London Bridge.

The new Virginia membership chairman is married to the former Dorothy Johnson of Stanleyville and they are the parents of a 6-year-old girl and a boy, 4.

Underground Aids "Sneak Out" Of Havana; U. S. State Dept. Helps Send Her Here To Live

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Virginia Beach Sun-News is privileged to bring to its readers this hitherto unpublished account of a young Cuban woman who, one month ago, was a terrified citizen of Havana under its Castro-led tyranny and since last Saturday has been a resident of Virginia Beach. At last she feels that she can breathe the air of freedom to go and come without let or restraint for the first time for more than a year. Her last name and place of birth in Cuba have been withheld to prevent reprisals against the members of her family who are still in that country. Her picture cannot be published for obvious reasons.)

BY JACK SCHERER

Ana Maria—and that can and must be her only name—is away from Castro's Cuba and in Virginia Beach today because she has courage, friends, resourcefulness and a desire for freedom from fear.

Even so, she said through an interpreter yesterday, she could not have made any headway had it not been for the incredibly complicated machinations of a highly organized underground.

Ana Maria, of course, did not say just that. She doesn't speak English. But any person who heard her story translated would be stupid indeed if he did not arrive at that conclusion.

John Skillman Chairman Of Winter Show

John Skillman has been named General Chairman of the Princess Anne Ruritan Minstrel of 1961. The show will run for an unprecedented four nights, with the first being presented at the Norfolk-High School Auditorium on March 22nd. The show will be sponsored by the Chesapeake Athletic Club. The show will return to Princess Anne High School on Thursday night, March 23rd, and will play through Saturday, March 25th.

In addition to Skillman, the show will be directed by John S. McFall. Mr. McFall has served as director now for three consecutive years and has gained the distinction of producing one of the area's outstanding forms of entertainment. Particular emphasis has been made to make this year's production as authentic as possible.

Other committee and chairmen are as follows: Minstrel Vice-Chairman, Pete Scoppa; Musical Director, Clarke W. Graves; Stage Manager, Frank Taylor; Lighting and Sound, Charlie Spencer; Scenery and Set Design, Whit Volpe; Costumes, Joe J. Owens; Publicity, James Simmons and Pete Scoppa; Props, Joe Crosswhite, Jr.; Advertising, Tommy Thompson; Patrons, Harold Bender and Murray Mallon; Tickets, Ed Garrett; and Make-up, Mrs. C. M. Young Demos Favor Local Option On Cocktail Lounges

Virginia's Young Democratic Clubs, meeting last weekend in Roanoke, passed a resolution endorsing local option on cocktail lounges and urged franchisement for residents of the District of Columbia.

The local option resolution was presented by the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Young Democratic Club. It was unanimously adopted.

The convention from the election of David Daniel Brown of Abington as president. He succeeds Joe T. Crosswhite Jr. of Virginia Beach in the top post.

The Young Democrats voted one amendment to their constitution whereby the president has the power to appoint a three-man cabinet.

Brown appointed two Virginia Beach men to the newly created cabinet posts.

He named Jack Wilder to be executive secretary. Wilder lives here and is a junior at the Norfolk College of William and Mary.

Retiring secretary-treasurer E. A. "Sonny" Culverhouse of Virginia Beach was appointed by the president to be his special assistant. This is an other of the cabinet posts.

The complete text of the resolution endorsing local option on cocktail lounges, which was quickly adopted follows:

"WHEREAS, the Young Democratic Clubs of the State of Virginia in convention assembled in Richmond January 23, 1960 passed a resolution favoring and supporting a proposed local option bill that was later offered in the General Assembly, and

"WHEREAS, our considered opinion now, as then, is that this proposed legislation would be beneficial and approved by the electorate and certain populace areas in our state and in particular those areas whose population feel the impact of armed service personnel and tourist business from all sections of the nation, who enjoy the privileges that the approval of this legislation will allow, and

"WHEREAS, it is not the intention of this resolution to increase the sale of alcoholic beverages but rather to control them to the end that moderate indulgence would be the end result.

100 Years Ago This Week...in THE CIVIL WAR

(Events exactly 100 years ago this week that led to the Civil War—told in the language and style of today.)

Jefferson Davis Sworn In As President of South

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—Feb. 18—Mississippi's 34-year-old Jefferson Davis, the South's prime candidate for president of the Confederate States, was sworn in today as president of the Confederate States.

The inauguration of the tall, sharp-faced Davis came as high point so far in the 14-day old convention of the provisional Confederate Congress.

Davis defined his frame of mind on taking office in a speech early in the week.

He said at Stevenson, Tenn., in which he predicted the war would "join the Confederacy within 40 days and threaten the Union with 'Southern powder'."

But the convention itself has been peaceful so far—no sign of the disunity of many critics who charge from the ideologues that delegates are straining themselves in red tape when they should be ready for war with the North.

NAMED vice-president with Davis was Alexander H. Stephens of Georgia, 46-year-old member in Congress until the South pulled out of Washington.

Davis is an arresting-looking man—tall, with dark hair, eyes the color of pine cone smoke. He served as secretary of war under President Franklin Pierce from 1853 to 1857 and was twice a U.S. Senator.

Born June 3, 1808, in Kentucky—about 100 miles from the birthplace of the Union's president-elect, Abraham Lincoln—he was the 10th child of Samuel Davis, a tobacco planter who served in Georgia during the Revolutionary war.

Davis attended Transylvania University in Lexington, Ky., and later the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, graduating in 1828. He was a classmate of the Blackhawk war and with distinction in the Mexican conflict, being wounded at Buena Vista.

Personal tragedy blighted his young adulthood.

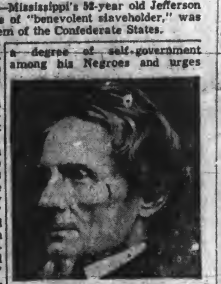

His first wife Sarah, daughter of former president Zachary Taylor, died three months after their marriage. The present Mrs. Davis, the former Anne Howell, is the daughter of a rich Mississippi planter.

The Davis plantation, "Brierfield," on the lush banks of the Mississippi, is a showplace of pre-slavery forces. Davis encourages

Lincoln Shocks Capital with Secret Arrival

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Feb. 25—Abraham Lincoln of Illinois arrived unexpectedly in this jittery capital today, target of the most savage invective hurled at a president-elect in the nation's 84-year history.

High government circles were abuzz with reports that Lincoln was "smuggled" through Baltimore after discovery of a well-organized assassination plot there.

Anti-Lincoln orators and publications have been yammering for days at the Illinoisan's failure to say anything of import in his dozens of speeches on the way from Springfield. His bizarre arrival here provided new fuel for the blaze of criticism. Aides say Lincoln is saving major policy announcements for his inaugural speech March 4.

Hello, Kansas!

TOPEKA, Kansas—Feb. 23—It's official.

Citizens of this wheat-rich prairie land basked today in the warmth of press reports that President-elect Lincoln, stopping in Philadelphia en route to inauguration, had unrolled a new 34-star flag marking entry of Kansas into the Union.

Too Few Passengers Aragona Village Bus Service To Be Ended, Board Told

An official of the Trailways Bus Company told the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors Monday that present bus service through Aragona Village will be discontinued within the next 30 days.

C. H. Hamsbrough, division manager of Trailways Bus Co., said that buses on this route now carry an average of only eight passengers each trip. The service, which operates between Virginia Beach Boulevard and Shore Drive, started last May.

A recent Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals decision, through which Trailways lost its passenger service between the old Norfolk city limit and Davis Corner, played a part in the Aragona decision. It was stated.

Bayside Supervisor Carroll G. Clough said "I sincerely regret the economic necessity which makes this (abandonment) necessary."

Some 20 residents of Bellamy Manor, headed by C. Thomas Murphy, appeared before the board to protest what was termed "inadequate drainage" in the subdivision as well as alleged lack of paving on three roads there.

T. M. Bellamy, the developer, said he "was surprised and indignant" at the charges made.

One irate housewife protested that "we didn't buy waterfront property but we got it now."

A three-man commission will survey the alleged difficulties and report to the board at a later meeting.

E. M. Pope Construction Co. was low bidder with a figure of $118,400 for construction of a new 60-unit court building.

The board ordered a 30-day ban on the use of four outside phone lines by persons at Princess Anne Courthouse, beginning March 1. The court house is served by the Princess Anne Telephone Co., but most of the county residents are served by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. There are four toll-free phones at the courthouse but outgoing traffic there has been so heavy that persons trying to call in had difficulty in completing their calls. The ban is an attempt to solve this problem.

Lynnhaven Supervisor James Darden asked that Congressman Thomas N. Downing be requested to make a survey of shoaling problems at Lynnhaven Inlet to see what, if anything, could be done about it.

The board voiced its opposition to a request made to the U.S. Army Engineers by fishermen who want to set nets off the beach in the surfline, a half-mile south of Rudee Inlet. The request is also being opposed by the Virginia Beach Anglers Club.

Bridge-Tunnel Seeking Name

The Chesapeake Bay Bridge and Tunnel Commission is looking for an appropriate name for the 17-mile cross-water highway it is building between the Norfolk area and Virginia's eastern shore.

"Several names have been suggested," a spokesman for the Commission's Advertising and Publicity Committee said, "but we would like as many suggestions as possible before a final selection is made."

He said all proposed names sent to the Commission at its headquarters in Little Creek would be considered.

The bridge-tunnel system, crossing the wide span of water where the Atlantic Ocean flows into Chesapeake Bay, is the largest highway engineering feat of its kind ever undertaken.

Backers of the project believe its permanent name should meet a number of requirements. First, it should be appropriate to the project, which will consist of a combination of two bridges, two underwater tunnels and nearly 12 miles of concrete trestle.

It should be distinctive, so that it will not be confused with any other highway project in the U.S. It should be a name intimately associated with Virginia, so that people outside the state will know where the project is.

Other considerations are that it should be easy to remember, short enough to fit on highway markers for the $200,000,000 toll facility when it is completed.

Contractors already have started dredging in preparation for building two man-made islands that will be part of the finished project. Tests also are being made on the giant concrete piling that will anchor and support the roadway across the mouth of Chesapeake Bay.

The project is scheduled for completion late in 1963, in the meantime, the Little Creek Perries will continue to carry motor traffic across the bay, using an increased schedule of runs.

CHAMBER BOARD TO MEET FEB. 23rd

The Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce are scheduled to meet next Tuesday, February 21, according to Albin R. Malhes, president. The meeting is set for 3 p.m. in the Convention Center.

A report from the Chamber's Contact Club, the membership arm of the organization, is among the items on the agenda.

GALLIE VESPER SERVICES

Vesper services and children's luncheon services are scheduled to be held at the Gallie Episcopal Church here, it has been announced.

Vesper services and prayer will be held at the church each evening during Lent starting at 5:30 p.m.

LOCAL YOUTH MAKES HIS DEAN'S LIST

L. D. Finley of Virginia Beach, a student at Hampton-Sydney College, is listed on the dean's list of the school, according to an announcement made this week.

Young Finley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Finley, Jr., and is a second year student at the college.

Where Does It Hurt?

"Where does it hurt?" is the first link in an underground chain? Maybe a cousin has a close friendship with the Cuban wife of an American serviceman. Maybe she, in turn, knows someone willing to sponsor you—if you can get into the United States. And that is very hard to do and requires more bribe money than most Cubans have.

"It was that way with me. I heard of Mr. Guy De Frenn who was a hair stylist in Virginia Beach, Va., U.S.A. He and his wife had Cuban friends who are now citizens of your country. How to get together?"

In Ana Maria's case, "how" was a tough question indeed. "The aid was on a 30-day visa. If I had remained after that expired, I would be violating United States law and Cuban law—maybe I would be sacked down. But during those 30 days I spent with friends in Miami, I was able to correspond with Mr. and Mrs. De Frenn.

So back to Cuba she went, everything in orderly fashion, to make arrangements to meet back here."

Schenck, Rice Rites Are Held

The marriage of Miss Jean Gray Schenck and Richard George Rice of Virginia Beach took place Saturday at 5 p.m. in the First Lutheran Church.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Luther Warren Strickler, pastor of the church, and Dr. Archibald Clarence Schenck, the bride's grandfather, of Teiford, Pa., assisted.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carl Schenck. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. & Mrs. George Emerson Rice of Virginia Beach.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with tulle and embroidery in rose design, outlined with seed pearls. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline and full cathedral train. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion was arranged from a pearl Juliet cap. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Robert Edward Smith of Lewes, Del., was her sister's matron of honor and Miss Nancy Gail Burnette was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Rice of Virginia Beach, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Harold Naylor of Alexandria; Mrs. William G. Thomas of Richmond; and Miss Betty Jane White, Miss Lynne E. Stephenson, Miss Hannah Wilson White, Miss Elizabeth Randolph Hamrickhouse and Mrs. Luda Edgar Box.

Mr. Rice was best man for his son. The groomsmen were John Clifford Rice, the bridegroom's brother; Charles Davis Meachum, John Thomas Brown, George Brian Beagle, Charles Whorl Dant and Robert Richard MacIver, all of Virginia Beach; Charles Hany Gregg of Portsmouth; Robert Edward Smith of Lewes, Del., brother-in-law of the bride, and Stanley Graves Barr.

A reception was given at the Woman's Club. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to New York. They will live at 1318 W. Lit. Creek Road.

Jane Jeffords, C. K. Phares Marry In S.C.

Miss Jane Marshall Jeffords of Columbia, S.C., is the bride of Cleveland Kirk Phares of Lynnhaven, Va.

The wedding took place January 18 in Lexington, S.C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Graham Patton and Colesworth Jeffords of Columbia and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hammond of Columbia and the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Duncan Jeffords of Orangeburg, S.C.

She made her debut at the Assembly Ball in Columbia in December. She attended the University of South Carolina.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nathan Aubrey Hall of Lynnhaven and James J. Phares of Birmingham, Ala., and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. James Kirk Phares and the late Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Horn of Many, La.

He will receive his B.S. degree in biology in June from the University of South Carolina where he is president of the Block C Club and assistant freshman football coach.

Clayton, Lombard Vows Said

Miss Elizabeth Ann Lombard and Lt. Robert Henry Clayton Jr., attached to the USS Boreas, were married with a high nuptial mass on Saturday at noon at St. Benedict's Chapel.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Urban Lux, O.S.B., pastor of the church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lombard of Norfolk. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry Clayton of Los Altos, Calif.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported, chantilly lace over bridal tulle, fastened with a basque bodice, scooped neckline trimmed with seed pearls and fringed. The full skirt featured tiers of lace ruffles sweeping into a full chapel length train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was arranged from a queen's crown of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white stock flowers centered with white roses and sweetwillies.

Miss Barbara Jane Lombard was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Patricia Jennings Davis of Princess Anne, Joanne Elizabeth Toce and Marie Carroll Pitt of Norfolk.

Dennis Alan Clayton of Los Altos was his brother's best man. The groomsmen were James Thomas Lombard, brother of the bride of Norfolk, Lt. (j.g.) William Goodwin of Des Moines, Iowa, and Joseph Patrick Joyce of Bay Side.

The Saxons had a word for Spring. It was Lenten, shortened, in time, to Lent.

So the name Lent was given to that spring-time period of 40 fast days from Ash Wednesday until Easter.

Lent came to mean a time of penitence. And it is. But it is also a time of preparation, and of promise. For because Lent means Spring, it heralds good things to come. It forecasts the glorious message of Easter. It is the dawn of the most beautiful season of the year.

The bare branches of these trees will burst into bud and leaf with the touch of Spring. Our thoughts during Lent, our personal preparations, also will reach fruition when the 40 days are through.

Lent is the time for prayer and self-examination. Make this Lenten season really mean something by seeking help and guidance at your church services.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the present factor on each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a mechanism of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Growing With Virginia Beach' Is Ingram's Slogan As Second Pharmacy Opens on Atlantic Avenue

By JAMES GROTIUS

"Growing With Virginia Beach" is not just a slogan—it's a fact. The three men of vision who own Ingram Pharmacy, Inc. offer full proof tomorrow and next day when they celebrate the opening of Ingram No. 2 in the Mayflower Apartments, 34th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

And this expansion, mind you, comes in less than six years after R. L. Ingram, V. J. Honeycutt, Jr. and M. G. Godsey decided to form a partnership, staking everything on their conviction that Virginia Beach and surrounding Princess Anne County were in the midst of a solid economic upswing.

"Substantial" Progress
Many thought that World War II prosperity was a bubble and that its collapse was long overdue. These three didn't feel that way. Ingram, who is president of the firm, started the business when he opened his own pharmacy in June, 1954, at 207 25th Street—where it now becomes—so to speak—the

"Home Office."

Fifteen months later, in September, 1955, Honeycutt who, like Ingram, was a registered pharmacist, and Godsey, with years of experience as a business administrator, entered the scene.

Result: Partnership.
Mirroring the growth of the community and looking to the future progress of their own enterprise a corporation was formed January 1, 1960, with Honeycutt assuming the vice presidency and Godsey taking on the duties of secretary-treasurer.

Opportunity Was Here
Each came from "somewhere else," each married a "local girl," each saw the opportunity and "came to stay."

This kind of faith in a community merits a rundown on personalities and what made them this way.
President Ingram was born in Chatham, where he attended Chatham Military Academy before entering the School of Pharmacy, Medical College of Virginia. He became a registered pharmacist in 1954—something he always had wanted to become since his early youth, when he sort of apprenticed himself around what used to be known as a drugstore.

His friends say that a flare for the unusual approach was responsible for bringing him to Virginia Beach. The dean of the pharmacy school wrote him and three of his classmates that there was an opening with a local concern. The dean suggested they all write letters.

Ingram sent a telegram instead of a letter. Ingram got the job, married Marguerite Wehber of Norfolk, and he and Mrs. Ingram wouldn't want to raise their two teen-age children anywhere else.

Vice President Honeycutt, in the words of an older generation of his Boone, N.C., forebears, "came a far piece" and went a "long way 'round" to arrive among us. School ed at Boone, the University of Richmond and Medical College of Virginia, he was registered in 1952. Honeycutt is married to the former Carol Wilson, a Princess Anne girl, and they have two children also, aged five and eight—or, shall we say—pre-teen-age.

Secretary-Treasurer Godsey is a Gwynn Islander but his family moved from Matthews County to Norfolk when he was 11 years old. Before he began his 16 years in the drug business he laid the groundwork by handling for 13 years a multitude of assignments tossed his way by White Truck Co. and then put in five years with the Civil Service.

He and his wife, the former Alice Virginia Gibson of Norfolk, moved here early in their marriage and live with their young daughter at London Bridge.

Everybody Helps
And that brings us to the silent partner.

Mrs. Godsey, who is pretty much a personage in her own right as owner of Godsey's Tea Room, has helped in arranging the layout of Ingram Pharmacy Number 2 and is manager of the new unit's fountain and delicatessen department.

Ronald Beaver, pharmacist in charge at the Mayflower branch, left the mountains of Southwest Virginia to settle here at the other end of the State. He quite likely would agree with the credo stated by his older associates in their slogan.

Ingram Pharmacy is "Growing With Virginia Beach."

VIRGINIA BEACH HI SCHOOL NEWS

VA. BEACH BETA CLUB

The Virginia Beach High School Beta Club has recently inducted 15 members. They are as follows: Pamela Gustafson, Susan Hand, Marilyn Merrick, Robert Drewelow, William Rapp, Bruce MacSwain, Nancy Connell, Pat Wallace, Gordon Simpson, Joanne Waters, Bonnie Bill, Geri Marshall, Butchie Clark, Phyllis Davis, and Carol Smyth.

The Beta Club is an honorary national organization for students with a "B" or above average. Members must show high character and leadership traits. The club's purpose is to promote citizenship and leadership, and to encourage students to work to their fullest capacity.

The officers for 1960-61 are President, Sara Killen; vice president, John Claudy; Secretary, Virginia Petty; treasurer, Mike Rohg; reporter, Karen Schneider. The sponsors of the club are Miss Betty Edwards and Mrs. Mary Jane Turner.

The Beta Club sponsors numerous activities during the school year. These include: leading the blessing at lunch time, marshaling for such meetings as "open house," baccalaureate service, graduation, college night and various other civic activities.

The State Beta Club Convention will be held this year in Richmond on March 18th and 19th. The Virginia Beach Club expects approximately 25 of its members to attend. The purpose of this convention is to promote a better understanding among students of other schools in Virginia.

William Rapp, a Senior here at Virginia Beach High, has been selected as "Student of the Day" for Thursday, February 16, by WGTF. Bill is in the Beta Club, Junior Civitan Club, and is president of his homeroom. On the football field, he played center for the Seahawks.

The students of Virginia Beach High School congratulate this outstanding Senior.

Virginia Beach High School was very fortunate in having the East Carolina Concert Band to play for us. The band arrived Friday, February 10th. They were presented to the high school student with whom they were staying for the night.

After lunch the band students gave a concert for the school. Again that night at 8:00 p.m., the East Carolina Band gave another concert for the Educational Forum.

After the program was over, the guests were invited to visit the rooms and teachers. Refreshments were served for the parents in the library. The high school students and band members went to the lunch room where members of the band formed a combo and played dance music. Mr. Davis, our Latin teacher, joined in on the piano for a short jazz session. The evening was very enjoyable for all.

The seniors of '61 presented their class gift to the school Friday, February 10. They gave a 24-volume encyclopedia thoughts, ideas, and famous writers and philosophers' views on different subjects.

Students of Mr. Mack's solid geometry classes are working on their projects for the Kiwanis Club Mathematics Contest. Last year's winners were Clyde Perry and Peter Trechler, first place, and Randy Zehmer, third place. The winner is selected from math students of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne High Schools.

Fourteen members of the SCA are to attend the Miller & Rhoads Forum. The purpose of this forum is to allow students of different schools to interchange ideas for better school government.

Senior English students have spent a nervous and hectic week giving speeches. They were original, many of them impromptu, and were given under the watchful eye of Mrs. Robbins. The art of communication, which include speaking and writing, is the most necessary skill that a student needs when he leaves high school because it conveys his personality and character.

Once again it is time for the "Beachcomber" the high school newspaper to come out, and the staff is busy fitting dummy sheets and thinking up titles.

Several girls in Mrs. Sawyer's home economics classes entered the fashion show held at the Princess Anne Country Club on Thursday, February 9. The girls modeled dresses that they had sewn in class. The winner was chosen upon her appearance and poise, choice of material, accessories, and how well the dress was made. Geri Marshall received an honorable mention and Betty Smith won first place.

With our victory over Gloucester Friday night, Virginia Beach High is again in a tie for first place with Prince George. Although they beat us the first time, in our next game we plan to turn the tables.

"Call Me Sam"

Beach Merchants Moving Force Behind Annual Birthday Sale

The 30-odd merchants participating in this year's Washington Birthday Sales Promotion program, calculated to give a mid-winter lift to Virginia Beach's slack retail trade, might well give a vote of thanks to their colleague, Sam Melnicov, owner of The Outlet at 2218 Atlantic Avenue.

It was "Just Call Me Sam" who picked-up the idea and sparked its development as result of a chance occurrence in Washington, D.C., almost 32 years ago.

Melnicov, who believes his 71 years, was raised in Baltimore. By 1913 he was in Norfolk in the men's and boy's clothing business and that year he married Reba Yaffey, a Norfolk girl.

In Norfolk he remained, owning his own department on lease from an old-time Norfolk store, until he was offered the position of merchandising manager for a similar store in Washington in 1929.

It was February 22 that year, when he was on the way to his fairly new job, that he looked through the bus window and saw an uncommonly large crowd of 200 or more people lined up and waiting for a comparatively small shop to open its doors.

A man who always arrived at his own store well ahead of its 9:30 opening hour, he felt he had time to leave the bus and investigate. Here's what he discovered: The small store, knowing that Government employees and many office workers would be free on the Washington Birthday holiday, had placed a small newspaper ad offering a selection of articles for sale at greatly reduced prices.

The eye-catching advertising appeal, however, when Melnicov investigated, was that the store said its sale would last for only three-and-one-half hours—then the doors would be closed.

He went directly to his boss with this idea: With our facilities, our ability to advertise in a big display and our inventory of unsold items — wouldn't this be a good way to clear out our shelves and, at the same time, bring the customers into the store.

His double-service idea was that the customer would pick up a bargain and would see the regular lines on display at the same time.

The idea worked. Statistics showed that the annual Washington Birthday event brought figures of 20 percent for advertised bargains, a happy 80 percent in sales of regular, in-season stock.

When he retired 15 years ago he and Mrs. Melnicov returned to the scenes of their youth and settled at 76th and Atlantic Avenue. But retirement didn't take, and in less than a year they were back in business and he was plugging his Washington Birthday Sales Promotion project anew. When he had left Norfolk in 1929, he had been praised in a Chamber of Commerce letter for his community service and his adherence to his credo of "Honesty in Advertising."

But this time Norfolk merchants were cool to his proven idea and were reluctant to cooperate with the Virginia Beach merchant.

Here, however, almost anywhere you go between now and February 22 successful results of the idea will be evident. The chance gaze out of a Washington bus window 32 years ago is paying off for our merchants—and customers, too.

But down here the whole business day, not just three-and-a-half hours.

London Bridge Plumbers Win

Isle of Capri's reputation through winning the first round in the Thunderbird Major Bowling League did not awe the London Bridge Plumbing and Heating team last Tuesday as they romped home to a 4-0-0 win. Dick Dickens led his gang to a 2610 win with a 203 game, while George Baier threw a 587 series in a losing cause. Top row, left to right, Ray Richelieu and Ed Dearborn. Bottom row, Tom Moore, Dick Dickens and Jack Huenberger. Coaches Sporting Goods took all four points from Hirtz Zeniths. Harry's Amoco won 3 points from Minnie's London Bridge. Quilt O' Dreams also took three points in their match with Taste Freez, and the match between Virginia Beach Transfer and the USS Newport News was postponed. The Coaches teams had both high team series (2647) and high individual series (Clyce Smith's 608) for the evening.

Tenpin Tips and Tidbits

By Hank Hickey
There are well over 20 million tenpin bowlers in the U.S.A. and they all seem to be bowling on the lane you've been waiting for. The grand event in bowling is the American Bowling Congress tournament, held this year in Detroit from March 4th to May 21st. . . here the unknown and unheralded kelpers get their big chance to emerge in the spotlight amid the public heralded kelpers.

ly and fanfare usually reserved for the professionals. At Toledo in 1960 the A & A Asphalt team stole some of the thunder from the famous Budweisers as they came out of oblivion to win their division laurels and be catapulted into national prominence. . . this year it may be one of the teams entered from the Tidewater area. ABC reports that there were 561 awards presented last year for 300 games rolled in sanctioned competition. . . one 300 game was recorded for each 6000 ABC members. . . this means that unless you're fortunate you may bowl for 6000 years before hitting that magic figure. . . however, it was further reported that 700,000 awards were issued last year in the form of chevrons, trophies, plaques and belt buckles to champions, high scorers and converters of difficult splits in more than 50,000 leagues and nearly 5,000 tournaments.

DID YOU KNOW . . . that the odds for an ABC member rolling a 300 game in league or tournament play is 1,200,000 to 1. . . that approximately 9,000 nails are required for the construction of a single bowling lane bed. . . that each bed weighs over 3,000 lbs. . . that approximately 1,584 feet of maple and 1,582 feet of pine are used in the construction of each lane. . . that ABC regulations specify the length of a lane from foul line to pit edge to 62 feet, 10 and 3/16 inches. . . that lane width be at least 41 but not more than 42 inches. . . that before any lane can be approved for an ABC sanctioned league or tournament play its surface must be free from any depression, groove, high spot or tilt in excess of 40/1000ths of an inch. . . think of this when bowling in the City or State tournaments and you get the feeling the lane is tilted to the right because your ball won't break, or a high spot is preventing it's being buried in the 1-8 pocket.

TENPIN TIPS—An all-important aspect of bowling, as with any other game or sport, is mental. If certain shots seem to be easy, then more often than not they will be; conversely, a mental block against, say, some particular spare will usually result in failure to convert. This often occurs when converting the 5-pin, or kingpin. Many feel the vast expanse of lane on either side has a mental effect that reduces accuracy. Look at this another way: The pin sitting there all alone in the center of the lane is approximately four inches in diameter at its widest point. The lane is between 41 and 42 inches wide. This leaves an area of no more than 38 inches, or 19 inches on either side of the 5-pin. Since a regulation bowling ball is approximately 9 inches in diameter, it occupies that much of this 19 inches and therefore leaves only 10 inches of error on either side of the 5-pin. It therefore stands to reason that delivery of the ball to a point along the center of the lane that prevents the extreme edge of the ball from traveling closer than ten inches to either gutter will convert the kingpin. In short, imagine there is a 22-inch path down the center of the lane and if the ball can be maintained within this path, then the spare is converted. Try it, but don't blame me if you miss; you may be mentally unbalanced.

THOUGHTFUL TOPICS—In the interest of providing answers to many who have often wondered about certain facts pertinent to tenpin bowling, we encourage thought-provoking questions. And let it be known that this column is not establishing itself as an authority in this respect. Questions sent to this newspaper will be answered only after being researched or through references to recognized authorities. Along the lines of general interest there is the common question of how one goes about being a bowler of professional caliber. This may be answered in several ways but we feel Don Carter does it most correctly in attributing his achievement to practice. Surely, such assets as good health, physical ability, coordination, etc., are definitely essential. But the 1960 Bowler of the Year, Don Carter, replied to the question of how often he practiced by stating he bowled every day until he got tired, then quit after ten more games. Personally, those last ten are more than enough to end me to the easy chair but thought you might want to know how to become great. Will be seeing you pro's around one of the 112 lanes within 18 miles of Virginia Beach. And let us hear from you!

Wide Background Fits Former Navy Man For New Job

John Wareing, the physical culturist of the new Olympia Athletic and Health Club now under construction here on Laskin Road, is a man with a colorful background in the athletic and health field.

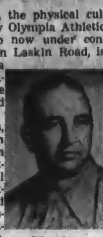

Wareing has, in the past, been a champion heavyweight boxer, a professional wrestler, a boxing coach and trainer, a professional weightlifter, and a strongman, plus a physical culturist. When it comes to health and physical fitness he knows whereof he speaks.

He will be in charge of the program when the new athletic and health club opens here later this year.

Wareing started boxing in 1938 in his native New York City and joined the United States Navy in December, 1940. He continued boxing through 1941 and then served Uncle Sam as a boxing coach and trainer for the next eight years.

He is an expert in the art of unarmed defense and is a graduate of the Honolulu Police Department school. He has served as instructor for police departments, for midshipmen, for underwater demolition recruits and for the Navy's shore patrol.

Wareing served as station athletic director at the Oceana Naval Air Station for three years. Before that he was supervisor of physical training at the Baldrige, Maryland, Naval Station for three years, at Jacksonville for two years, and in Washington, D.C. for two years. Wareing retired from the Navy last October after 20 years service which included 13 decorations. He is the recipient of the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism while in aerial flight in the southwest Pacific and the Air Medal for flying 40 miles behind enemy territory in a helicopter to pick up a downed pilot.

Wareing is married and the father of seven children. They make their home in Virginia Beach and Wareing feels that the new Olympia Athletic and Health Club and the part he will play in it is "like a life's dream come true."

Softball Voted Most Popular By Thalia Group

Old favorites have been in the line light for the students of the Thalia Afternoon Playground Recreation Sessions this year. At the beginning of the year Joseph Lifer was chosen to head the afternoon activities. After discussing the type of games the students enjoyed most, it seemed that they first settled down to playing softball.

As autumn approached and the football season began, we started playing Flag Football, which soon developed into intense rivalry between the two teams. They seemed to enjoy this very much.

Then, as colder weather approached, the basketball fever became apparent. Interest seemed to be even greater for this sport than any of the preceding ones. Teams were chosen with first and second strings, in spite of the cold weather at times, they still meet to practice and try to improve their skills, as far as shooting, techniques, defensive positions, and offensive plays are concerned. Games have been scheduled and we are looking for a good season.

Mrs. Lou Overman and Mrs. Whitt G. Sessoms, Jr., are shown with Joe B. Wood, manager of Price's Hilltop Store. The scene took place recently at "An Evening with Stereophonic Sound" held at Price's. The two ladies were door prize winners.

Leon Johnson Named Chief Engineer For Bridge-Tunnel

J. Clyde Morris, Executive Secretary of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge and Tunnel Commission, announced today that Leon R. Johnson of Arlington, Virginia, has been appointed Chief Engineer on the 17 1/2 mile highway being built across the mouth of Chesapeake Bay.

Johnson, a founding partner in the Washington, D.C. firm of Johnson & Williams, Consulting Engineers, will represent the Commission to insure quality work in the three-year project.

The Bridge-Tunnel is the largest engineering feat of its kind ever undertaken. It will link the southern tip of Virginia's Eastern Shore and the Norfolk area with a system of two bridges, two underwater tunnels and 12 miles of low-level concrete trestle.

"I think this is the sort of thing 80% of the engineers in the country would give their right arm to do," Johnson said in discussing the dramatic construction undertaking and explaining why he left his own firm to work with the bridge-tunnel venture.

A native of Florence, S.C., Johnson was educated in Asheville, N.C.; North Carolina State College; and at George Washington University, Washington, D.C. He holds a B.S. degree in Civil Engineering and is a Registered Professional Engineer.

Johnson has a broad background of engineering and construction experience. It includes city planning, land development, R.E.A. electrical distribution systems and substations, design and construction of heavy concrete structures and substructures, waterworks, sewerage works, bridges, highways, airport construction, statistical evaluations and reports.

He has been connected with the City Engineer's Office, Asheville, N.C.; the Carolina Power and Light Co.; Arlington County, Virginia; Engineer's Office, Chester Engineers, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and with a general contracting firm in Arlington.

In 1939, he established a surveying and land planning business in Northern Virginia, and in 1941 became junior partner in the firm of Massey and Johnson (now Massey, Engineers) of Fairfax, Virginia. Johnson and Williams was organized in 1940.

In 1944-45 Johnson designed and supervised a comprehensive sewer and drainage project for Warwick

County, and in 1949-50 served as Planning Director for Warwick and assisted in the establishment of zoning, subdivision control, building and electrical codes for this community which later consolidated with Newport News.

Johnson, 53, is married to the former Mildred Williams, of Miami, Florida. They have one son, two young grandsons and a granddaughter.

The New Chief Engineer is a past president of the Arlington Host Lions Club and a member of Arlington Centennial Lodge of Masons, Court House Country Club of Fairfax, American Society of Military Engineers, American Society of Planning Officials, American Waterworks Association, Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity, North Carolina State Alumni Association, and the Wolfpack Club.

He and his wife will live in Virginia Beach during construction of the Bridge-Tunnel.

Dorsey Band to Play For Dance Here Feb. 24

The Tommy Dorsey orchestra, led by Warren Covington, will play a dance engagement Feb. 24 at 9 p.m. at the Virginia Beach Convention Center for the Princess Anne Junior Woman's Club.

The club is sponsoring the dance for the benefit of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Library and the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital.

One of the most traveled bands in the business, the orchestra averages over 70,000 miles a year by bus, playing engagements from Maine to Mexico.

Just recently the orchestra completed a one-month engagement at New York's Hotel Roosevelt Grill. Covington is something of a one-man band himself. He plays the trombone, sings, dances and, of course, the maestro.

Tickets for the dance can be purchased from Timbre Record Center or from any member of the Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County for the price of $7.00 per couple.

PA RED CROSS IS ASKING FOR ITEMS

The Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, is constantly being requested for the following items for ships going to sea for several months and a youth center on a military base, used playing cards, pocket novels (western and detective), children's games and movies, ping pong sets, Chinese checkers, jigsaw puzzles, comic books, men's magazines (current copies), and sports magazines.

Anyone having these items to donate may call GA 8-1902 for pickup or deliver same to Red Cross office 211-10th St.

Virginia's Art

By Leslie Cheek, Jr.

Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts

The nationally known director of the State Museum describes the great masterpieces of art in the Museum's collection—the cultural heritage of all Virginians. This is one of a series of articles which will appear each week during the Virginia Museum's 25th Birthday year.

Regency Taste and Royal Worcester

When trade between the Western world and China was sufficiently well established for an easy flow of products, one of those products most desired in the West was Chinese porcelain. In all its centuries of working with clay the West had never developed so fine or so delicate a product from its kilns. The demand for porcelain in Europe and in England became so great that many attempts were made to establish porcelain works and rivalries grew so intense that potters who reputedly knew the secret of true porcelain were often bribed or even kidnapped by proprietors wishing to establish new factories.

One of the most successful of the English factories was that founded at Worcester. Its date may be easily fixed by the date of the lease to the house where operations were to take place, May 16, 1731. By 1763 it was acknowledged to be the maker of the finest hard paste porcelain in England. In fact, some dealers had it shipped to France, decorated and reimported to England at French ware!

In 1783 the factory was purchased by a Mr. Flight, who had been the London agent, with his showroom at No. 2 Broad Street, London. He received a Royal patent (whence our term "Royal Worcester") in 1788, and by 1793 had taken Martin Barr as a partner. Barr seems to have managed the factory in Worcester while Flight preferred the London showrooms. And so by the time Martin Barr's son, Martin Barr, Jr., became a partner in 1807 we find the factory being called Barr, Flight and Barr while the London showroom was usually called Flight, Barr & Barr.

When Lady Nancy Astor gave the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts a pair of Royal Worcester glazers or ice cream servers in 1951, she not only gave the two most beautiful pieces of Regency porcelain, but she also presented the Museum with a problem of dating its new

Planned Income Advice Given

By Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal

Home Demonstration Agent

Are you satisfied with last year's results of your management of your income? There are many reasons why a plan for managing your money can help us in getting more from what we have to spend. Some of these are: Money for emergencies, purchasing a piece of equipment, a vacation, buying a business, educating children. Of course, we want to pay our bills, and there are many special things for which we want and need money.

If you would like to try to improve on your management, there are several steps which will help you. The first one is to put down the amount of income. If your income is a salary, which is the same each month, or whether you have to estimate the income from a business, you need to have down, where you can look at it, the total amount you have to spend.

Second, you need to list obligations which you have already made, or which have been made for you, such as taxes, bills, insurance, time payments items, etc.

Third, you need to list day to day expenses under such categories as food, clothing, and transportation; upkeep on car, equipment and house, house furnishings, etc.

The fourth step is to compare the totals of income with the combined totals of step two, which is money already spent, and step three, day to day expenses. In case revisions are needed, it is better to do it before half the month is gone and your finances are in a desperate situation. If you are interested in forms which the Extension Service has for helping you plan according to steps one, two, and three, you may write the Extension Office in Princess Anne, or call and we can mail them to you. Another help which the Extension Service has to offer you is a Family Record Book, which would give you a place to record daily expenditures. This is helpful in two ways. It shows you what you are spending money for and, second, it will give you a basis on which to allocate money for day to day expenses—step three above.

It often happens that records prove that what we thought is not correct.

Whatsoever the date, the Museum's glazers reflect the Greek influence on the Regency taste with their frequent use of the Greek frets and other ornaments in the painted decorative bands. The influence of the Prince Regent, himself, is displayed in the panels of painted shells, for it was he more than any other person who had established the seaside as a place of fashion. It was the custom with Barr, Flight and Barr to have its large pieces thrown on the wheel, rather than cast, and to reserve modeling for the handles, a practice which is seen in the Museum's glazers. It was also the custom at the time for the dessert service, of which these glazers formed a part, to be extremely elaborate. There is a record, for example, of a dessert service made for the Princess Charlotte. It contained no less than six glazers, called Warwick Ice pails on the original invoice, and they cost ten guineas each. The Museum's glazers are a perfect record of an era of taste, of the dining habits of our ancestors, and of the splendid porcelain created at Worcester.

Area winners from Norfolk Portsmouth-Princess Anne County in the annual Vogue and District Sewing Contests will be determined at a Judging Tea to be held Thursday afternoon (Feb. 23) from one to three o'clock in the Ocean Park Community Building on Shore Drive, one half mile west of the Lynnhaven Bridge. Mrs. B. C. Dougherty is Chairman of the event.

The best costumes in the various classes, both adult and High School age, will be chosen from local winners previously selected by the Women's Clubs in the area. The Judges will be: Mrs. Elizabeth Deal, Home Demonstration Chairman of Princess Anne County; Mrs. L. R. Rough of Hampton; and Mrs. June Black, Fashion Co-ordinator for Sears-Roebuck.

These area winners from this Sub-District will compete with winners from the Peninsula and the Eastern Shore in the Fashion Show Finals at the Tidewater District Meeting in the Chamberlain Hotel, Hampton, on March 22.

What's your telephone worth as a family time-saver?

How about your family—are there any clock-watchers in it? Chances are that you all cut corners, saving whatever time you can from one task to give to another—or just to enjoy in recreation.

Among the many time-savers in your household, you probably find your telephone the greatest help of all. So great you couldn't possibly put a price tag on it! For the calls you make to save shopping trips, your husband's calls about business, even your children's calls to check on school homework add up to hours of extra time for other purposes.

Yet no matter how many time-saving phone calls you make, there's never an extra charge for this local service.

So depend on your phone more often. Each time you dial a number, remember... you're buying time at a bargain!

BEACH STUDENTS TO ATTEND FORUM

The Country Day School and The Virginia Beach High School will have representatives at the Ninth Miller & Rhoads Virginia High School Forum to be held on Saturday, February 18th, at the Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond.

The Forum is based on panel discussions between Virginia student leaders and students in Virginia High Schools who come from fifteen different foreign countries. A press conference for student editors led by John H. Colburn, managing editor of the Richmond Times Dispatch, will be another feature.

Groups from the high schools of Virginia are attending the Forum under the sponsorship of the Student Cooperative Association of Virginia. The Richmond Public Schools are also cooperating in the arrangement of the program.

The MIXING BOWL ...

It's Fun TO COOK

Idaho's Famed Vegetables

Abundant in our markets now are Idaho's Russet Potatoes, famous not only as "bakers" but also for their all-purpose qualities. With them are their gentle-mannered companions—Sweet Spanish Onions. Very large, creamy-white or yellow-skinned, their mild sweet flavor makes them perfect for using thin crisp slices in salads and sandwiches, and for making French Fried Onion Rings.

To Bake Idaho Potatoes

Select potatoes of uniform size so that they bake in about the same length of time. Idaho's for baking vary in size from large to very large. A good average size is 5 to 6 inches. Also use a size according to its place in the menu—a partner on the dinner plate or a meal in itself.

Preparation: Scrub potatoes so that the skins may be eaten. Like the skin crunchy-crisp? Leave as is. Prefer skin soft? Brush with oil or melted bacon drippings.

Baking: Place on shallow pan or rack in 425 degree F. (hot) oven, 40 to 60 minutes, depending on size. To test for doneness: using a paper towel or holder, squeeze the potato gently. If the skin does not crack open, cut a small cross in top of each and press gently. Always serve at once, piping hot. Eat jacket and all. Dinner delayed? Scoop out centers of potatoes, prepare as for mashed potatoes. Return to the potato shell. Heat in moderate oven when ready to serve.

French Fried Onions, Idaho Style

Batter: Combine in sifter 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Beat 1 egg until thick and lemon-colored. Add 1/2 cup milk. Stir in sifted ingredients, beating until smooth. Because of their mild flavor, it is not necessary to soak them in milk.

Onions: Slice 6 large unpeeled Idaho Sweet Spanish Onions about 1/4 inch thick. This makes for easier removal of skins. Peel slices.

Frying: Dip a few onion rings at a time into the batter so that each ring is completely covered. Drop the batter-covered onion rings, a few at a time, into shortening or oil, about 5 inches deep in deep frying kettle or deep skillet and heated to 375 degrees F. Fry until golden brown. Lift out with a two-tined fork, drain on paper toweling. Sprinkle with salt. Serve hot. These fried rings may be kept hot by placing in a 325 degree F. (moderately slow) oven until all the onion rings are cooked. This should make about 6 servings.

You can't top the potato, the world's No. 1 vegetable, as a delicious, wholesome dish. But the potato itself, mashed or creamed, can top all sorts of other dishes and in the doing, add charm of flavor and eye appeal plus a wealth of important nutritive elements.

There are all sorts of ways in which this idea of potato topping can be the crowning glory of a meal's main dish. In Hamburger Potato Pie, a flavorful casserole of browned beef, onion rings, celery and carrots is covered with fluffy mashed potatoes which in the baking have turned toasty gold.

In Colcannon, beloved potato dish of Ireland, mashed potatoes are seasoned with chopped onion, black pepper and garlic powder and mixed with finely chopped broccoli and arranged to surround a cluster of cooked broccoli buds. Still another mashed potato trick is to use the snowy white vegetable as topping in a frankfurter casserole. As an extra filling, the potatoes can be garnished with bacon strips.

The potato is a fine protector of health because it contains virtually all essential dietary factors with the exception of fat and fat-soluble nutrients. The U.S. Department of Agriculture proved long ago that human adults kept in good health for as long as five months when fed diets consisting solely of potatoes and a small amount of fat. Moreover, for all its satisfying fullness, the potato is moderate in caloric value. The truth is, according to the U.S. Agriculture Handbook 8, that a medium-sized potato (90 grams) counts only 97 calories—and that's a good buy on any diet.

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association offers these ideas for hearty one-dish meals dressed up with potato toppings.

Colcannon (With Broccoli)
 1) pounds potatoes (3 medium)
 1) small bunch fresh broccoli
 2) tablespoons finely chopped onion

2) tablespoons butter or margarine
 1) to 2) tablespoons hot milk
 1) teaspoon salt
 1) teaspoon ground black pepper

Peel potatoes and quarter. Wash and trim broccoli. Cut large stalks in halves or quarters. Place potatoes and broccoli in separate saucepan with 1 1/2 inch boiling water and 1) teaspoon salt in each and cook, covered, until tender. Sauté onions in 1) tablespoon of the butter or margarine. Drain and mash potatoes with remaining butter or margarine, hot milk and seasonings. Drain and chop broccoli very fine. Add to potatoes along with onions. Beat well. Place bowl over a pan of hot water while beating to keep potatoes hot. Turn into a serving dish and garnish top with a bud of cooked broccoli, if desired.

YIELD: 4 servings.
 3 cups fluffy mashed potatoes
 1) egg, beaten
 2) tablespoons butter or margarine
 1) teaspoon ground black pepper
 1) teaspoon salt
 1) cup hot milk (approx.)
 1) tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine potatoes with egg, the 2) tablespoons butter or margarine, ground black pepper, salt and enough hot milk to make a fluffy consistency. Turn into a 1-quart casserole. Dot top with butter or margarine. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 40 minutes or until top is high.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.
Hamburger Potato Pie
 1) pound ground lean beef
 1) cup onion rings

Richmonder To Speak At A.R.E.

Dr. George G. Ritchie of Richmond will be the speaker at the Sunday Forum on February 19th at 3:30 p.m. at the headquarters of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, 87th Street and Atlantic Ave., Virginia Beach. The topic of his lecture will be "Miracle With a Cause".

A practicing physician in Richmond, Dr. Ritchie is a member of the executive committee of the Richmond Memorial Hospital, also president of the Richmond Academy of General Practice. He conducts, with an associate, a weekly counseling clinic at the Contance Episcopal Church, of which he is an active member. He is also a medical examiner for the County Selective Service Board.

Himself an Eagle Scout, Dr. Ritchie also holds the Honor Scout Award and the Award of Merit for outstanding service to youth. He is a member of the board of directors of the Kanawha Recreational Association, has served on the staff of the Richmond YMCA and been a senior Scout leader for a number of years. Two years ago he founded the Christian Youth Corps of America, of which he is presently the president.

Dr. Ritchie has spoken widely on the subjects of Christian Youth and Christian Healing. Following his talk on Sunday he will answer questions. This event is open to the public.

YIELD: 4 servings.
 1) tablespoons shortening
 2) tablespoons flour
 1) cup thinly sliced carrots
 1) cup thinly sliced celery
 1) cup beef broth or stock
 1) teaspoon ground black pepper

LAKE JOYCE GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Lake Joyce Garden Club met Tuesday, February 7, at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. M. K. Crockett on Shiloh Drive. Mrs. R. F. Rhodes was co-hostess.

The club president, Mrs. Everett P. Seay was honored with a lifetime membership in the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs.

The club voted to contribute $5.00 to the National World Gardening Program.

The speaker for the meeting was Mrs. L. M. Caputo who spoke on "Mobile Arrangements." According to Mrs. Caputo "it is nice to have ever large pieces of furniture. Should be in proportion. There are formal and informal mobiles. Arrangement should be used since they do not require water nor will they wilt. They are more of a decoration than an arrangement."

The following judges from the Larchmont Garden Club, Mrs. George Sutherland, Mrs. J. M. Trader and Mrs. Harry Miller, awarded a ribbon to: Mrs. M. K. Crockett, Mrs. E. P. Seay, and Mrs. J. B. Macdrey.

OCEAN PARK WOMAN'S CLUB

The Ocean Park Woman's Club held its regular luncheon meeting Wednesday, February 8, at 12:30 p.m. in the Club Room of the Ocean Park Fire Station.

Mrs. C. A. Farmer, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. F. White.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Sgt. J. F. MacGown of the Norfolk Police Division. Sgt. MacGown introduced Sgt. R. B. Dain, who presented a report on the German Shepherd Police Dogs that the department is using. According to MacGown the dogs are not vicious. They love and respect a master only. There are three reasons why people get rid of German Shepherd dogs: the dogs cost too much to feed (30 cents a day). The owners are usually too tired to exercise the dog properly and the dog may knock a child down, then the parents claim the dog bit the child.

The department would rather accept a dog than buy one. The department starts training him at three months. They train him to be vicious but always have him under control. They are trained to alert and automatic commands. The cost to the taxpayer per year is $200.00. Sgt. MacGown and Sgt. Baughard put their two dogs through some of their training showing how they held only their master's commands.

The club voted to donate $10.00 to the Patrick Henry Boy's Plantation in Brookmeade, Virginia. A home for boys from broken families, abandoned, etc. It is not a home for delinquents and is non-denominational.

Bayside Junior Woman's Club. Collects $207.25 on Mothers' March.

According to Mrs. J. E. Powell, president of the club, the Bayside Junior Woman's Club collected $207.25 on the Mothers' March for P.O.

This amount was collected in the Bayville Park and Baylake Pines areas.

Members participating were: Mrs. W. O. Mitchell, Mrs. F. R. DeLoach, Mrs. J. D. Froude, Mrs. E. E. DeLoach, Mrs. M. R. Ingram, Mrs. J. E. Powell, Mrs. R. L. Ingram, Mrs. T. D. Burnett, Mrs. M. D. Williford and Mrs. J. J. Hupman.

Bayside Junior Woman's Club Meets At New Bayville Bowl

The Bayside Junior Woman's Club held their monthly meeting at the beautiful new Bayville Bowl. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. S. Hood and Mrs. D. S. Hood.

The club voted to hold two Joe Bon Dollars at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center in the near future. Mrs. J. Ingram is in charge of arrangements.

The club will sponsor the Bloodmobile at the Galtier Club at Little Cross Amphitheater. Blood February 17 from 8:30 until 11:30 a.m. Mrs. J. Ingram is in charge.

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

"One of the benefits of inflation," says the contemporary sage, "is that kids can no longer get sick on a nickel's worth of candy."

RESEED LADINO CLOVER IN TALL-GRASS PASTURE

Good stands of orchardgrass or tall fescue from which ladino clover has been lost, or is weak can be improved by reseeding the clover. If the ladino clover has disappeared from your tall grass pasture and you still have a good stand of grass, reseed the ladino clover without destroying your grass sod. It can be re-established quickly and with little cost in comparison to completely reseeding the pasture.

Follow these steps in reseeding your ladino clover:
1.—Be sure you have met the lime requirements. The pH should be between 6.0 and 6.5. If your soil has not been tested recently, have a soil test made to determine the lime requirements and fertility level.

Adequate Plant Food
2.—Provide adequate plant food. Topdress your pasture with from 400 to 800 pounds per acre of 0-14-14 or, if potash is low, 0-10-20 fertilizer.

Seeding
3.—a. Seeding Rate
Seed 2 to 3 pounds of Certified Ladino Clover per acre. For more grazing the first year, 5 pounds of red clover may be added.

b.—Seeding Methods
Different methods of seeding may be used successfully depending on conditions:
1. Seed with a drill when the soil is soft enough for the disc to cut through. Let the seed fall in the but just back of the disc. Set the drill to cover the seed about 1 inch. Disc lightly, seed immediately following discing and roll to cover the seed and firm the sod back into contact with the soil. This can be done in one operation with a cultipacker seeder following the disc.
2. If 25% or more of the soil is exposed, seed without any soil preparation and let the seed freeze and thaw into the soil.
3. Seed early, as soon as weather permits.

Grass Reseeded Area
5. Graze the reseeded area closely and quickly until June to give the young seedlings a chance to grow. Each time the grass reaches an average height of 4 to 5 inches, it should be grazed back to two inches, to prevent shading and crowding out the new ladino clover plants before they have become well established. Enough animals should be used to graze the reseeded area in 3 days or less.

Ladino is the best pasture legume we have at present for tall grass-legume pastures. As a feed for livestock and as a nitrogen fixing plant for pastures, it is too valuable to leave out of tall grass pastures. With careful management and reseeding as necessary, farmers can profit by using ladino clover as the principal legume in tall grass-legume pastures.

TIME TO SEED RED CLOVER

Red clover should be seeded in late winter for best stands. The first to the middle of February is generally preferred.

Usually red clover is seeded in small grain. Seed 12 to 15 pounds per acre alone. Several methods of seeding are used, such as broadcast casting followed by harrowing or discing, seeding with a grain drill, or discing lightly and seeding with a seeding attachment on a cultipacker or with a roller type seeder. Any of these methods may be used successfully. Regardless of the method used, the seed should be covered lightly but never more than 1 inch.

NECTARINES FOR VIRGINIA

The nectarine is a horticultural variation of the peach. The fruits have a smooth, fuzzless skin, are usually smaller than peaches, and have a distinctive flesh texture, flavor, and aroma. Tree characteristics are identical with those of the peach.

In the past, attempts at commercial production of nectarines in the Eastern United States have been very discouraging. The varieties available were quite susceptible to brown rot, tender to frost, and were not of a size that could compete with the Western grown varieties. Until the advent of the organic insecticides, control of plum curculio was almost impossible.

Several varieties have recently been developed for the East. Although they are not as large as those grown in the West, they are of acceptable size, far less susceptible to brown rot, and considerably more frost hardy.

The nectarine breeding program at VPI has resulted in the recent introduction of four new varieties adapted to the commercial fruit areas of Virginia.

Scientists Report Progress in "Wheel Track" Corn Planting
A new approach to the old business of planting corn may be worth trying on some farms this coming season.

The "wheel track" method of corn planting has been under study for several years now—and last year it looked good. The scientists tried the new approach in five places in Virginia last year. In all cases corn yields were as high, with less wear and less cultivation, as with the usual corn planting methods.

Barr's Pharmacy Having Contest

Some lucky person will win a beautiful chestnut colt, riding equipment and a trip to Hollywood in an intriguing contest announced today by Mr. Sam Mason of Barr's Rexall Pharmacy. Besides the grand prize winner, 1000 other persons will win second-place prizes of Westinghouse portable seven-transistor radios.

The Win-the-Colt Sweepstakes begins Monday, February 13. Any one may receive a free entry blank simply by asking at Barr's, or any other Rexall Drug Store, about Rexall Super Penamjins, America's largest selling vitamin-mineral product.

Complete details of the contest will be given Sunday, February 12, by Lori Martin, star of the Rexall television show, "National Velvet". Sponsored by Mr. Mason and his fellow Rexall druggists throughout the nation, the show is seen locally on WAVY Channel 10.

In addition to the colt, the grand prize winner receives a saddle and bridle, $1,000 for boarding and stabling the colt, plus a complete riding outfit and a seven-day, all-expense-paid plane trip for two to Hollywood. While there, he or she will visit MGM Studios to tour the set and meet the cast of "National Velvet".

If the winner prefers, Mr. Mason pointed out, he may elect to accept $1,000 in cash in lieu of the grand prize.

TVDC GETS SPECIAL

AWARD AT MEETING

The Tidewater Virginia Development Council has received a special award for being the first state industrial group to use a recreational theme in its national advertising program.

In a citation from the Virginia Travel Council, TVDC was honored for "contributing to the state's recreational advertising." "The purpose of a 'good living' theme in industrial advertising," said Clarence H. Osthagen, TVDC vice president and executive director, "is to show industrialists in overcrowded and highly urbanized cities in other states that we can give them an attractive industrial climate where they can also get away from ulcers and go fishing occasionally."

Osthagen added it has been proved that many industrial moves are prompted by overcrowded conditions and insufficient room for expansion. Once the move is decided upon, the next thing an industry often looks for is a good place to live.

"We do not ignore the arguments on pure industrial advantage," said Osthagen, "but it pays to show your advantages regarding living conditions, too."

Road Help Is Sought By Council

City Council has requested the Southeastern Virginia Regional Planning Commission to seek a general survey of Virginia Beach Boulevard looking into the advisability of making it a six-lane highway during peak traffic hours and eliminating unnecessary crossings.

Councilmen also gave a courtesy to potential visitors in a resolution addressed to the State Highway Department.

"At certain hours of the day," that resolution said, "traffic is almost at a standstill and the traffic condition is tending to choke off the growth and progress of one of the largest tourist areas in the state."

Attention was called to the missing sections and unimproved parts of the feeder lanes between Lynnhaven Village and Norfolk and to the idea of lighting U.S. 58 for safer driving at night.

The six-lane highway proposal would develop if the north feeder road carried only west-bound traffic in the morning rush hours and the south feeder handled east-bound traffic in the corresponding afternoon hours.

Suggested timing for the one-way travel was 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m.

The action underlines council's realization that new highway construction money is out of the realm of possibility in the immediate future and that any alleviation for the burdened Virginia Beach-Norfolk thoroughfare must come quickly as a temporary measure.

In other considerations, the state was asked to take a hand in helping to build an ocean highway in the intervening years and the Playhouse request to put up a new Avenue.

Jazz Festival Dates Set For July 13 And 14

The Third Virginia Beach Jazz Festival, scheduled for July 13 and 14, may well establish this resort city as the jazz capital of the Eastern seaboard, in view of the fact that rowdiness and public drunkenness have doomed annual celebrations elsewhere.

Tommy Gwaltney, popular Tide-water orchestra leader and producer of the Virginia Beach Festival, is aiming his sights at a 4,000-capacity audience each night and is constructing a Convention Center Plaza to move the concerts outdoors for the first time.

Gwaltney points out that the first two festivals attracted hundreds of people with real appreciation of true jazz music whereas in some places, such as Newport, R.I., gangs of hoodlums and drunkards troublemakers caused the city fathers to withdraw permission for similar celebrations in the future.

Last year's festival here proved to be one of the most successful in the country. It was so successful, in fact, that several recording companies have expressed interest in covering the 1961 event and "Downtown" and "Beat-norms," the two leading national publications in the popular music field, have offered to provide masters of ceremony.

The Virginia Beach producer said there was considerable difficulty at other festivals, notably Randall's Island, N.Y., and Philadelphia, Detroit, and Pittsburgh. Only at Atlantic City in the East was the crowd large and orderly.

In spite of the fact that more nationally-known talent will be on hand this year, Gwaltney intends to keep the price scale the same as last year, beginning with a $5 top.

In event inclement weather hits the pioneer outdoor venture, plans have been made to take care of the crowds in the Dome auditorium by giving two performances each night.

FRANK HODGKINS TAKES POSITION IN W. VA.

Frank Hodgkins, well-known resort hotel and private club operator, who has been in the Tidewater area for the past six years, most recently as manager of the Sir Walter Hotel at Virginia Beach, has been appointed manager of the Charleston Tennis Club at Charleston, W. Va., and will begin his new duties there on March 1st.

Telethon Highlights Drive

Young Demos In Unity Caucus

Party stalwarts from 25 states and the District of Columbia will gather here March 3 and 4 for a unity caucus of the Southeastern Region, Young Democrats of America.

The presidents, national committeemen and national committeewomen have been invited, in addition to officers and distinguished elder statesmen.

Virginia Beach Princess Anne President E. A. (Sonny) Culverhouse, general chairman, and recently-elected Virginia President David Brown of Abingdon, among others.

The two-day get-together is calculated to decide the role the District of Columbia and nine other states whose representatives will back in the warmth of Southern hospitality and participate in the unity deliberations.

The usual state-by-state bloc will be on hand, of course, along with the District of Columbia and nine other states whose representatives will back in the warmth of Southern hospitality and participate in the unity deliberations.

A rundown of the states to be represented at Thunderbird Motor Hotel caucuses headquarters makes old political hands wonder about what limits, if any, can be placed on the "World South."

Chairman for that affair and the dance to follow is W. E. Hall, Jr. Other chairmen are: Mrs. Elsie Gilliam, registration; William H. Phillips, special gifts; Donald Fenton, special activities, and Jack Wilder, entertainment.

CREWS ELECTED HEAD OF MOTEL ASSOCIATION

K. B. Crews, resident manager of the Holiday Sands Hotel, here is the new president of the Virginia Motel Association. He succeeds Willis Moore of Richmond.

Crews' election to the top post among motels throughout the state came at the annual convention held earlier this week in Arlington. More than 300 were in attendance.

Booster Go-Ahead Signal Given By Beach Erosion Commission

The Virginia Beach Erosion Commission today gave the go-ahead signal to speed up construction of its new booster station when it authorized its consulting engineers to request bids on the $50,000 project.

The announcement of a bond issue to cover the program is in the middle of the 30-day public notice period and Edward H. Church, chairman of the commission, expects no difficulty in selling the issue at the expiration of that period in about two weeks.

The plant will be electrically operated and automatically controlled from the "mother" dredge in Lake Rudee. The present booster, which is diesel-powered, has been the subject of considerable complaint from residents of the 6th Street area where it is located. In addition, the old booster is pumping sand several blocks north of its original limits and the new plant not only will relieve the strain on the present equipment but also will provide an expanded range of effectiveness.

Specifications for the machinery and a building to house it were drawn by Langley and McDonald, Norfolk consulting engineers, and call for expenditure of $40,251.

The new sand pumper will be placed at the south end of the boardwalk at 7th Street and its predecessor will be moved grade.

Bloodmobile To Visit Here Next Thursday

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is scheduled to visit Virginia Beach next Thursday March 2 and the visit is to be sponsored by the Virginia Beach Rotary Club.

Red Cross officials have notified the local Rotary Club that the quota on this visit will be 135 pints. It was pointed out that the average donations for the past three visits of the Bloodmobile to Virginia Beach has been 81 pints.

It was also pointed out that unless more blood is collected here in the future there is a strong possibility that visits will be discontinued and that the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne area will no longer be classified as a participating area in the blood program.

Should it become necessary to discontinue the Bloodmobile visits here then anyone in this area needing blood would be charged at the rate of $35 per pint.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Convention Center next Thursday between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4 p.m. Everyone who can is urged to visit the Bloodmobile and donate a pint of blood.

GENERAL HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN FOR $950,000 BEGINS IN APRIL

Second Woman

Jaycees Name Mrs. Robert D. Wilson Beach's First Citizen

Mrs. Robert D. Wilson has been selected as Virginia Beach's "First Citizen for 1961" by a committee of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Presentation of the Award is scheduled to be made at a banquet to be held at 7:30 Tuesday night, February 28th at the Dunes Hotel. The public is invited. Reservations should be made at the Dunes Hotel, GA 8-7721 not later than Sunday February 26.

The announcement climaxed several weeks of balloting and screening of qualifications by the Jaycee committee. According to George F. Darden Jr., Chairman of the First Citizen Committee, the interest and response for the First Citizen Award by the people of Virginia Beach has far exceeded any previous year.

Selection of Mrs. Wilson was made on the basis of her many notable contributions to the Community, the foremost being the founding of the Virginia Beach Friends Meeting in which she takes an active and vital part. She has gained recognition on a national scale by her many articles which have appeared in magazines and newspapers. Her outstanding contribution to the Educational Welfare of the Community is her leadership in establishing the Virginia Beach Friends School. Mrs. Wilson has for a number of years been active in the Princess Anne County Jail and worked with prisoners and their families. Other social welfare activities include work with the Florence Crittenton Home and the Children's Foster Home.

Mrs. Wilson's activities have found her active in many civic undertakings. She has served as chairman of the Library committee at W. T. Cooke School, a member of the children's theatre committee, chairman of a committee to improve contents in comic books. In addition the 1960 "First Citizen" is a volunteer worker in the public library.

Mrs. Wilson served as staff aid chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile from 1953 through 1959. She is a former member of the Princess Anne County Red Cross Board, has served on committee for Heart Fund and United Fund. She has also spoken to several civic clubs on community projects. Born Louise Brown in Woodland, North Carolina, Mrs. Wilson completed her high school education at Western Friends School in Westtown, Penn. Thereafter she attended Guilford College near Greensboro, North Carolina where she met her husband, Robert D. Wilson. They were married in June, 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson reside at 113 Pinewood Road, Linkhorn Park, Virginia Beach. Mr. Wilson is president of the Tidewater Plywood Corporation. Their two children, Diane and Robert, Jr., are currently boarding at the same high school attended by their mother—Western Friends School.

Mrs. Wilson joins a distinguished list of recipients of the First Citizen Award. They are James G. Kontopoulos, 1950; E. B. Bayne, 1951; J. Peter Holland, III, 1952; Woody Seaman, 1953; Mrs. Gilmore Lee Tibbott, 1954; Dr. Robert W. Woodhouse, 1955; R. Lee Page, 1956; Sidney S. Keilam, 1957; Rhea Adams, 1958 and Frank D. Tarrall, Jr. 1959.

JUNIOR CLUB'S DANCE SET TOMORROW NIGHT

The Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County is bringing Warren Covington and the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra here for a dance Friday night at the Convention Center from 9 p.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are available from any member of the club and will be on sale at the Convention Center, Thursday and Friday, Feb. 23 and 24 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Proceeds will go to the Princess Anne Memorial Hospital and to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Library.

94-BED FACILITY'S SCHEDULE CALLS FOR COMPLETION OF INITIAL PHASE THIS SUMMER

The General Hospital of Virginia Beach campaign for $950,000 will begin in April with the hope of completing the first phase of the building and renovating program by late summer.

Board of Directors President George D. Brooke has announced that three co-chairmen have been named to head the drive which is expected to culminate in an eventual 94-bed, open-staff facility to serve the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne area.

The leaders who will assist in the fund-raising drive are:

Willard R. Ashburn, a former Norfolk attorney who is president of Smith-Douglas Co., Inc.; Hunter C. Phelan, retired president of Colonial Stores and a director of the National Bank of Commerce; and F. S. Royter, Jr., board chairman of the F. S. Royter Guano Co.

The advance and special gift solicitation already is underway and campaign directors say preliminary results are highly encouraging.

The overall cost of the proposed development is estimated at $1,022,000, with $772,000 anticipated in federal-state funds.

The General Hospital board is non-profit and was chartered last year by the State of Virginia. A three-step program is envisaged, beginning with the purchase and remodeling of the present facility, the Virginia Beach Hospital at 25th Street and Atlantic Avenue. This plan would increase the number of beds available from 36 to 62.

Next step would be acquisition of adjacent property upon which, at the proper time, a substantial addition would be constructed. The completed facility would provide medical, surgical, obstetrical and pediatric treatment and would alleviate what board members consider to be a serious shortage of hospital service in this fast-growing community.

Four doctors use the existing proprietary hospital while the remaining 85 per cent of the doctors and their patients at the Beach are in Princess Anne County must travel by busy highways to Norfolk, at least an hour's drive under present driving conditions. The Norfolk hospitals themselves are experiencing crowded conditions and frequent shortages of available beds.

Notes of Ashburn Government authorities have noted the growing population in this area with alarm since, according to accepted standards, the population does not have access to sufficient hospital beds. The Virginia Beach Hospital is already carrying a maximum patient load and must be enlarged to operate on an open staff basis.

The board has developed its plans with the counsel of Dr. W. T. Sanger and Walter L. Beale, outstanding consultants, and David T. Fitz-Gibbon, prominent architect. The auxiliary facilities necessary for a 94-bed hospital have all been included according to standards suggested by the American Hospital Association, and the structure of the medical staff, already in process of organization, has been set up as recommended by the American Medical Association. All qualified physicians, including dentists, will be eligible for staff privileges.

Members of the hospital board have personally assumed the costs of the campaign. The Board expects to place the present hospital in operation by late summer as an open staff 32-bed facility while the addition is being constructed.

SEAHAWKS, CAVALIERS DEFEAT RUGGED FOES

The Virginia Beach Seahawks and the Princess Anne Cavaliers won basketball games Tuesday night over formidable foes and both schools are enjoying one of their best seasons in the sport.

The Cavaliers triumphed 44-34 against the American Hospital Association, and the Seahawks won 30-24 over the Eastern District play just behind Wilson, Craddock and Newport News, three teams tied for the lead.

Lynne Jones and Billy Boyce led the Cavaliers Tuesday night with 18 and 17 points, respectively. Dependable George Chappell led Virginia Beach over Chesapeake Tuesday with a whopping 28 pts. R. Left the Seahawks with an 11-0 record in district play.

Mrs. James W. Allen Jr., ways and means chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

YOUR CONGRESSMAN REPORTS

By Thomas N. Downing

After almost two months of legislative inactivity, during which Congress occupied itself solely with the problems of internal organization, the House of Representatives is now settling down to consider President Kennedy's 5-Point legislative program.

Of course, it is too early to predict the outcome of the 87th Congress' deliberations on the new Administration's legislative program. But one thing is clear: the program is going to receive particularly careful and careful study before the Congress makes any decision to accept or reject any part of it.

The study may or may not be completed in the first session, because even though most aspects of the Administration's program have already been considered by the Congress in previous years, the complexity of our current domestic and international economic situation demand that no bill be passed into law without the most exacting study of its effect on the Nation's total economy.

Five major proposals are considered to be essential to the Administration's legislative program. They are:

- (1) Increase the federal minimum wage and extend its coverage.
- (2) Provide federal aid to depressed areas.
- (3) Provide federal aid for housing.
- (4) Provide federal aid for education.
- (5) Provide medical care for our aged under the Federal Social Security system.

Obviously, this is an expensive package of legislative proposals, and no national legislator could be credited with a responsible view of his task if he failed to weigh the advantages and disadvantages of each before casting his vote. This deliberation is a solemn responsibility, and it cannot be diminished by prior legislative proposals.

Of course, this is not to say that an important amount of time must be spent on the Administration's program, because it is true that much of the basic legislative work on the program has already been accomplished in previous years.

As a matter of fact, the 86th Congress considered the program in detail, and it cannot be diminished by prior legislative proposals. Here is a brief rundown on the status of the 5-point program:

I. Minimum Wage. Taken over last year, the Roosevelt bill to increase the minimum wage to $1.25 and extend coverage of the Fair Labor Standards Act to employees in retail trade and service industries attracted widespread opposition. Both Houses passed a minimum wage bill, however, although both bills died in a House-Senate conference last August. The House bill provided for increasing the minimum wage to $1.15 without extending coverage of the Fair Labor Standards Act. This year, many House members seem to be placing greater emphasis on extending FLSA coverage to about 6 million retail trade and service industry employees, less emphasis on the $1.25 an hour minimum. President Kennedy has asked Congress to raise the minimum wage immediately to $1.15 an hour and then progressively to $1.25 within two years along with the extended coverage.

II. Federal Aid to Depressed Areas.

The 86th Congress passed S. 722 to provide a program of federal relief for depressed or distressed areas. The bill was vetoed by President Eisenhower. The Senate attempted to override the Presidential veto, but failed to obtain the necessary two-thirds vote. This year, there is not likely to be a Presidential veto and many members are predicting passage of a "revolving" fund type of relief program for depressed areas.

III. Federal Aid to Housing. Two years ago, Congress approved 37,000 public housing units for construction, but last year's omnibus public housing program (H.R. 19603) failed to gain necessary support. President Kennedy is now proposing an omnibus public housing program, along with urban renewal and suburban development programs. He is considering creation of a cabinet-level department for urban renewal to be called the Department of Urban Affairs.

IV. Federal Aid to Education. This is expected to be the major battle of the 87th Congress. Last year, the House passed H.R. 10128 to provide federal funds for school construction. The Senate passed a bill that made federal funds available for both school construction and teachers' salaries. Congress adjourned before a House-Senate conference could be reached, and so both bills died without further action. This year, there seems to be little doubt that a federal aid to education bill will be passed, but there is disagreement as to proper content of the bill.

V. Aged Medical Care—Social Security. Many members will never forget the 86th Congress for many reasons, but one major memory would have to be the battle that raged over the Forand bill—a bill that provides medical care for the aged under the social security system. The social security approach to aged medical care was supported by members, but it was bitterly opposed by the Eisenhower Administration (which proposed a Medicare plan with voluntary characteristics), and conservatives in Congress. The Forand bill was finally rejected by the House Ways and Means Committee, and Congress passed a limited program of aged medical care which functioned through established state relief channels. President Kennedy has asked Congress to pass Forand-type legislation this year and he has also asked for liberalization of other aspects of a federal aid program.

If members give proper scrutiny to the detailed content of all of these legislative proposals, the first meeting of the 87th Congress could well remain in session until next Thanksgiving—not a pleasant prospect to be sure. But pleasant or not, the interests of the American people may demand that this be a long, hard session.

Khedive Temple To Fete Stinson At Dance Friday

Khedive Temple Shrine throughout the seventeen counties within the jurisdiction of the Temple will honor illustrious Potentate Harry L. Stinson, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Stinson at a ball and buffet to be held in the Mosque, Freemason and Duke Streets, Friday, February 24th at 8 p.m.

Illustrious Noble Stinson has served the Temple in many of its activities over the years including Marshal, First Ceremonial Master and Second Ceremonial Master of the Rites of the Temple. He has 14 years of service with Khedive Temple and was Director of Uniform Units for one year. As Director of pilgrimages to Imperia Council Sessions for several years it was his duty to arrange transportation and hotel accommodations for some 350 to 400 nobles and their wives whether it be in Miami, New York, Chicago or elsewhere in North America.

For these many services the Nobility of Khedive Temple is justly proud of their recently elected Potentate.

Following the Grand March the illustrious Potentate and his guests will be presented.

The remainder of the evening will be given over to dancing with music furnished by Jack O'Neill and his orchestra.

Fashion Show At John B. Dey

The John B. Dey PTA will present a fashion show in the school auditorium on Thursday, February 23rd at 8 p.m. Proceeds from the sale of tickets are to be used to furnish new books for the school library.

Clothes are to be furnished by Rose, Hall, and the models are teachers, students and mothers of the school. They include the following: Mrs. Lee Forbes, Mrs. Cary Filton, Miss Lorena Weatherly, Mrs. E. W. Keegan, Jr., Mrs. Robert Stroud, Mrs. Alfred T. Yerger, Mrs. A. E. Conrad, Mrs. H. C. Meyer, Mrs. R. L. Love, Harriet Walker, and Millie Danner.

Music during the show will be played by Miss Barbara Popek and Miss Mary Agnes Connor. Refreshments will be served after the show, given, donated by local merchants.

Committees working on the show include the following: Ward and Means, Mrs. P. Ray Sheld, Door Prizes, Mrs. V. E. Bryan, Refreshments, Mrs. B. W. Williams, Mrs. K. B. Williams, Decorations, Mrs. E. B. Caldwell, Mrs. J. P. Tyler, Publicity, Mrs. F. H. Weller. Tickets are sponsored by Oceana, Beach, Ocean, Va. Admission, $1.00.

AUXILIARY OF TROOP 65 HOLDS MEETING

The Women's Auxiliary of Troop 65 had their February meeting in the home of Mrs. W. S. Woody. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. W. S. Woody. The ladies feel very fortunate in being able to purchase the necessary equipment, such as axes and Trail Chef Cooking Kits.

The girls for March, repair of Scout equipment, making duff bags, and a bake sale, were brought forth by Mrs. Fred Cooke.

The ladies attending the meeting were Mrs. E. W. Lakeman, Mrs. T. Perkins, Mrs. J. Sitter, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. W. S. Woody, Mrs. F. B. Cooke, Mrs. J. Robins, Mrs. M. Schwartz, Mrs. J. McGeehan, Mrs. J. Hudson, Mrs. C. B. Ewin.

FOR THE CHURCH DOUBLE PROTECTION

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Somehow we don't think of the baby's bassinet as a "scientific development." But it is. It has been designed to protect a child from exterior hazards—and from himself.

Religion isn't what we would call "scientific." But it, too, embraces this theory of double protection.

The man or woman who worships God faithfully is prepared for the unexpected crises in life. And his mature conscience is ready to cope with temptation.

This isn't to say that nothing ever goes wrong for the ardent church-goer. But he meets each outward or inward challenge with adequate spiritual resources.

There are compelling reasons why you need the Church and its underlying strength. And for every one that is evident today, there are others you'll confront tomorrow.

German Exchange Student Speaks To Princess Anne Woman's Club

Robert Volkmar Erwin Blum, an exchange student at Princess Anne High School from Schweinfurt, Bavaria, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Women's Club of Princess Anne County, Tuesday at the Pine Tree Inn.

Blum spoke to the ladies of the club about the school system in his country.

"Students entering high school must take entrance examinations," Blum explained. School hours are 8:00 a.m. until 12, Monday through Saturday.

Blum related his first day at Princess Anne High School, and joked about getting lost during change of classes. He said in Bavaria the students are assigned to one room and the teachers move about. He stated that the German people would willingly surrender all their worldly possessions if by so doing could unite Germany again.

Members voted to donate $25.00 to the Virginia Society for the Prevention of Blindness; $10.00 to Radio Free Europe and a $10.00 membership to the Virginia Council on Social Welfare.

Mrs. M. B. Zoll, chairman of the nominating committee presented a slate of officers to be elected at the March meeting.

Mrs. Foster Gilbert, a club member and president of the advisory board of directors of the Atlantic Mental Hygiene Clinic, reported that the clinic was a ripping success. She explained to the ladies where and how funds were spent and was loud in praise of the contributions given by the club from proceeds of the Annual Antique Show.

The club's Pine Arts Department will sponsor a Tea and Art Exhibit on March 7th at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church. Hours will be 2-4. Blue ribbon winners will go to the Chamberlain Hotel on March 22nd for district judging.

Mrs. George L. Aldridge, music chairman, introduced Mrs. Marie C. VanBuskirk, soloist. Mrs. George E. Miller was program chairman.

Dorothy Andrews, Thomas Martinette Exchange Vows

Green tulle gown and cascades of burgundy chrysanthemums were the bridal attendants' outfits in the wedding Saturday of Miss Dorothy Andrews and Thomas Woodrow Martinette.

The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed at Fairmount Park Free Will Baptist Church with the Rev. Fred A. Rivenbark officiating.

The minister posed the daughter of Mrs. Louis M. Cole of Bay-side and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Martinette of Princess Anne.

Louis M. Cole gave his step-daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of tulle and Chantilly lace fashioned with long sleeves, lace panels in the skirt and chapel train. On her Bible she carried an orchid arranged with Stephanotis.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. J. E. Huggins of Crewe, was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Misses Pamela Derrickson, Kathy Stephenson and Anna Peterson.

Little Miss Pamela Andrews was flower girl, and she wore a white tulle dress.

Mr. Martinette was best man for his son. Groomsmen were Al Etheridge, Cecil Martinette and Michael Martinette Jr., brothers of the bridegroom, both of Norfolk; Charles Tynor, and Charles Hicks, the bride's uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Jaffray, who reside on Lake Shore Drive, are spending two weeks at Sea Island, Georgia.

Recent Bride

Betty Holland Becomes Bride of O. T. Chaplin, Jr.

Palms, ferns, and arrangements of white gladioli, lilies, and carnations formed the background for the marriage of Miss Betty Marie Holland to Mr. Oscar Stuart Chaplin, Jr., Saturday evening, February 18 at eight o'clock at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. James H. Slattery, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas Holland, Altavista. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Chaplin, Sr. of Princess Anne.

Miss Ashley Coleman, soloist, and Mrs. C. N. Cumstock, organist, provided a program of nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length formal gown of ivory silk, peau de sole designed with intermingled length sleeves and a fitted bodice. Re-embroidered Alencon lace studded with seed pearls and tiny sequins formed the scalloped portrait neckline. From the bow at the back swept the very full unpressed pleated skirt into a chapel train. A three tiered veil of ivory imported silk illusion was attached to a crown of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of white orchids and lily of the valley.

Miss Caroline Holleman of Surry, Va., and Averett College was maid of honor. She wore a street-length frock of emerald green peau de sole fashioned with a bell-shaped skirt and scalloped neckline ending in a V'd back and short cape sleeves. Tiny bows accented the shoulders and the back waistline. Matching in color were the satin slippers and head piece of velvet leaves with attached circular nose veil. She carried a crescent bouquet of pale yellow cymbidium orchids.

Other attendants were Miss Brenda Stout, Altavista, and Medical College of Virginia, Miss Robin Williams, niece of the groom, Richmond, Miss Marcia McCallin, Bluefield, W. Va., and Westhampton College, and Mrs. George T. Cochran of Arlington. They wore matching costumes and carried bouquets similar to the honor attendant's.

Mr. Anthony C. Williams of Richmond and the University of Richmond, was his uncle's best man. Mr. Vaden W. DeJarnette, Arlington, Mr. David D. Lackey, Richmond and the Univ. of Richmond, and Mr. Donald M. Holland, brothers of the bride, were groomsmen.

Mrs. Holland wore a beauteous dress of coco French lace and peau de sole and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Chaplin's dress was of green lace over tulle and she added beige cymbidiums at her shoulder.

For her traveling costume, the bride wore a navy suit of wool crepe with navy and white accessories. She added the orchid from her bouquet as her corsage.

Mrs. Chaplin is a graduate of Altavista High School and attended Westhampton College. Mr. Chaplin is a graduate of Oceana High School and Oak Ridge Military Institute. After a European tour of duty with the U.S. Army, he attended Randolph-Sacon College where he was a member of Kappa Sigma. The couple will make their home in Oceana.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception immediately following the ceremony at the Dalton House. Mrs. K. G. Stenbridge, Mrs. N. P. Lewis, Mrs. B. P. Guthrie, Mrs. J. A. Taylor, and Mrs.

Mrs. Oscar Stuart Chaplin, Jr.

Commercial Bowling League

As the action in the Virginia Beach Commercial League passed the half-way mark in the third round, five teams are battling for the lead.

The big surprise of this round was Holt Bulck's move in his bid for the title. Led by Stan Calhoun's 176 set, the Auto-mo-downed the leader, Smith-Keene, three to one. N. Boucher's 225 game was the best for this week's play.

Phantoms tied the Jets.

Bill's Suncos won 3 points over Do-Busters.

Thompson's Amoco won 3 p.m. over Demon's.

For example, if the ball is released six inches from the right hand edge of the lane when trying to convert the ten pin, then the gutter is pushed further away, the mental block it caused in the first place is correspondingly overcome. The whole thing is purely psychological, so accept it as such. When throwing cross-lane, in-scribe an imaginary white line diagonally down the lane and attempt to direct the ball down this line. Try it; you've got nothing to lose because you're missing those 7 and 10 pins anyway.

THOUGHTFUL TOPICS—One general question often asked is why the 4-step approach is supposed to be so much better than the 5- or 6-step approaches. Of course, there are many top-notch bowlers who use the latter two but the 4-step is more universally used. In most cases it's simply a matter of individual habit but the 4-step provides the best balance between performance and distance. The approach area is governed by the regulation; while moving from one end to the other the bowler must acquire proper speed, correct alignment along pre-determined points, and optimum position of feet, arms and body at the exact moment of ball release. The coordination required between arms, legs and mind must be achieved while traveling this set distance. The fast approach can cause inaccuracy because one slightly false step cannot be quickly corrected. This is more likely to occur with a 3-step approach because the goal of proper delivery must be achieved in three movements. On the other hand, a 5-step approach may result in overshooting the foul line. The 4-step approach, therefore, seems to be the happy medium between the extremes that appeals to the largest number of bowlers. See you next week. In the meantime, get your kids out of the streets and lanes and into the lanes.

A real important proposal that will benefit league bowlers is to use last season's average in all sanctioned tournaments—unless your present average is improved by 7 pins or more, then use the current highest average based on a certain number of games... the American Bowling Congress is the watchdog of the game and has raised it to the high level it enjoys today.

DID YOU KNOW... that the ABC set the weight limit for ten-pin bowling at 14 lbs. and three pounds 10 ounces... that with the pros, three pounds, four ounces pins are considered "heavy"... that the heavier the wood the better the ball spin is required for pin action; with three pound wood a ball with no spin will mix them easy... that bowling pins are 15 inches high... that to use the word "alley" for "lane" indicates you wasted a considerable portion of your high school years in establishments not approved by the Student School group... that a fanciful legend has it that savage tribes once used the sun-dried skulls of vanquished enemies for bowling balls, with the eyes sockets for grips, and flattened thigh bones as pins... sounds about like the game I'm rolling with the grips personally drilled into my wrist and flattened thigh bones would surely mix and topple better than some of the pins I've been shooting at lately... set you didn't know that Bob Pinkalla's 268-300-269-837 was the highest 3-game series rolled in 1961... and that in the same match his brother, Wayne, rolled 270-300-254-833 for the third highest... this was in a three-man league; and what was the third man doing?... he stumbled through a 269-236-216 series for a measly 734 set... the middle game and series total both set world records... anyone earling to shoot at these records may form their own team.

TENPIN TIME—The depression on either side of the lane and extending its full length is known by many names, not all of which are printable or repeated in mixed company. However, the word "gutter" has been most widely accepted; somehow the title of "channel" sounds too-toe something or other. Most of us go along with the change from alley to lane because of the higher level connotation but "channel" indicates the change is being carried to affectation. Therefore, gutter it is and it's the culprit guilty of putting a mental block on more than one bowler. Leave the 7 or 10 pins and some bowlers may as well not tie themselves by throwing the ball. This is because that chasm (gutter) looms cavernous and pulls the ball into it like a magnet. Which is why one should always attempt the conversion cross-lane. Lay the ball down along the extreme left-hand edge of the lane for the 10-pin, and along the extreme right-hand edge of the lane for the 7-pin. In effect, this "pushes" the gutter away from the path of the ball.

Nixon Electric won 3 p.m. over Ellyson & Adams.

Hill Horner again, the high game for the evening with a 223.

C. P. Kadus Co. won 4 points over Blackwater Co. 2-2.

City Service Co. won 4 p.m. over Davis Corner.

Va. Beach No. 3 won 4 p.m. over Lynnhaven Const.

Krauss Const. Co. won 4 points over Blackwater No. 1.

Junior Bowlers Post High Marks

Our Children here at Plaza Bowl, bowling in the Junior Bowling League on Saturday, really put some of our adult league bowlers to shame.

Just this Saturday, our young Bill Ashley, while only being 11 years old, got up on the lanes with poise and stability of a natural born "pro", and rolled a 223 311 another future pro, we have Philip Franklin, on the same day with a 176.

We are all very proud here at Plaza Bowl, to have and see such energetic and responsive children, proving that the Bowlers of today, are the pros of tomorrow.

Our entire staff continually look forward to every Saturday, knowing that our children are eager to learn, and are obedient to listen to every word our instructors give each of them.

Many of our young bowlers never even picked up a Ten-Pin Bowling Ball, and are now averaging in the high 120's and 140's. This is a goal to swell our chests as well as our ego.

Here are our young Jr. Bowlers who are leading toward the Trophy finish:

A division—Buddy Mitchell, 147; and Jan Arquette, 110.

B division—George Smith, 166; Sandra Benson, 133.

C division—Bill Ashley, 223; Linda Hubbard, 132.

D division—Randy Henderson, 161; Pam Stokes, 156; Bev Newman, 142.

E division—Larry Price, 166; Donna Cornett, 150.

Keeping Fit In Today's World

By JOHN WARRING

Physical Culture

Olympic Athletic & Health Club

Modern society is more conscious of physical deficiencies than ever before and this fact is fairly obvious when we look at ourselves and others around us. Why? Because most people today lack even a simple norm of physical condition.

This is really no one's fault, we are simply victims of the times. The American way of life has become much easier because of the wide spread use of labor saving devices and other product developments. We now find more time for sedentary activity, overindulgence of food and drink and even worry. The net result—overweight, clothes that refuse to fit, shortness of breath, and that tired feeling. It is widely recognized that physical fitness, coordination, and stamina are important factors in job efficiency and a feeling of well being. Appropriate physical exercises produce many positive and desirable results. For example, the feeling of relaxation enjoyed after participating in a properly supervised exercise routine is one of the beneficial results of such a program. This will usually permit the person to divorce himself temporarily from stress and strain of his regular work. This desirable effect of exercise will frequently provide a means for increased efficiency in his many walks of life.

Many persons in this country tend to use alcoholic beverages as their principal means of relaxation and of getting away from realities of life and the stress and strain of their work. It has been demonstrated that an excessive consumption of alcohol over a prolonged period of time is detrimental to an individual's physical and mental health.

So with all this in mind, what is our point? I think Lawrence B. Tranton said it best in his brief verse "God surveyed his vast domain, then conceived the most unique creature of them all, the human body. He then dedicated it great potential to our keeping. Life has no greater asset than our health. Count your blessings, don't take your God-given health for granted. It's one of life's greatest treasures."

Physical exercise has a positive effect on the individual's health, including the maintenance and establishment of good muscular tone through the body, and this includes the muscle of the heart. Good muscle tone provides numerous benefits to the individual. The elasticity of the sort of great vessels and the proper functioning of the small vessels are important in providing an even flow of blood to the various organs of the body. The veins with their valves act as local pumps for the return of blood to the heart when they are compressed by the muscles which surround them. The better the muscle tone the better is this support for the heart.

Find time for some sensible form of exercise. Take advantage of clubs and other organizations that provide exercise and recreation. If you are not a club member, provide time for your exercise at home. You owe it to yourself and your family.

It's a Man All the Time

Years of Experience, Lots of Know-How Bring Solid Success to Quality Bakery

By JAMES GROTTER

The man is prominent in Virginia Beach business circles, but he uses the name of a woman. Well liked by his friends, he spends most of the daylight hours hiding in huge ovens, and, though his family is provided for in excellent fashion, he is always kneading dough.

Sound like a spy story? It isn't.
It's a pie story.
Max Thurman Moore is Mrs.
Moore's Bakery, and Mrs. Moore doesn't mind his using her name one bit. As a matter of fact, she helped him choose it when they first came to this section from North Carolina.

The superb quality of Moore's bakery products — as practically every housewife in this area can attest — is the result of a master craftsman's years of experience.
For more than 30 years, except for three months, Moore has devoted his life to his specialty.

In The Army Now
Those three months out of harness were not his fault. Seems that back in 1944 a fellow named Uncle Sam had a quaint idea that even bakers should have 90 days of basic Army training and 29-year-old Max Moore was no exception.
Basic completed, it was back to the ovens for Max and off he went to Camp Claiborne, La., to bake for the Engineers stationed there all night then ride a bus to nearby Alexandria where he worked in a bakery all day.

His story begins, however, like so many stories, on a farm. He was the youngest of eight children, whose forebears were tillers of the soil in Guilford County, N.C. His folks started him in first grade in Stokesdale and there he continued his early schooling until a thing called "The Depression" reared its ugly head.

Max Moore at the Ovens

Max's older brother, Coot, was a bakery salesman in Raleigh and there Max went in 1928. Thus, at 14, his apprenticeship began when he started as a pan greaser at 5 a.m. every morning until time to go to school.

In high school, Max discovered there were other things in life besides books and bake shops. A little girl named Dorothy De Lancy, for example, When he was 19 and she was 17 they were married in the due course of events three children were born there: Dorothy Maxine, Jane Grey and Max T. Jr.

Dorothy is now Mrs. James Stanley and Jane is Mrs. William Hall and between them they have presented Max with three grandchildren with, as he happily grins,
"a fourth on the way." Max Jr., 19, is in the Navy.

What's In A Name?
In 1939, the Moores moved to Norfolk where Max worked with the Noid Company until he and a partner opened a small shop at 33rd Street and Colonial Avenue, with all hands agreed that a woman's name would be best for business.

So Mrs. Moore's Bakery operated in Norfolk until Max went into the service. They had decided that Virginia Beach was the growing community in which they wanted to settle.

Thus it was that after Army service the Moores bought a half interest in the Virginia Beach branch of Mrs. Urquhart's business on their own at 32nd St. and Atlantic Avenue, moving to their present location at 400-300th Street in May, 1953.

The two youngest children of their hearty household were born here. Philip David II, and Boyd
Steven II, both attend Linkhorn School and every body is geared to help the bakery when the occasion arises.

The Moores will tell you at their home at 111-54th Street that hard work day and night, plenty of know-how and a keen interest in the community and its people will add up to pie in the sky for anyone who wants to grow with Virginia Beach.

Chapel Sponsors World Mission
Speaking Series

Rev. Richard D. Woodward, pastor of the Virginia Beach Community Church, announced this week that his church will be sponsoring a conference on world missions beginning March 19 and lasting through the 26th of that month.
The conference will begin with the Sunday morning service March 19 and services will be held every night but Saturday during that week. The theme of world missions will be continued during the services on Sunday morning the 20th, and the conference will end with the Sunday evening service on that Sunday. Rev. Woodward announced that his church has been fortunate in obtaining some of the most outstanding missionary teachers and missionaries in the world for this conference. The following is a list of some of the speakers who will appear on the program:

Rev. Larry Love—Former pastor
Bethany Presbyterian Church, Ft.
Lauderdale Fla., presently overseas director for Billy Graham Association.

Rev. R. R. Rudes—Pioneer missionary to previously inaccessible interior of Indonesia.

Rev. Everett Boyce—Missionary candidate to turbulent Congo presently Professor of history at Bryan College.

Rev. Roy Gustafson—Bible teacher and evangelist, member of Billy Graham evangelistic team throughout Australia and Africa
Crusades. Will show films of both Crusades.

Rev. Edwin Walker—Missionary to Haiti, has curios and films.

Rev. Eric Fife—Native of London England, missionary director of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Miss Mindy Byers—Former missionary teacher with Evangelical Schools of Central America.

The evening services will be held at 8:00 p.m. and will be preceded at 7:30 p.m. by an outstanding missionary film. A detailed schedule of speakers showing when they will be speaking will be announced later.

Rev. Woodward and his people cordially invite the people of the Virginia Beach area to all of these services.

Catholic Women's Club

Students Attend
Virginia Forum

A group of Virginia Beach Students traveled to Richmond last Saturday to attend the ninth annual Miller & Rhoads Forum. This interesting meeting brought together twenty-nine foreign exchange students with an equal number of American youths. Panels were held in which life in foreign countries and customs of the people were discussed. Among other countries, the foreign students were from France, Spain, Greece, Turkey, Puerto Rico, Brazil, Japan,
Sweden, the Netherlands, Germany and Africa. All of these visitors to our country are attending schools in Virginia.

Later in the program, folk dances, singing, and other entertainments were presented. Attendance at this forum is one of the requirements for an achievement award from the State Student Cooperative Assn., of which Virginia Beach High School is a member.
Those attending considered the trip a memorable experience.

The students who attended were

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

Impulse (1) Don Edson—Jet-smooth transfer that rivals the luxury cars in everything but price

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well.
Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.

Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royalty as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less bounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less... well you name it.

Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in.
Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voila, you've got Chevy's formula.

And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

See the new Chevrolet cars, Chevy Corvairs and the new Corvettes at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's produced and directed numerous college dramas. He also has done extensive play-by-play sportscasting in Tennessee, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

A veteran of the U.S. Marine

Corps, he is a past Vice President of the Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. He resides with his wife Ellen and their two children in Westwood, Portsmouth,

Virginia.

Stuart T. Saunders, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway, has been elected a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad, it was announced by James M. Symes, chairman of the board. Mr. Saunders' election fills a vacancy created by the retirement from the board of

John A. Diemand, president, Insurance Company of North America.

Mr. Saunders brings to the Pennsylvania board a wide background of experience in the railroad industry. A native of West Virginia, he was graduate from

Roosevelt College in 1930 and Harvard University Law School in 1934. He practiced law in Washington and was a member of the firm of Douglas, Osborn & Campbell from 1936 to 1938.

In April, 1939, he entered the legal department of the Norfolk &

Western at Roanoke, Va., as assistant general solicitor. He was appointed general counsel in October, 1931, and vice president and general counsel in May, 1934. Mr.

Saunders became executive vice president of the Norfolk & Western in October, 1956, and was advanced to the presidency in 1958.

Mr. Saunders is chairman of the board and a director of the A. H.

Hull Steamship Company, America

Coal Shipping, Inc., and the Mutual

Fire Marine and Inland Insurance

Company. He is also a director of the First Pennsylvania Banking &

Trust Company, Philadelphia, the

First and Merchants National Bank of Richmond, and the First National Exchange Bank of Roanoke.

He is a member of the Business

Advisory Council of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Mr. Saunders is president of the board and a trustee of Roanoke

College, and a trustee of Hollins

College. He is a trustee of the Independent College Funds of America, and chairman of the board of trustees of the Virginian Foundation for Independent Colleges.

Active in civic affairs throughout Virginia, Mr. Saunders makes his home in Roanoke.

The MIXING BOWL ... IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

February's Cherry Pie!

Cherry red cherries and snowy flaked coconut lend distinction to this Bavarian Pie. Don't wait for an "occasion" to make it... make it today. Once you've enchanted the family with this simple but festive dessert, you'll be sure to put the recipe in your "most used" file under "Heavenly Desserts".

Cherry Coconut Bavarian Pie
1 package cherry flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups hot water
1/2 cup canned cherry juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup drained canned red sour cherries
1 1/2 cups tender-thin flaked coconut
1/4 cup cream, whipped
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Dissolve cherry fruit-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add fruit juices. Chill until slightly thickened. Then place in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Chop 1/2 cup of cherries. Add to gelatin mixture. Fold in 1/4 cup of the coconut and one-half the whipped cream. Turn into cold pie shell and chill until firm. Spread with remaining whipped cream and garnish with remaining cherries and coconut.

Cherry Pie
2 1/2 to 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 cups (2 No. 2 cans) drained pitted red sour cherries (water-packed)
1/2 cup cherry juice
Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
1 tablespoon butter

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, cherries and juice. Roll half the pastry 1/8 inch thick. Line 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 3/8 inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. To adjust top crust, fold pastry in half or roll loosely on rolling pin; center on filling. Open slits with a knife. (Well-opened slits are important to permit escape of steam during baking.) Trim top crust, allowing it to extend 1/2 inch over rim. To seal, press top and bottom crust together on rim. Then fold edge of top crust under bottom crust and flute. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 55 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

*Cherries packed in syrup may be used. Decrease sugar to 1/2 cup.

For another Cherry Dessert, using Bing cherries try this one and hear your own ring.
Cherry Angel Cake
10 inch Angel Cake
2 cans (1 lb. each) Pitted Bing Cherries
4 package Cherry flavored gelatin
1 cup cherry
1 pint vanilla ice cream cup toasted slivered almonds
1 cup red currant jelly
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup whipping cream
Toasted slivered almonds.

Cut a 1-inch layer from top of cake, remove and save. Cut at center of remaining part of cake, leaving a one-inch outside shell. Fill bottom to 1 inch depth. Drain cherries, save syrup and heat it. Dissolve gelatin in hot syrup. Remove from heat and add cherry. Add vanilla ice cream, stirring until melted. Chill until thickened but not set. Fold one half of cherries into thickened gelatin mixture along with the 1 cup toasted slivered almonds. Spoon into cake shell. Replace cake top, refrigerate overnight. Over a very low heat melt jelly, add grated orange peel and remaining cherries. Cool. At serving time, fill cake center with glazed cherries. Swirl sweetened whipped cream over top of cake, around cherry center, sprinkle with ring of additional toasted slivered almonds.

Woman's Club Sees Fashions

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held their February meeting at Charlie's Restaurant on the Shore Drive, Tuesday, February 14th at 1 p.m.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. E. S. Moore, Mrs. H. W. Fulford, Mrs. D. C. Claypool, Mrs. W. H. Gayland and Mrs. A. L. Zavislenki presented the 1961 slate of officers. There were as follows: President, Mrs. Frederick Rieder, First Vice President, Mrs. Thomas B. Petty, Second Vice President, Mrs. D. C. Claypool, Mrs. H. W. Fulford and Mrs. Thomas B. Petty, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Roy M. Harkness, and Treasurer, Mrs. Ronald K. Irving.

A fashion showing of clothes tailored by club members was presented by the Home Chairman, Mrs. Gordon Oliver. Those modeling were Mrs. Frederick Rieder, Mrs. D. C. Claypool, Mrs. H. W. Fulford and Mrs. Thomas B. Petty. Mrs. Claypool was given the prize for the best style for an all-around outfit best suited to the club woman's wardrobe.

Mrs. Mildred Alexander was speaker for the day. Mrs. Alexander, Woman's Coordinator for WFAR-TV and Radio Station, spoke on the impact of Television and Radio on the Welfare and Health of our country today. She warned that the audience, and it's concern with what or what was not shown on the TV screen, was largely responsible for the emotional stabilization of entertainment of our children and youth.

Mrs. Jean Canning, Health and Mental Health Chairman, arranged the program, and presented each member with a Valentine from her department. Mrs. E. S. Moore, Program Chairman, presented the speaker.

Mrs. H. W. Fulford, Ticket Chairman for the recent Fashion Show, sponsored by the Club, announced that approximately $700 is expected from the Show. Mrs. J. N. Scarborough, General Chairman for the show, extended thanks to membership for their cooperation, to the models and the public. According to Mrs. Scarborough all proceeds from the show will be added to the present Scholarship Fund, and it is planned that a scholarship will be granted to a Bayside Student this year.

Virginia's Art
By Leslie Cheek, Jr.
Director, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts
The nationally known director of the State Museum describes the great masterpieces of art in the Museum's collection—the cultural heritage of all Virginians. This is one of a series of articles which will appear each week during the Virginia Museum's 25th Birthday year.
Painter, Collector and Advisor

"THE BANYO LESSON" BY MARY CASATT
A painter may become rich, but he is rarely born rich. A painter may advise purchasers of his own canvases and frequently does, but he rarely advises collectors to hush an extent about the work of others that their collections become the pride of great museums. If these two qualities should happen to be combined in a painter, it is even more rarely that his paintings are of first-rate quality. Mary Casatt (1844-1926) was that rarest of all painters—rich from birth, the trusted adviser of great collectors, and an artist of absolute first rank.
Mary Casatt was a Philadelphia whose father's fortune was in millinery. When she was twenty-three and, rather bored with drawing casts at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts (young ladies were not often allowed to draw from the life model at that time, or if they were, the model was masked) she told her family she intended to go to Paris to study.
Her father said to her, "I would rather see you dead," but she did and in a few years she was one of the very few pupils of Degas. By 1876 she had exhibited in the Salon, by 1878 she had begun to buy from the Impressionists for her own collection and in 1879 Degas put her work in the 4th Impressionist Exhibit.
She exhibited again in the 8th Impressionist Exhibit, the 6th Impressionist Exhibit. By 1881, Mary Casatt had found her favorite subjects which were those she had used in the paintings she sent to the 6th Impressionist Exhibition—women and children, interiors and garden scenes. "The Banyo Lesson," a purchase for the collection of the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts from the Williams Fund, is a brilliant statement of a feeling moment of childhood concentration. It is not known who the models were, but there is a striking resemblance between the child and the 1886 portrait of Electra Havemeyer, the daughter of one of the two collectors for whom Miss Casatt acted as adviser. Mary Casatt acted as adviser. Mary Casatt had been childhood friends and while Mrs. Havemeyer was only twenty-two and studying in Paris she was guided in the purchase of

When Mr. Havemeyer began to be a serious collector, he and his wife turned to Mary Casatt for constant advice, and she not only helped them in their purchases of old masters, but persuaded them to buy many of the finest Impressionist paintings which were never brought into this country. Perhaps Miss Casatt's scale of living—her maid, her car, her chauffeur, her gardener—gave Mr. Havemeyer confidence in her judgment.
Mrs. Potter Palmer was another collector who knew and allowed herself to be guided by Miss Casatt, for she bought her first Impressionist painting under Miss Casatt's tutelage in 1889.

NOTES FROM YOUR COUNTY AGENT

By E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

She: "Did you ever think much about reincarnation, dear?"
He: "Think about it? I eat it nearly every day, only we call it hush."

Time For Seeding Red Clover

One of the forages still so important in the production of milk and beef in Princess Anne County is hay. Hay is essential to the success of any cattle program. There are four kinds of hay produced here. Alfalfa, Red Clover, Lespedeza, and pasture clippings. Alfalfa is fast going out due to soil and other production problems. Pasture clippings are something a little extra we expect, but don't often get from pasture.

We, therefore, depend upon Red Clover and Lespedeza for the bulk of our hay crop. Red Clover is more palatable than Lespedeza, has a higher food content, and also out yields Lespedeza. It is a biennial, producing for two years. There are two leading varieties of Red Clover: Kunkin and Chesapeake. For hay purposes it doesn't make a great deal of difference which you choose. Seed now or as soon as you can at the rate of 15 pounds per acre. Most folks like to seed in small grain. If you like you can seed alone.

If you plant hay this spring — try Red Clover.

FOR THE BEST TOP-DRESS

It is now time to top-dress Pastures, Small Grain, and Alfalfa. Fertilizer still pays good dividends for the dollar spent, and we can not expect good yields if these crops are not adequately fertilized.

Pasture. If balance of grasses and legumes is about half and half top-dress between now and March 15 with 600 to 1,000 pounds of 0-14-14 or 2-12-12. Use 5-10-10 on pastures that were closely grazed last summer and fall.

Small Grain. Top-dress now or before March 15 with 30 to 50 pounds of pure nitrogen, depending upon hedging. Demonstrations in the County show small grain will use very little phosphate or potash applied at this time. Therefore it is more economical to use nitrogen only.

Alfalfa. Top-dress now or before March 15 with 50 to 1,000 pounds of 0-14-14 or 2-12-12.

Red Clover. This crop usually does not need fertilizing other than the fertilizer applied to other crops in the rotation. If you have questions regarding fertilization.

RESEED LADINO IN PASTURES
Ladino clover can be reestablished in tall grassland pastures with little cost and with excellent results. This can be done without destroying the grass sod. When reseeding ladino, see that the lime requirement of the soil is met. If the soil has not been tested recently, do so today and bring it to my office. The pH should be between 6 and 6.5 for ladino.

Provide enough plant food by topdressing the pasture with from 400 to 800 pounds per acre of 0-14-14 or 17 potash is low, with 0-10-20 fertilizer.

Two to three pounds of certified ladino clover should be seeded per acre. If more grazing desired the first year, add three to five pounds of red clover.

Seeding methods will vary with conditions. Some of the possibilities are:

Seed with a drill when the soil is soft enough for the disc to cut through. Let the seed fall in the furrow just back of the disc. Set the drill to cover the seed with about one-fourth inch of soil.

Disc lightly and seed immediately following discing, then roll to cover the seed and firm the soil. This can be done in one operation with a cultipacker seeder following the disc.

Seed under. Seed now.

Ladino is the best pasture legume presently available for tall grass-legume pastures. As a feed for livestock and as a nitrogen-fixing plant for pastures, it is too valuable to leave out of tall grass pastures.

BULL-BUYING TIPS

It's pretty hard to pay too much for the right kind of a bull if he meets all of your specifications. Most bulls are sold either in the fall or the late winter months. The cattlemen should buy a bull to solve his own particular problem. For instance, if his calves are growing well, but are not gaining high enough, he should get a bull that he believes will transmit good conformation qualities to his calves.

If his calves are of good type, but lack weight, the cattlemen needs to look for a bull that will give him more growth. An ideal bull would be a bull that will grade fancy and weigh 1,000 pounds when he is 12 months of age without benefit of a nurse cow.

Figures from Virginia feeder calf sales over the last five years show that, roughly, there is a $4 to $6 increase in income from moving a calf up one grade, and from $8 to $11 for moving him up 50 pounds in weight.

These figures point out how important the right bull can be to a man with a cow herd. An average bull will weigh about 800 pounds at 12 months. Not more than about 20 percent of bulls will weigh 900 pounds when they reach 12 months. Only two to three percent will reach the 1,000 pound figure in a year.

I would certainly try to find a bull that will weigh as much as 900 pounds at 12 months of age in order to increase the weight of my calves. At the same time, to keep quality up, I would try to get one that would grade not less than choice, and the higher he grades the better.

MORE PIGS—MORE PROFITS FOR LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS
More pigs saved per litter will mean more profits for the livestock producer.

And with the pig population due to get ready to take care of the babies.

Here are several management practices for the farrowing to weaning period which will help increase profits in the sow herd.

Feed enough of 15 percent protein ration to the brood sows to have them healthy, but not overly fat, when they go into the farrowing house.

Clean farrowing facilities with lye before sows are put in, to guard against disease carryover from previous litters.

See that temperature in farrowing quarters is from 55 to 65 degrees, and that ventilation is adequate. Put heat lamps in corner accessible only to pigs. This is particularly important if the temperature falls below 65 degrees. Use a 250 watt heat lamp suspended about 24 inches above the bedding.

Provide farrowing stalls, if you don't already have them. They will save one or two pigs per litter. If you can't provide stalls, the next best thing is to be sure guard rails are installed in the pen eight inches above the bedding and eight inches from the wall to keep sows from laying on pigs.

Bed the farrowing stall or pen lightly with chopped or short straw or hay, shavings or ground corn cobs, peanut hulls, or some other suitable bedding material. More bedding may be used in unheated houses during cold weather, if it is short and fine material that won't interfere with the movement of the pigs.

Be on hand at farrowing time to save every pig possible. Dip the pig's cord in iodine, clip the needle teeth, notch ears for litter identification, and be sure they get their first mouthful of milk and get under the heat lamp in extremely cold weather.

Most pigs farrowed in the winter are farrowed inside, so be sure to give them an iron shot within the first three days to prevent baby anemia.

If sows are farrowing together, you may be able to shift pigs from larger to smaller litters to even up the numbers of the sows and get uniform pigs in all litters.

When the pigs are one-week-old, put creep pellets before them to insure fast growth and supplement the sow's milk.

Castrate pigs within the first four weeks, and vaccinate them when they are five to six weeks old.

Feed sows a high-energy, 15 percent protein ration and give them all they can eat so they will produce plenty of milk.

FEB. CUE FOR GARDENERS

Home gardeners should raise their armchairs and be up and at 'em this month.

Plan the garden early so planting can begin on time. If you have a cover crop growing in the garden, turn it under 30 days before planting, if possible. If the cover crop has grown so high it will not turn under well, disk it thoroughly before plowing. Also turn under rough! straw manure, newly doted compost, or sawdust, 30 days before planting. Be sure the soil, especially if clay, is not too wet for plowing.

Plan the garden now for the year. Keep in mind a balanced diet for the family when planning the garden. Refer to your 1960 gardening notes—if you kept some. Refer to seed catalogs and to VPI Circular 639, "Vegetable Gardening in Virginia." The circular is available from my office.

Select varieties carefully. Some diseases can be controlled only by using resistant varieties. Use cabbage varieties which are resistant to yellows, spinach varieties resistant to blight, watermelons resistant to fusarium wilt and anthracnose, etc.

Buy seed from reliable dealers, have them on hand ready to plant at the most suitable time. Growing your own plants may be profitable. They can be grown in plastic greenhouse or hotbeds. The plants of cool season vegetables such as cabbage, head lettuce, and broccoli usually need about six weeks to grow to transplant size. Homatoes also need about six weeks, but pepper and egg plant should be given seven weeks.

If you plan to grow your own vegetable plants, get a copy of VPI Circular 764 "Starting Early Plants." Other publications which may be useful are VPI Circular 760, "Plastic Greenhouse," and USDA Bulletin 1742, "Hotbeds and Coldframes."

Organic matter benefits garden soil by keeping the moisture more constant, by reducing crusting, and by making the soil easier to work. If you do not have a cover crop to turn under, apply manure, sawdust, partly decomposed straw, or other vegetable matter. Be sure to plow the material down well ahead of time.

Broadcast a 5-10-10 or 5-10-5 fertilizer over the garden area at the rate of about 25 to 30 pounds per 1,000 feet. Occasionally leafy crops and sweet corn need a nitrogen sidedressing.

Top-Quality SEEDS

Cut Your Production Costs

• That's right. When you plant Top-Quality Seeds, with their big yields, it costs you less to produce a ton of hay, silage or pasture. When you plant common seeds, your production costs per ton go way up. You may even lose money on the crop!

It's been proved many times. Take the famous Cornell Study. It proved that hay yielding 2.6 tons per acre, grown on top-quality seed, cost 30% less than hay yielding only 1.6 tons per acre. A difference of 30%! For most farmers, 30% is the difference between profit and loss.

The explanation? Simple. Top-Quality Seeds give you big yields. Common Seeds almost always give you unsatisfactory yields. Yet all other expense factors remain the same, no matter which seeds you plant: taxes, insurance, depreciation, fertilizer, gas, oil, labor, etc.

See your Southern States Cooperative Agency now for Southern States Top-Quality Seeds. They're high in germination, low in weed content, adapted to your area and backed by the best guarantee in the industry—ask about it.
